Democratisation And Power Sharing In Stormy Weather The Case Of Lebanon:

Democratisation and Power-Sharing in Stormy Weather Tamirace Fakhoury Mühlbacher, 2009-11-14 Is democracy possible only in homogeneous societies Does heterogeneity clude a stable democracy Throughout history ethnic linguistic or religious homogeneity whether by circumstance coercion or choice has seemingly been conducive to democracy In France democracy was established after the imposition of religious uniformity and the revocation of the Edict of Nantes The United States pulled in immigrants who renounced their original affiliations to forge a new identity in a newly born state Still defying assumptions democracies have emerged in heterogeneous states such as the Swiss Confederation the Successor States of the Holy Roman Empire and later those carved out of the previous colonial empires One common feature is the failure of often violent attempts to enforce homogeneity or the lack of any such attempt in the first place In the course of time these divided societies have learned to live in diversity to pacify their differences and to find a path towards peace or at least accommodation In sum they went beyond forms of separating powers to sharing power Whether defined by ethnicity language religion or even ideology communities agreed to a pact on participating in a joint government based on proportional or even equal representation It is noteworthy that political systems based on power sharing were long marginal in mainstream political science which laid an emphasis on democratic transitions in homogeneous societies and on socio economic or cultural prerequisites that facilitate the rise of democracy

Democracy and Power-sharing in Stormy Weather Tamirace Fakhoury Mühlbacher, 2009 Annotation Since the inception of the fragile nation state in 1943 Lebanon has been faced with the constantly unstable predicament of being torn between Middle Eastern and Western orbits After examining Lebanon's pre-war consociational democracy as well as the factors behind its collapse in 1975 Tamirace Fakhoury M hlbacher analyses the post-war order 1990-2006 by shedding light on both interrelated phenomena communal power sharing in a turbulent environment and Lebanon's hybrid democratisation between Syrian tutelage and the impulses for more liberalisation against the backdrop of exogenous and endogenous factors The author analyses in detail Lebanon's uncertain 2005 system transition the so-called Beirut Spring and its aftermath In a critical perspective she highlights fundamental communal and political dynamics that result from the collision of internal and external conflict lines on Lebanese ground and how the former have impeded balanced power sharing and democratisation in the small Arab Republic This book is essential reading for researchers and students from the social sciences in particular sociology and political science

Power Sharing in Lebanon Eduardo Wassim Aboultaif, 2019-01-15 This book studies the origins and evolution of power sharing in Lebanon The author has established a relationship between mobilization ethnicity ethnic identification memory and trauma and how they impact power sharing provisions The book starts with the events in the 1820s when communities began to politicize their identities and which led to the first major outbreak of civil violence between the Druze and the Maronites Consequently these troubled four decades in Lebanon led to the introduction of various forms of power sharing arrangements to establish peace The political systems introduced in Lebanon are the Kaim Makamiya dual sub-governorship a quasi-federal arrangement the Mutassarifiya the prototype of a power sharing system the post-independence political system of Lebanon which the book refers to as semi-consociation due to the concentration of executive powers in the Presidential office and finally the full consociation of the Taif Republic In each of these phases there was a peculiar interaction between the non-structural elements that had a direct impact on power sharing this led at times to instability and at other times it brought down the system as in 1840 1860 and 1975 Power Sharing in Lebanon is the first academic work that emphasizes the influence of the non-structural elements that hinder power sharing This volume is now a key resource for students and academics interested in Lebanese Politics and the Middle East

Power-Sharing Allison McCulloch, John McGarry, 2017-04-21 Power sharing is an important political strategy for managing protracted conflicts and it can also facilitate the democratic accommodation of difference Despite these benefits it has been much criticised with claims that it is unable to produce peace and stability is ineffective and inefficient and obstructs other peacebuilding values including gender equality This edited collection aims to enhance our understanding of the utility of power sharing in deeply divided places by subjecting power sharing theory and practice to empirical and normative analysis and critique Its overarching questions are Do power sharing arrangements enhance stability peace and cooperation in divided societies Do they do so in ways that promote effective governance Do they do so in ways that promote justice fairness and democracy Utilising a broad range of global empirical case studies it provides a space for dialogue between leading and emerging scholars on the normative questions surrounding power sharing Distinctively it asks proponents of power sharing to think

critically about its weaknesses This text will be of interest to students scholars and practitioners of power sharing ethnic politics democracy and democratization peacebuilding comparative constitutional design and more broadly Comparative Politics International Relations and Constitutional and Comparative Law Power-Sharing after Civil War John Nagle, Mary-Alice Clancy, 2021-11-29 This book provides a wide ranging exploration of the legacy of Lebanon's peace agreement in the 30 years since it was signed The chapters in this edited volume have been written by leading scholars and provide in depth analyses of key issues in postwar Lebanon including the performance of power sharing human rights communal memory and sectarianism conflict and peace militias political parties and elections A core strength of the book is the multidisciplinary approach to understanding postwar Lebanon ranging from political science international relations sociology conflict and peace studies history and memory studies The multidisciplinary character of the book allows for a rich and detailed evaluation of the ongoing legacy and consequences of Lebanon's postwar settlement The book will be of interest to scholars students and people interested in contemporary Lebanese politics and society It will also be attractive for a wider international audience interested in the consequences of postwar power sharing systems and peace processes The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Nationalism and Ethnic Politics Lebanon and the Arab Uprisings Maximilian Felsch, Martin Wählich, 2016-06-23 The Arab uprisings have put Lebanon under increased strain While the revolutions in Tunisia and Egypt caused limited reverberations the war in Syria echoed in the fine tuned political and confessional balance of Lebanon Over one million refugees equal to one quarter of Lebanon's population have moved in from Syria The country's economy and its already weak public infrastructure have been impacted heavily Hizbullah's engagement in Syria has posed questions about Lebanon's disassociation policy Terrorist attacks by ISIL and the growing risk of radicalization across the confessional spectrum have left the country at unease However Lebanon's political elites have vowed to shield the country from regional turbulences Lebanon recently saw a series of demonstrations because of the inability of the government to manage the garbage crisis but it has been far from witnessing a large scale citizen uprising similar to the 2005 Cedar Revolution or the revolts next door This book provides a comprehensive overview of the current situation in Lebanon and a detailed assessment of the difficulties which the country is currently facing Religion and Civil Society in the Arab World Tania Haddad, Elie Al Hindy, 2018-06-14 This book examines the links between civil society religion and politics in the Middle East and North Africa region The chapters in the volume explore the role of religion in shaping and changing the public sphere in regions that are developing and or in conflict They also discuss how these relations are reflected on civil society organizations and the role they are expected to play in transitional periods This volume investigates the conceptual dilemmas regarding what is civil society in the Arab world today examines the dynamic roles of civil society organizations and religion in the Middle East and North Africa explores the future of the Arab civil society post Arab Spring events and how the latter continues to reshape the demand for democracy in the region A comprehensive study of how the Arab civil society has come into being and its changing roles this eclectic work will be of interest to scholars and researchers of politics especially political Islam international relations Middle East Studies African Studies sociology and social anthropology

Lebanon Tobias Schwerna, 2010 As sectarian and political tensions rose after March of 2005 scholars and journalists began to speculate that Lebanon was heading back into civil war Much academic literature in fact showed that the probability of regressing into such a state was very high Although tensions did escalate and violence broke out on a number of occasions culminating in several days of fighting in May 2008 the Doha agreement provided a peaceful political solution to the country's crisis This book offers an answer to the question of why no renewed civil war occurred in Lebanon as well as to the larger question of why civil wars do or do not break out The author accomplishes this by developing and presenting a model of informal elite agreement which he terms consociational conflict

Democracy in Lebanon Abbas Assi, 2016-08-30 The Cedar Revolution in Lebanon which was sparked by the assassination of former Prime Minister Rafiq Hariri on 14 February 2005 was seen by many as an opportunity for Lebanon's fragile political system to move towards a more stable form of democracy But contrary to these expectations in the years since Syrian military withdrawal in April 2005 Lebanon has been plagued with sectarian and political unrest and conflict Abbas Assi here explores the obstacles that impeded the democratic transition process and how subsequent events since 2005 such as the passing of UNSCR 1559 the 2006 Hizbullah Israel war and the Syrian conflict have bolstered this trend By looking at these Assi examines how the intersection of the influence of external factors and powers with domestic conflicts has shaped the behaviour of political parties and has had implications on their ability to reach compromises and initiate democratic reforms By analysing the impact of the intersection of domestic and external factors on democracy this book is a vital reference for those studying politics of Lebanon and the Middle East more broadly

Lebanon after the Syrian Withdrawal Ohannes Geukjian, 2016-11-10 Lebanon experienced serious instability and ethno national conflict following the Syrian withdrawal in 2005 compounded by the Arab Spring which led to regional instability and civil war in Iraq and Syria Why did consociational democracy fail Was failure inevitable What impact could external powers play in creating an environment where consociationalism might be successfully implemented This book addresses these key questions and provides a comprehensive analysis of how internal and external elite relations influence the chances of a successful regulation of ethno national conflict through power sharing Exploring the roles played by Syria Qatar Iran Saudi Arabia the United States and France it argues that external actors in the Lebanese conflict largely determined whether power sharing was successfully established and shows that the consociational democratic model cannot provide long term conflict regulation in their absence The author argues that relationships between internal and external actors determine the prospects for successful conflict regulation and pinpoints the crucial role of the external forces in the creation of power sharing agreements in Lebanon concluding that future success is dependent on the maintenance of positive exogenous pressures This book will be of key interest to students and scholars studying politics international relations and Middle East studies Routledge Handbook on Elections in the Middle East and North Africa Francesco Cavatorta,Valeria Resta,2023-03-31 This Handbook analyzes elections in the Middle East and North Africa and seeks to overcome normative assumptions about the linkage between democracy and elections Structured around five main themes contributors provide chapters detailing how their case studies illustrate specific themes within individual country settings Authors disentangle the various aspects informing elections as a process in the Middle East by taking into account the different contexts where the electoral contest occurs and placing these into a broader comparative context The findings from this Handbook connect with global electoral developments empirically demonstrating that there is very little that is exceptional about the Middle East and North Africa when it comes to electoral contests Routledge Handbook on Elections in the Middle East and North Africa is the first book to examine all aspects related to elections in the Middle East and North Africa Through such comprehensive coverage and systematic analysis it will be a key resource for students and scholars interested in politics elections and democracy in the Middle East and North Africa

Government-NGO Relationships in Africa, Asia, Europe and MENA Raffaele Marchetti,2018-04-27 This volume brings together some of the most recent scholarship on government and civil society It examines the axis of the relationship between national governments and civil society organisations NGOs by highlighting commonalities as well as differences among four key regions in the world Using the stability vs instability framework the book explores a range of pertinent issues including human rights development foreign policy state building regime change governance frameworks wars and civil liberties It studies diverse situations from those entailing comprehensive cooperation to those involving politically contentious and revolutionary activities With case studies from Africa Asia Europe and the Middle East and North Africa MENA this volume will be useful to scholars and researchers of political science global politics international relations sociology development studies global governance and public policy as well as to those in the development sector and NGOs

The Lebanese Media Sarah El-Richani,2016-12-24 This book presents an analysis of the current Lebanese media system From a theoretical angle it discusses the extent to which this system can be analyzed using the ideal types put forth by Hallin and Mancini in their seminal work Comparing Media Systems Sarah El Richani assesses the complex dimensions developed by the two scholars and utilizes their work as inspiration for a process of remodeling amending the sub indicators to identify salient factors and suggesting a new model Featuring the views of over 60 stakeholders this book gives a rare critical and concise account of the Lebanese media system Muslim Democracy Edward Schneier,2015-10-23 Muslim Democracy explores the relationship between politics and religion in forty seven Muslim majority countries focusing especially on those with democratic experience such as Indonesia and Turkey and drawing comparisons with their regional non Islamic counterparts Unlike most studies of political Islam this is a politically focused book more concerned with governing realities than ideology By changing the terms of the debate from theology to politics and including the full complement of Islamic countries Schneier shows that the boundaries between church and state in the Islamic world are more variable and diverse than is commonly assumed Through case studies and statistical comparisons between Muslim majority countries and their regional counterparts Muslim Democracy shows that countries with different religions but similar histories are not markedly different in their levels of democratization What many Islamists and western observers call Islamic law moreover is more a political than a religious construct with religion more the tool than the engine of politics Women who drive in Saudi Arabia as the author says are not warned they will go to hell but that they will go to jail With the political salience of religion rising in many countries this book is essential reading for students of comparative politics religion and democratization interested in exploring the shifting boundaries between faith and politics Stability and the Lebanese State in the 20th Century Tarek Abou Jaoude, 2022-08-25 Explaining state building failures in Lebanon during the 20th century this book looks at the relationship between legitimacy and stability in the country since the creation of the state in 1920 The presence of legitimacy is considered necessary to any successful state building endeavour This book argues that the Lebanese state failed to achieve any meaningful form of legitimacy from its inception in 1920 to its near collapse during the civil war However by analysing different eras of Lebanese history throughout the different presidential terms the author challenges the general understanding of stability and governance to show that the absence of legitimacy and society support actually contributed to the persistence of the Lebanese state More than this the evidence shows that Lebanese state was at its most stable when it was regarded as illegitimate The wider implicit question thus asked in the book revolves around a case where illegitimacy within the state is what ensures its stability and survival Based on primary sources including national archives and collections institutional documents personal memoirs newspapers and journals this book provides a rich survey on the development and functioning of Lebanese political institutions

International Law and Peace Settlements Marc Weller, Mark Retter, Andrea Varga, 2021-02-04 International Law and Peace Settlements provides a systematic and comprehensive assessment of the relationship between international law and peace settlement practice across core settlement issues e g transitional justice human rights refugees self determination power sharing and wealth sharing The contributions address key cross cutting questions on the legal status of peace agreements the potential for developing international law and the role of key actors such as non state armed groups third state witnesses and guarantors and the UN Security Council in the legalisation and internationalisation of settlement commitments In recent years significant scholarly work has examined facets of the relationship between international law and peace settlements through concepts such as jus post bellum and lex pacificatoria International Law and Peace Settlements drives forward the debate on the legalisation and internationalisation of peace agreements with diverse contributions from leading academics and practitioners in international law and conflict resolution

Architecture, Power and Religion in Lebanon Ward Vloeberghs, 2015-11-24 In Architecture Power and Religion in Lebanon Ward Vloeberghs explores Rafiq Hariri s patronage and his posthumous legacy to demonstrate how religious architecture becomes a site for power struggles in contemporary Beirut By tracing the 150 year long history of the Muhammad al Amin Mosque Lebanon s principal Sunni mosque and the subsequent development of the site as a commemoration venue this account offers a unique illustration of how architecture religion and power become discursively and visually entangled Set in a multi confessional society marked by social inequalities and political fragmentation this interdisciplinary study analyses how architectural practice and urban reconfigurations reveal a nascent personality cult communal mourning and the consolidation of political territory in relation to constantly shifting circumstances

Martyr Cults and Political Identities in Lebanon Sabrina Bensen, 2019-10-24 Sabrina Bensen sheds light on political cults of martyrs in Lebanon and reconsiders the context of their emergence development and distinct characteristics since 1920 She examines how the honouring of martyrs became an established practice in Lebanese politics and is crucial to grasp the logic of violence and conflict Drawing on the case of the Amal movement the author analyses central narratives to the group s discourse and practices concerning martyrdom to show how identity construction and strategies of legitimizing power are intertwined Moreover the book provides insides into political competition strategies especially in regards to the two major Shi ite political actors Amal and Hizbullah and takes a new look on martyrdom by going beyond cultural religious explanations

Lebanon Facing The Arab Uprisings Rosita Di Peri, Daniel Meier, 2016-10-25 This book provides an intimate picture of Lebanon exploring the impacts of the Arab uprisings of 2011 which are deeply affecting Lebanese politics and society The book examines Lebanon s current issues and its deep sectarian divisions as well as the ways in which it still seems able to find some adaptation paths to face the many challenges left by its regional sectarian and political polarization Authors delve into border regions Syrian refugees the welfare state the Lebanese Army popular mobilisations in 2011 and the two main communities the Sunnis and the Shia Built on various fieldwork researches the volume explores each of the topics through the lenses of identification building processes the re ordering of social and or political relations and the nationhood symbols and meanings
