The Creative Turn Anne M. Harris, 2014-04-16 The conundrum of understanding practising and teaching contemporary creativity is that it wants to be all things to all people Almost all modern lists of creativity creative thinking and how to becoming creative books begin with one premise the creative individual artist is not special rather each of us is creative in a special way and these skills can and must be nurtured Increasingly industry and education leaders are claiming that creativity is the core skill to take us into a prosperous future signalling the democratisation of creativity as industry Yet centuries of association between aesthetics mastery and creativity are hard to dismantle These days it is increasingly difficult to discuss creativity without reference to business industry and innovation Why do we love to think of creativity in this way and no longer as that rare visitation of the muse or the elite gift of the few This book looks at the possibility that creativity is taking a turn what that turn might be and how it relates to industry education and ultimately cultural role of creativity and aesthetics for the 21st century In proliferating discourses of the commodification of creativity there is one thing all the experts agree on creativity is undefinable possibly unteachable largely unassessable and becoming the most valuable commodity in 21st century markets European Traditions in Didactics of Mathematics Werner

Blum, Michèle Artigue, Maria Alessandra Mariotti, Rudolf Sträßer, Marja Van den Heuvel-Panhuizen, 2019-02-18 This open access book discusses several didactic traditions in mathematics education in countries across Europe including France the Netherlands Italy Germany the Czech and Slovakian Republics and the Scandinavian states It shows that while they all share common features both in the practice of learning and teaching at school and in research and development they each have special features due to specific historical and cultural developments The book also presents interesting historical facts about these didactic traditions the theories and examples developed in these countries The COVID-19 Pandemic's

Transformation of Human Relationships with Nature at Multiple Scales Sonya Sachdeva, Lindsay Kathleen Campbell, Erika S. Svendsen, Michelle Leigh Johnson, 2022-12-29 Territorial Development, Cohesion and Spatial Planning

Neil Adams, Giancarlo Cotella, Richard Nunes, 2012-08-06 This book examines some of the evolving challenges faced by EU regional policy in light of enlargement and to assess some of the approaches and trends in terms of territorial development policy and practice that are emerging out of this process Focusing on the experiences on Central and Eastern Europe these chapters reflect on the diversity of approaches to spatial planning and the the politics of policy formation and multi level governance operations from local to trans national agendas Promoting increased awareness and understanding of these issues is the main purpose of the book as well as harnessing the extensive capacity and knowledge within these countries that can greatly enrich the discourse within an enlarged epistemic community of European spatial planning academics practitioners and policy makers The recently acquired CEE dimension provides a unique opportunity to examine the evolution of existing epistemic communities as well as to explore the potential emergence of new ones Handbook of

Universities and Regional Development Attila Varga, Katalin Erdős, 2019-12-27 The Handbook on Universities and Regional Development offers a comprehensive and up to date insight into how academic institutions spur their surroundings The volume sheds light on universities as regional development actors from a historical perspective by introducing institutional changes and discussing the interrelatedness of society business and academia It provides detailed investigations on various knowledge transfer mechanisms to help understand the diverse ways through which ideas and intellectual property can flow between universities and businesses Detailed case studies from three continents Europe Asia and America demonstrate the highly contextual nature of the interactions between academia industry and government China 2030

Steigemann,2019-02-25 In this open access publication the social cohesion of urban neighborhoods and their residents is examined which is often viewed as vulnerable since increased mobility individualization wider socio economic and demographic changes have fundamentally altered the basis for everyday social interaction in urban neighborhoods Anna Steigemann gives scholarly attention to the concrete places where neighborly interactions still take place and to how these interactions affect local community building She illuminates and explores the ordinary everyday interactions and social practices in and around shops and gastronomic facilities on a shopping street in Berlin Neukölln revealing how these businesses are important places where community is practiced but also why they are increasingly threatened by commercial and residential gentrification Framing Research on Technology and Student Learning in the Content Areas Ann D.

Thompson,Lynn Bell,Lynne Schrum,2008-11-01 This book is a result of collaboration between NTLS and SITTE Framing Research is targeted at individuals or small teams of educational researchers who are interested in conducting high quality research addressing the effects of technology enhanced instruction on student learning The book summarizes and unpacks the methodologies of a variety of research studies each situated in the context of school subject areas such as science mathematics social studies and English language arts as well as in the contexts of reading education special education and early childhood learning Taken together the analyses provide guidance on the design of future technology research grounded in student learning of K 12 curriculum The conclusions also serve as a tool for teacher educators seeking to prepare teachers to integrate technology effectively in their instruction and to motivate reluctant teachers to overcome perceived inconveniences connected with technology use Ethnic Diversity and Federalism Yonatan Tesfaye Fessha,2016-05-23

How federalism can be used to provide recognition and accommodate ethnic groups is an important topic not only in Africa but in multi ethnic communities around the world Examining how institutions of multi ethnic states have been designed to accommodate ethnic diversity while at the same time maintaining national unity this book locates institutional responses to the challenges of ethnic diversity within the context of a federal arrangement It examines how a federal arrangement has been used to reconcile the conflicting pressures of the demand for the recognition of distinctive identities on the one hand and the promotion of political and territorial integrity on the other Comparative case studies of South Africa and Ethiopia as the two federal systems provide a contrasting approach to issues of ethnic diversity Suggesting new ways in which federalism might work the author identifies key institutions lessons which will help to build an all inclusive society The Politics of Reconstruction and Development in Sri Lanka Eva Gerharz, 2014-04-03 Sri Lanka's conflict and peace processes have gained global attention during recent years This book presents a comprehensive insight into the politics of reconstruction and development in Sri Lanka focussing on the ceasefire which was negotiated between the Government of Sri Lanka and the separatist Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam in 2002 and which lasted until 2006 Based on extensive empirical fieldwork the book provides a unique ethnographic account of this specific historical period of peace It explains how development was shaped by interplay and cooperation but also by the disparities and conflicts between a variety of local and intervening actors including local organizations and civil society LTTE Government of Sri Lanka international development cooperation and the Tamil diaspora Starting from an interdisciplinary viewpoint the author integrates findings from development sociology with new perspectives on transnationalization and the migration development nexus This provides a fine grained analysis of the emerging development visions and perspectives in relation to transnationalization and global interconnectedness Making an innovative contribution by linking the analysis of local reconstruction with contemporary phenomena of transnationalization diasporization and globalization this book will appeal to those with an interest in Sociology Social Anthropology and Political Science
