Infrared and microwave IRHX detector

Installation and User Guide

1

PRESENTATION

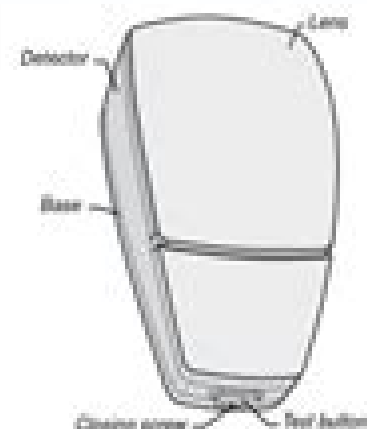

The IRHX detector is a detector that combines 2 movement detection technologies.

Its infrared (detects temperature) and microwave (detects movement) technologies make it highly immune to unwanted detections by the infrared sensor.

This equipment analyses movement in its detection zone and sends an alarm information if an intrusion is detected.

The detection by the infrared sensor is confirmed by the microwave detection.

The product is exclusively used for indoor protection and is not recommended for the surveillance of a room with large glass windows (veranda, etc.).

Contents

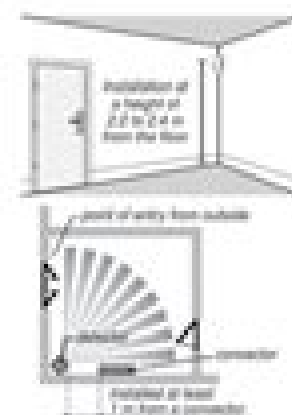

- a dual technology radio detector,
- installation and user Guide,
- two LS14500 lithium batteries (supplied),
- a packet of screws.

2

LOCATION

Installation precautions for detecting intrusions correctly:

- The detector should preferably be positioned in a corner.
- The detection field must be clear of any obstacles (curtains, cupboard, etc.).
- The detector must not be pointed towards an exterior point of entry (window).
- The detector must be installed at a height of around 2.30 m from the floor.
- Prevent any source of moving heat near the detector, do not place the detector in front of a heat source (convector, chimney, etc.).
- Place the detector at least 2 metres away from a fluorescent light.
