Summer of 2005 we note that we are about one month away from the tenth anniversary of the very first PATAT conference in Edinburgh. Since those very early days the conference series has gone from strength to strength and this volume represents the latest in a series of very rigorously refereed volumes which showcase a broad spectrum of ground breaking timetabling research across a very wide range of timetabling problems and applications. Timetabling is an area that unites a number of disparate fields and which cuts across a number of diverse academic disciplines. While the most obvious instances of timetabling occur in educational institutions timetabling also appears in sports applications transportation planning project scheduling and many other fields. Viewing timetabling as a unifying theme enables researchers from these various areas to learn from each other and to extend their own search and practice in new and innovative ways. This volume continues the trend of the conference series to extend the definition of timetabling beyond its educational roots. In this volume seven of the 19 papers involve domains other than education. Of course educational timetabling remains at the core of timetabling research and the papers in this volume represent the full range of this area including exam timetabling room scheduling and class rostering.

Principles of Security and Trust David Basin, John C. Mitchell, 2013-02-17 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the Second International Conference on Principles of Security and Trust POST 2013 held as part of the European Joint Conference on Theory and Practice of Software ETAPS 2013 in Rome Italy in March 2013. The 14 papers included in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 59 submissions. They deal with the theoretical and foundational aspects of security and trust such as new theoretical results practical applications of existing foundational ideas and innovative theoretical approaches stimulated by pressing practical problems.
