Chasing Chaos My Decade In And Out Of Humanitarian Aid:

Chasing Chaos Jessica Alexander, 2013-10-15 Jessica Alexander arrived in Rwanda in the aftermath of the 1994 genocide as an idealistic intern eager to contribute to the work of the international humanitarian aid community But the world that she encountered in the field was dramatically different than anything she could have imagined It was messy chaotic and difficult but she was hooked In this honest and irreverent memoir she introduces readers to the realities of life as an aid worker We watch as she manages a 24 000 person camp in Darfur collects evidence for the Charles Taylor trial in Sierra Leone and contributes to the massive aid effort to clean up a shattered Haiti But we also see the alcohol fueled parties and fleeting romances the burnouts and self doubt and the struggle to do good in places that have long endured suffering Tracing her personal journey from wide eyed and na ve newcomer to hardened cynic and ultimately to hopeful but critical realist Alexander transports readers to some of the most troubled locations around the world and shows us not only the seemingly impossible challenges but also the moments of resilience and recovery

Becoming an International Humanitarian Aid Worker Chen Reis, Tania Bernath, 2016-10-16 Becoming an International Humanitarian Aid Worker draws on the experiences of those currently working and those hiring people to work in humanitarian aid today and an analysis of job postings over a 9 month period It provides relevant information and advice to help jobseekers make more informed decisions about what steps to take It first pushes prospective job seekers to reflect on whether this is the right career path for them It then provides tried and tested strategies for preparing for a humanitarian career and being competitive in the humanitarian job market serving as a comprehensive guide for those thinking about a career in international humanitarian aid Features advice drawn from an analysis of humanitarian jobs a survey of aid workers and interviews with human resource staff and humanitarian professionals Written in a conversational style with anecdotes advice and stories from people working in the industry today Features useful tips and exercises in every chapter to help you put your best foot forward Provides links to useful and relevant internet resources through a dedicated web page

Humanitarianism and Challenges of Cooperation Volker Heins, Kai Koddenbrock, Christine Unrau, 2016-02-05 Humanitarianism as a moral concept and an organized practice has become a major factor in world society It channels an enormous amount of resources and serves as an argument for different kinds of interference into the internal affairs of countries and regions At the same time and for these very reasons it is an ideal testing ground for successful and unsuccessful cooperation across borders Humanitarianism and the Challenges of Cooperation examines the multiple humanitarianisms of today as a testing ground for new ways of global cooperation General trends in the contemporary transformation of humanitarianism are studied and individual cases of how humanitarian actors cooperate with others on the ground are investigated This book offers a highly innovative empirically informed account of global humanitarianism from the point of view of cooperation research in which internationally renowned contributors analyse broad trends and present case studies based on meticulous fieldwork This book will be of great interest to students and researchers in the areas of political science international relations and humanitarianism It is also a valuable resource for humanitarian aid workers Love and Liberation Lauren Carruth, 2021-10-15 Lauren Carruth's Love and Liberation tells a new kind of humanitarian story The protagonists are not volunteers from afar but rather Somali locals caring for each other nurses aid workers policymakers drivers community health workers and bureaucrats The contributions of locals are often taken for granted and the competencies aspirations and effectiveness of local staffers frequently remain muted or absent from the planning and evaluation of humanitarian interventions structured by outsiders Relief work is traditionally imagined as politically neutral and impartial and interventions are planned as temporary extraordinary and distant Carruth provides an alternative vision of what humanitarian response means in practice not driven by International Humanitarian Law the missions of Western relief organizations or trends in the aid industry or academia but instead by what Somalis call samafal Samafal is structured by the cultivation of lasting relationships of care interdependence kinship and ethnic solidarity Samafal is also explicitly political and potentially emancipatory humanitarian responses present opportunities for Somalis to begin to redress histories of colonial partitions and to make the most out of their political and economic marginalization By centering Love and Liberation around Somalis understanding and enactments of samafal Carruth offers a new perspective on politics and intervention in Africa The Vulnerable Humanitarian Gemma Houldey, 2021-09-27 The Vulnerable Humanitarian challenges the prevalence of stress and burnout culture within the aid sector laying bare the issues of power agency security and wellbeing that continue to trouble organisations and staff Engaging and insightful this book illustrates the problematic and unrealistic expectations of aid workers through the archetype of the perfect humanitarian and considers why burnout is so endemic yet so rarely acknowledged within aid organisations The book provides practical means through which staff and managers can reflect upon and discuss damaging organisational cultures and behaviours and develop a more inclusive and caring work environment Drawing on original academic research and interviews with national and international aid workers and development experts the book proposes a feminist anti racist and decolonial agenda in challenging oppressive systems and structures within the sector With extensive professional experience as an aid worker herself Gemma Houldey also shares her own struggles with mental health and what she has learned from feminist practices for self and collective care Proposing new ways of addressing wellbeing that are sensitive to the multi faceted personalities and lived experiences of people working on aid and development programmes The Vulnerable Humanitarian is essential reading both for current aid sector employees and for prospective employees and students Understanding the Humanitarian World Daniel Maxwell, Kirsten Gelsdorf, 2019-04-17 Conflict and disaster have been part of human history for as long as it has been recorded Over time more mechanisms for responding to crises have developed and become more systematized Today a large and complex global humanitarian response system made up of a multitude of local national and international actors carries out a wide variety of responses Understanding this intricate system and the forces that shape it are the core focus of this book Daniel G Maxwell and Kirsten Gelsdorf highlight the origins growth and specific challenges to humanitarian action and examine why the contemporary system functions as it does They outline the main actors explore how they are organised and look at the ways they plan and carry out their operations Interrogating major contemporary debates and controversies in the humanitarian system and the reasons why actions undertaken in its name remain the subject of so much controversy they provide an important overview of the contemporary humanitarian system and the ways it may develop in the future This book offers a nuanced understanding of the way humanitarian action operates in the 21st century It will be essential reading for anyone with an interest in international human rights law disaster management and international relations For more information please see the authors website <https://www.understandingthehumanitarianworld.com> Routledge Handbook of

Masculinities, Conflict, and Peacebuilding Henri Myrntinen, Chloé Lewis, Heleen Touquet, Philipp Schulz, Farooq Yousaf, Elizabeth Laruni, 2025-02-11 This handbook engages with and broadens current debates on men and masculinities in conflict and peacebuilding Through an expansive range of chapters across a unique array of geographical settings the volume shatters prevailing assumptions about men's relationship to conflict and its wake Situated across scholarship policy and practice the contributions offer new possibilities for a more complex and complete picture of the gendered tapestries of conflict peace and the spaces in between The handbook combines feminist intersectional relational decolonial and queer perspectives on the conceptualisation of masculinities in conflict and peacebuilding This approach provides us with the tools to go beyond direct physical conflict related violence to examine less visible forms of violence and power as well as other ways in which masculinities interact with conflict and peace In doing so the book permits a multi faceted view of men's roles relationships vulnerabilities and non violent agencies in conflict and peacebuilding across scholarship policy and practice This book will be of much interest to students of gender masculinities peace and conflict studies and international relations Chapter 1 3 9 13 and 30 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license Chapter 25 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license The Practice of Humanitarian Intervention Kai Koddenbrock, 2015-08-27 This book examines the practices in Western and local spheres of humanitarian intervention and shows how the divide between these spheres helps to perpetuate Western involvement Using the Democratic Republic of the Congo as a case study an object of Western intervention since colonial times this book scrutinizes the contemporary practice of humanitarian intervention from the inside It seeks to expose how humanitarian aid and peacekeeping works what obstacles they encounter and how they manage to retain their legitimacy By examining the relationship between the West and the DR Congo this volume asks why intervention continues to be so central for the relationship between Western and local spheres Why is it normal and self evident The main answer developed here is that the separation of these two spheres allows intervention to enjoy sufficient degrees of legitimacy to be sustained. Owing to the contradictions that surface when juxtaposing the Western and Congolese spheres, this book highlights how keeping them separate is key to sustaining intervention. Bridging the divide between the liberal peace debate in International Relations and anthropologies of humanitarianism, this volume thus presents an important contribution to taking both the legitimizing proclamations and local realities of intervention seriously. The book will be of much interest to students of statebuilding, peacebuilding, peacekeeping, anthropology, research methods, and IR in general.

Care Work and Medical Travel Cecilia Vindrola-Padros, 2021-05-03 This edited volume explores the interconnection between care work, travel, and healthcare, emphasizing the emotional dimensions of seeking care away from home. It brings together contributions from disciplines such as anthropology, nursing, primary care, sociology, and geography, and covers experiences of medical travel and other forms of remote care in the United States, Laos, India, Italy, France, Finland, Switzerland, and Russia.

IR James M. Scott, Yasemin Akbaba, Ralph G. Carter, A. Cooper Drury, 2024-06-04 The updated Fifth Edition of IR presents a comprehensive approach to understanding world politics through the lens of security, prosperity, and quality of life in a rapidly evolving global environment. The book not only acquaints students with events but also broadens the context to analyze larger patterns, making the experience immersive and engaging.

Dear Development Practitioner Simon Milligan, Lee Wilson, 2023-11-07 In this book, influential development practitioners reflect on their careers by writing letters of advice to their younger selves. Sharing their successes and failures, the challenges and barriers they have encountered, and the changes and continuities within their work, these deeply personal accounts provide an invaluable window into the world of development practice. The authors come from nearly 20 countries. They have held a rich mix of jobs across a range of sectors and organisational types, bringing a long-term perspective to the sector's contemporary challenges. The distinguished list includes a Nobel Peace Prize winner, senior figures in government and international organisations, those working at the frontline of humanitarian aid and civil society organisations, and those who might not even have thought of themselves as development professionals, such as technologists and social entrepreneurs. Despite the differences, common themes emerge: the pursuit of meaningful change, the navigation of barriers, and the ongoing sense of hope. This book will inspire those about to embark on their professional careers and remind new entrants and current development practitioners alike how much there remains to be done.

Psychological Support for Workers on the Move Kate S. Thompson, 2023-03-24 This book examines the psychological pressures faced by workers who migrate for short periods, exploring what it means to work in high-stress environments, often on time-limited contracts and with low levels of support, and how best to protect this kind of key worker. The text addresses three central questions: First, how we can think about the experiences of workers on the move. Second, what forms of support, given by who and when, provide the best staff care. Finally, how can appropriate and timely staff support by organisations influence the lives of workers on the move. The authors all psychological therapists and many former international workers offer recommendations for workers in humanitarian aid the mission sector international contracting and seafaring among others taking into account the changing world of work and the impact on this of the Covid 19 pandemic Psychological Support for Workers on the Move provides essential guidance to organisations posting personnel internationally to psychological and wellbeing therapists working with them and to individual workers themselves Narratives of Difference in Globalized Cultures Belén Martín-Lucas,Andrea

Ruthven,2017-12-07 This book is about how the marketing of transnational cultural commodities capitalizes on difference and its appeal for cosmopolitan consumers in our postmodern globalized world At what price What ethical and political conundrums does the artist writer reader confront when going global This volume analyzes why difference whether gender sexual racial ethnic or linguistic has become such a prominent element in the contemporary cultural field and the effects of this prevalence on the production circulation and reception of cultural commodities in the context of globalization At the intersection of globalization diaspora postcolonial and feminist studies in world literature these essays engage critically with a wide variety of representative narratives taken from diverse cultural fields including humanitarian fiction multilingual poetry painting text image art performance art film documentary and docu poetry The chapters included offer counter readings that disrupt hegemonic representations of cultural identity within the contemporary neoliberal and globalized landscape Routledge International Handbook of Visual Criminology Michelle Brown,Eamonn Carrabine,2017-07-06

Dynamically written and richly illustrated the Routledge International Handbook of Visual Criminology offers the first foundational primer on visual criminology Spanning a variety of media and visual modes this volume assembles established researchers whose work is essential to understanding the role of the visual in criminology and emergent thinkers whose work is taking visual criminology in new directions This book is divided into five parts that each highlight a key aspect of visual criminology exploring the diversity of methods techniques and theoretical approaches currently shaping the field Part I introduces formative positions in the developments of visual criminology and explores the different disciplines that have contributed to analysing images Part II explores visual representations of crime across film graphic art documentary police photography press coverage and graffiti and urban aesthetics Part III discusses the relationship of visual criminology to criminal justice institutions like policing punishment and law Part IV focuses on the distinctive ethical problems posed by the image reflecting on the historical development theoretical disputes and methodological issues involved Part V identifies new frameworks and emergent perspectives and reflects upon the distinctive challenges and limits that can be seen in this emerging field This book includes a vibrant colour plate section and over a hundred black and white images breaking down the barriers between original photography and artwork historic paintings and illustrations and modern comics and films This interdisciplinary book will be of interest to criminologists sociologists visual ethnographers art historians and those engaged with media studies Migration and Radicalization Gabriel Rubin,2021-03-29 This book explores the connections between migration and terrorism and extrapolates with the help of current research and case studies what the future may hold for both issues Migration and Radicalization Global Futures looks at how migrants and terrorists have both been treated as Others outside the body politic how growing migrant flows borne of a rickety state system cause both natives and migrants to turn violent and how terrorist radicalization and tensions between natives and migrants can be reduced As he contemplates potential global futures in the light of migration and radicalization Gabriel Rubin charts a course between contemporary migration and terrorism scholarship exploring their interactions in a methodologically rigorous but theoretically bold investigation Methodology and Emotion in International Relations Eric Van Rythoven, Mira Sucharov, 2019-06-20 This volume offers a state of the art study of the diverse methodological approaches and issues in the study of emotions in international relations research While interest in emotion and affect in IR has grown in recent years there remains an absence of sustained engagement with questions of methodology and method Although much of the field holds the emotions turn as laudable it is commonly seen as facing serious even prohibitive methodological challenges Using a common framework for making discussions of methodology and emotion mutually intelligible this work seeks to address this lacuna and will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations research methods and IR theory

Historical Dictionary of Rwanda Aimable Twagilimana, 2015-11-06 Blessed with natural beauty and rich vegetation Rwanda is often called the land of a thousand hills le pays des mille collines a reference to its many lush and green rolling hills Moreover for many Rwandans at least in the past Rwanda in spite of its small size is vast in fact it means the universe This idyllic view however sharply contrasts with the sad history of ethnic strife that unfolded since the 1950s the 1959 Hutu Revolution followed by years of anti Tutsi pogroms undemocratic regimes the civil war of 1990 1994 and more significantly the April July 1994 genocide against the Tutsi and the killing of Hutu who opposed the killings The 1994 genocide against the Tutsi remains the most defining single event in contemporary Rwanda and many people in the world today know of this central African nation from the prism of extreme mass violence that sullied the end of the 20th century amid international indifference and has since haunted the world s conscience This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Rwanda contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 300 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Rwanda FULLY HUMAN Lindsey Kingston, 2019-03-06 Citizenship within our current international system signifies being fully human or being worthy of fundamental human rights For some vulnerable groups however this form of political membership is limited or missing entirely and they face human rights challenges despite a prevalence of international human rights law These protection gaps are central to hierarchies of personhood or inequalities that render some people more worthy than others for protections and political membership As a remedy Lindsey N Kingston proposes the ideal of functioning citizenship which requires an active and mutually beneficial relationship between the state and the individual and necessitates the opening of political space for those who cannot be neatly categorized. It signifies membership in a political community in which citizens support their government while enjoying the protections and services associated with their privileged legal status. At the same time, an inclusive understanding of functioning citizenship also acknowledges that political membership cannot always be limited by the borders of the state or proven with a passport. Fully Human builds its theory by looking at several hierarchies of personhood from the stateless to the forcibly displaced migrants, nomadic peoples, Indigenous nations, and second class citizens in the United States. It challenges the binary between citizen and noncitizen, arguing that rights are routinely violated in the space between the two. By recognizing these realities, we uncover limitations built into our current international system but also begin to envision a path toward the realization of human rights norms founded on universality and inalienability. The ideal of functioning citizenship acknowledges the persistent power of the state yet it does not rely solely on traditional conceptions of citizenship that have proven too flawed and limited for securing true rights protection.

Global humanitarianism and media culture Michael Lawrence, Rachel Tavernor, 2019-01-21. This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY-NC-ND open access license. This collection interrogates the representation of humanitarian crisis, catastrophe, and care. Contributors explore the refraction of humanitarian intervention from the mid twentieth century to the present across a diverse range of media forms including screen media, film, television, and online video, newspapers, memoirs, music, festivals, and social media platforms, notably Facebook, YouTube, and Flickr. Examining the historical, cultural, and political contexts that have shaped the mediation of humanitarian relationships since the middle of the twentieth century, the book reveals significant synergies between the humanitarian enterprise, the endeavour to alleviate the suffering of particular groups, and its media representations, particularly in their modes of addressing and appealing to specific publics.

The Humanitarian Fix Joe Cropp, 2021-01-17. This book investigates how humanitarians balance the laws and principles of civilian protection with the realities of contemporary war zones where non-state armed actors assert cultural, political, and religious traditions that are often at odds with official frameworks. This book argues that humanitarian protection on the ground is driven not by official frameworks in the traditional sense but by the relationships between the complex mix of actors involved in contemporary wars. The frameworks in turn act as a unifying narrative that preserves these relationships. As humanitarian practitioners navigate this complex space, they act as unofficial brokers translating the official frameworks to align with the often divergent agendas of non-state armed actors. In doing so, they provide an unofficial humanitarian fix for the challenges inherent in applying the official frameworks in contemporary wars. Drawing on rich ethnographic observations from the author's time in northern Iraq and complemented by interviews with a range of fieldworkers and humanitarian policy makers and lawyers, this book will be a compelling read for researchers and students within humanitarian and development studies and to practitioners and policy makers who are grappling with the contradictions this book explores
