Thinking Physics for Teaching C. Bernardini,C. Tarsitani,M. Vicentini,2012-12-06 The research in Physics Education has to do with the search of solutions to the complex problem of how to improve the learning and teaching of physics The complexity of the problem lies in the different fields of knowledge that need to be considered in the research In fact besides the disciplinary knowledge in physics which must be considered from the conceptual the historical and the epistemological framework one has to take into account some basic knowledge in the context of psychology and the cognitive sciences for the general and contextual aspects of learning and some basic knowledge in education and communication for what concerns teaching skills and strategies Looking back at the historical development of the research one may recognize that the complexity of the endeavour was not clear at first but became clear in its development which shifted the focus of the research in the course of time from physics to learning to teaching We may say that the research started more than 30 years ago with a focus on disciplinary knowledge Physicists in different parts of the western world after research work in some field of physics decided to concentrate on the didactical communication of physical knowledge

Reading as a Perceptual Process A. Kennedy,D. Heller,J. Pynte,Ralph Radach,2000-08-04 This book is divided into five sections dealing with various fundamental issues in current research attention information processing and eye movement control the role of phonology in reading syntax and discourse processing and computational models and simulations Control and measurement of eye movements form a prominent theme in the book A full understanding of the where and when of eye movement control is a prerequisite of any complete theory of reading since it is precisely at this point that perceptual and cognitive processes interact Amongst the hot topics included are the relation between parafoveal and foveal visual processing of linguistic information the role of phonology in fluent reading and the emergence of statistical tuning approaches to sentence parsing Also discussed in the book are three attempts to develop quantitative models of reading which represent a significant departure in theory building and a quantum step in the maturation of reading research Much of the work reported in the book was first presented at the 5th European Workshop on Language Comprehension organised in April 1998 which was held at the CNRS Luminy Campus near Marseilles All contributions summarise the state of the art in the relevant areas of reading research

Resources in Education ,1987 Nanoelectronic Coupled Problems Solutions E. Jan W. ter Maten,Hans-Georg Brachtendorf,Roland Pulch,Wim Schoenmaker,Herbert De Gersem,2019-11-06 Designs in nanoelectronics often lead to challenging simulation problems and include strong feedback couplings Industry demands provisions for variability in order to guarantee quality and yield It also requires the incorporation of higher abstraction levels to allow for system simulation in order to shorten the design cycles while at the same time preserving accuracy The methods developed here promote a methodology for circuit and system level modelling and simulation based on best practice rules which are used to deal with coupled electromagnetic field circuit heat problems as well as coupled electro thermal stress problems that emerge in nanoelectronic designs This book covers 1 advanced monolithic multirate co simulation techniques which are combined with envelope wavelet approaches to create efficient and robust simulation techniques for strongly coupled systems that exploit the different dynamics of sub systems within multiphysics problems and which allow designers to predict reliability and ageing 2 new generalized techniques in Uncertainty Quantification UQ for coupled problems to include a variability capability such that robust design and optimization worst case analysis and yield estimation with tiny failure probabilities are possible including large deviations like 6 sigma 3 enhanced sparse parametric Model Order Reduction techniques with a posteriori error estimation for coupled problems and for UQ to reduce the complexity of the sub systems while ensuring that the operational and coupling parameters can still be varied and that the reduced models offer higher abstraction levels that can be efficiently simulated All the new algorithms produced were implemented transferred and tested by the EDA vendor MAGWEL Validation was conducted on industrial designs provided by end users from the semiconductor industry who shared their feedback contributed to the measurements and supplied both material data and process data In closing a thorough comparison to measurements on real devices was made in order to demonstrate the algorithms industrial applicability ,
