Downstream Industrial Biotechnology Michael C. Flickinger, 2013-07-17 DOWNSTREAM INDUSTRIAL BIOTECHNOLOGY An affordable easily accessible desk reference on biomanufacturing focused on downstream recovery and purification Advances in the fundamental knowledge surrounding biotechnology novel materials and advanced engineering approaches continue to be translated into bioprocesses that bring new products to market at a significantly faster pace than most other industries Industrial scale biotechnology and new manufacturing methods are revolutionizing medicine environmental monitoring and remediation consumer products food production agriculture and forestry and continue to be a major area of research The downstream stage in industrial biotechnology refers to recovery isolation and purification of the microbial products from cell debris processing medium and contaminating biomolecules from the upstream process into a finished product such as biopharmaceuticals and vaccines Downstream process design has the greatest impact on overall biomanufacturing cost because not only does the biochemistry of different products e g peptides proteins hormones antibiotics and complex antigens dictate different methods for the isolation and purification of these products but contaminating byproducts can also reduce overall process yield and may have serious consequences on clinical safety and efficacy Therefore downstream separation scientists and engineers are continually seeking to eliminate or combine unit operations to minimize the number of process steps in order to maximize product recovery at a specified concentration and purity Based on Wiley's Encyclopedia of Industrial Biotechnology Bioprocess Bioseparation and Cell Technology this volume features fifty articles that provide information on downstream recovery of cells and protein capture process development and facility design equipment PAT in downstream processes downstream cGMP operations and regulatory compliance It covers Cell wall disruption and lysis Cell recovery by centrifugation and filtration Large scale protein chromatography Scale down of biopharmaceutical purification operations Lipopolysaccharide removal Porous media in biotechnology Equipment used in industrial protein purification Affinity chromatography Antibody purification monoclonal and polyclonal Protein aggregation precipitation and crystallization Freeze drying of biopharmaceuticals Biopharmaceutical facility design and validation Pharmaceutical bioburden testing Regulatory requirements Ideal for graduate and advanced undergraduate courses on biomanufacturing biochemical engineering biopharmaceutical facility design biochemistry industrial microbiology gene expression technology and cell culture technology Downstream Industrial Biotechnology is also a highly recommended resource for industry professionals and libraries Boiler Operator's Handbook, Second Edition P.E. Heselton, 2020-11-26 This book was written specifically for boiler plant operators and supervisors who want to learn how to lower plant operating costs as well as how to operate plants of all types and sizes more wisely It is newly revised with guidelines for HRSGs combined cycle systems and environmental effects of boiler operation Also included is a new chapter on refrigeration systems that addresses the environmental effects of inadvertent and intentional discharges of refrigerants Going beyond the basics of keeping the pressure up the author explains in clear terms how to set effective priorities to ensure optimal plant operation including ensuring safety and continuity of operations preventing damage managing environmental impact training replacement plant operators logging and preserving historical data and operating the plant economically Carrier System Design Manual Carrier Corporation. Carrier Air Conditioning Company, 1960 The Architect's Guide to Mechanical Systems F. T. Andrews, 1966 Northern Australia Don Parkes, 2013-09-24 Northern Australia The Arenas of Life and Ecosystems on Half a Continent provides a geographical study of the interplay of environmental challenge and human endeavor in the vast arena of Northern Australia This book is organized into three parts Part A presents the contextual setting for Parts B and C It includes a historical geographer's perspective on the ecological impact of 200 years of European settlement a description of the use of satellite imagery and discussion of some of the interactions among natural subsystems as they impinge on human activities especially in the extensive rangelands Part B discusses some of the human ecosystems which extend over a very large geographical territory In these ecosystems the human population is small in terms of absolute number and relative to the population of other living things These include the tropical marine ecosystems and their growing utilization for mariculture and rangeland ecosystems dominated by cattle and the overlapping semi arid grasslands Part C discusses intensive ecosystems where the human population is dominant in number Paper, 1982
