Astrid Núñez-Pardo, María Fernanda Téllez-Téllez, 2022-01-11 Defying Culture Hegemony through Teacher Generated Materials contributes to the growing literature on the critical analysis of English language teaching and learning materials used with students in local contexts. This research draws on contextualised teacher generated materials that contest decontextualised and standardised cultural content present in generic and commercial EFL textbooks. Six in service teachers developed contextualised EFL materials, workshops and worksheets for the pedagogical interventions of their qualitative action research. Five teachers or case studies, one teacher to be used in state funded and private schools, two private universities and a non formal public institution. Two full time professors of the emphasis conducted a qualitative documentary research whose main purpose was to critically analyse the cultural content of EFL materials generated by these in service teachers. These sociocultural mediations correspond to local realities of those who learn and teach English with these mediations in state funded and private educational institutions in the Colombian context. Besides being designed from a critical stance and being implemented with students of varied English proficiency in state funded and private educational institutions, these contextualised materials counter conventional resources used in EFL education, make up for their absence or complement the existing ones. EFL materials proposed by the six in service teachers create reflective, meaningful and constructive learning environments. They also challenge the long term cultural hegemony of commercial and instrumental EFL textbooks produced by foreign publishing houses or their local branches in our country. Furthermore, the study explores the role of contextualised teacher generated materials in fostering the development of students' cultural awareness, self esteem and self concept, and inquiry skills such as observation, prediction, interpretation and communication. Additionally, it enquires into students' inferential reading and speaking in a blended learning setting and in service EFL teachers' oral interaction. This volume portrays a dimension of English teachers that reclaims their role as critical researchers and materials developers and invites them to envision themselves as autonomous and prospective educators and ponder their renewed identity.

Teaching Readers of English John Hedgcock, Dana R. Ferris, 2009-09-10. A comprehensive manual for pre and in service ESL and EFL educators, this frontline text balances insights from current reading theory and research with highly practical, field tested strategies for teaching and assessing L2 reading in secondary and post secondary contexts. Teaching Readers of English provides a thorough yet accessible survey of L2 reading theory and research, addresses the unique cognitive and socioeducational challenges encountered by L2 readers, covers the features of L2 texts that teachers of reading must understand, acquaints readers with methods for designing reading courses, selecting curricular materials and planning instruction, explores the essential role of systematic vocabulary development in teaching L2 literacy, includes practical methods for assessing L2 students' proficiency, achievement and progress in the classroom. Pedagogical features in each chapter include questions for reflection, further reading and resources, reflection and review questions, and application activities.
