follows at a distance of 3 years the previous one entitled Mem brane Proteins and like its predecessor it is the result of an experiments offered to the students in the course had to be largely up dated or chosen from new areas of membrane research because of the substantial and rapid development of the field Using the protocols of the course the participants graduate students postdoctoral fellows and also senior scientists in most cases not at all expert in biomembrane research were able to repeat all the experiments successfully Those few protocols which for some reason did not fulfill the role we expected were modified These protocols have now been collected in this manual which we are able to offer to a number of biology biochemistry and biophysics laboratories hoping that the selected number of methods which have been successfully used during the Advanced Course may be useful to them This manual is also intended for teachers of practical classes who may use it as a text book and as source of selected references collected not in the library but in the laboratory from the notebooks of the young researchers who have contributed so much to the success of the Course Chilton's CCJ. ,1984 Catalog of Copyright Entries, Third Series Library of Congress.
