Debating Points Race And Ethnic Relations:

Debating Points Henry L. Tischler, 2000 Debating Points offers a series of readings debating various topics commonly discussed in the basic sociology course This exploratory perspective produces a more active type of learning Designed to accommodate any introductory sociology text Presents readings on various topics covered in the introductory sociology course offering opposing sides of each topic in two separate readings Race and Ethnicity Rodney D. Coates, 2004-10-01 Race and ethnicity much like water and air are all around us Yet race and ethnicity remain impervious to many of us Hence in this volume authors were challenged to think outside the box As such scholars were encouraged to dare to contemplate to evaluate and analyze issues regarding race and ethnicity from radically different perspectives This critical process required them to evaluate their own assumptions and those of their respective disciplines Therefore much like walking a tight rope without a net the scholars attempt to free themselves from the disciplinarian blinders that often preclude the development of fresh insights Collectively the papers challenge the way we conceive and perceive of race and ethnicity As a consequence they go past the ideological constraints that normally limit such discourse by disciplinarian boundaries or disciplinarian myopia Therefore these papers provide a critical reappraisal of race and ethnicity Race and Ethnicity: Debates and controversies Harry Goulbourne, 2001 The SAGE Handbook of Race and Ethnic Studies John Solomos, Patricia Hill Collins, 2010-06-15 What is the state of Race and Ethnic Studies today How has the field emerged What are the core concepts debates and issues The SAGE Handbook of Race and Ethnic Studies is a vital resource for researchers and students with a panoramic critical survey of the field A rigorous focused examination of the central questions in the field today the text examines The roots of the field of race and ethnic studies The distinction between race and ethnicity Methodological issues facing researchers The relationship between the field and more established disciplines Intersections between race and ethnicity and questions sexuality gender nation and social transformation The challenge of multiculturalism Race ethnicity and globalization Race and the family Race and education Race and religion Issues for the 21st Century Battleground: Immigration Judith Ann Warner, 2008-12-30 Among the most tumultuous conflicts of modern America is the war over legal and undocumented immigrants currently residing within U S borders Since the passing of the 1965 Immigration and Naturalization Act America has witnessed an unprecedented flow of immigrants onto its shores with increased diversity of race and culture Battleground Immigration examines the most critical issues surrounding immigration today including effects on the economy education and employment as well as the viability of the foreign born in American society All sides of the immigration debate are explored in this comprehensive 2 volume set with special weight given to the very specific issues that have arisen in post 9 11 America homeland security and border control 9 11 s impact on legislation and civil liberties the Department of Homeland security and its role in border control transnational organized crime human smuggling and trafficking and post 9 11 border control and security impact on immigration With direct ties to the curriculum this set is a valuable resource for students of sociology current events American history political science ethnic studies and public policy

Race, Ethnicity and Education in Globalised Times Ruth Arber, 2008-02-12 What is the specificity of contemporary racism And what happens to questions of race in a context where multiculturalism is taken for granted Few authors address these kinds of questions with subtlety For the most part questions of racism are treated either as self evident or alternatively as self evidenced The first approach accentuated in everyday life and played out in media exposures is the tendency to treat racism as manifestly self evident We just know what racism is in principle and we just know what it looks like when we see it in practice Dualistic assumptions dominate this sense of identity relations persons are racist or they are not an act is racist or it is not However despite the obviousness of racism in contexts where different people have different seating arrangements on a bus or somebody says I am better than you because your skin colour is different this approach barely comes to terms with the depth of embodied politics and the elusiveness of structures of racism in the contemporary world Theories of Race and Ethnicity Karim Murji, John Solomos, 2015-01-08 An authoritative and cutting edge collection of theoretically grounded and empirically informed essays exploring the contemporary terrain of race and racism Opposing Hate Speech Anthony Cortese, 2005-11-30 What happens when two deeply held American values freedom of expression and freedom from discrimination clash In any well established democratic society people have the right to free speech as well as the right to equal treatment and protection under the law But when one person's speech harms another person on the basis of race ethnicity religion gender or sexual orientation it may qualify as hate speech and be subject to restriction Cortese argues that restricting hate speech does not violate the guiding principle behind the First Amendment but he is not eager to see more lawsuits Effective restriction he asserts should not focus on litigation but on speech codes and moral education Is there a limit to freedom of expression in a democracy and if so where should the line be drawn In attempting to answer that question Cortese makes a solid case for paying attention to context and common sense Some hate speech is more reprehensible than others not all discriminatory statements are equally serious There is a discernible difference between an offensive remark and an incitement to commit murder There is also a fundamental distinction between intentional and unintentional discrimination In this book Cortese rethinks some of the issues that have been silenced in ways harmful to many especially those that have been brutalized oppressed manipulated dominated segregated and disadvantaged We should recognize the grave injuries inflicted by hate speech and the potential tensions between legal solutions to those injuries and the First Amendment We must push for moral education educational speech codes and when necessary a formal legal structural response to hate speech in order to reinforce our commitment to tolerance as a value Sport Worlds Joseph A. Maguire, 2002 This text looks at the sociology of sport Narrative case studies of sports sociology from all over the world provide examples of how to interpret issues in professional and elite sports from a sociological perspective Race, Ethnicity and Social Theory John Solomos, 2022-07-01 Race Ethnicity and Social Theory provides a critical analysis of the main areas of scholarly research and debate about racial and ethnic relations over the past few decades The book covers substantive areas of scholarly debate in this fast changing field including race and social relations identities and the construction of the racial other feminism and race the relationship between race and nationalism antisemitism the evolution of new forms of racism race and political representation and more generally the changing debates about race and ethnicity in our global environment The book argues that there is a need for more dialogue across national and conceptual boundaries about how to develop the theoretical tools needed to understand both the historical roots of contemporary forms of racialised social and political relations and the contemporary forms through which race is made and re made A key argument that runs through the book is the need to develop conceptual frameworks that can help us to make sense of the changing forms of racial and ethnic relations in contemporary societies This means developing more dialogue across national research cultures as well as empirical research that seeks to engage with the key issues raised by contemporary theoretical debates The book will be of interest to both students wanting to develop a deeper understanding of this area of scholarship and to researchers of race ethnicity and migration working in various national and disciplinary environments Race, Ethnicity And Nation
