Conservation For A New Generation Redefining Natural Resources Management:

Conservation for a New Generation Richard L. Knight, Courtney White, 2009 Conservation for a New Generation highlights the dynamic state of how natural resources management is being practiced in the United States today as it transitions from top down programs and federal mandates to a largely bottom up approach that involves a broad range of stakeholders working together to achieve common goals The book considers the implications of those changes for future conservation efforts and offers a conceptual blueprint for effective conservation that can guide students and practitioners both now and into the future

Aldo Leopold Curt D. Meine, 2010-10-19 This biography of Aldo Leopold follows him from his childhood as a precocious naturalist to his profoundly influential role in the development of conservation and modern environmentalism in the United States This edition includes a new preface by author Curt Meine and an appreciation by acclaimed Kentucky writer and farmer Wendell Berry

The Law and Politics of Sustainability Klaus Bosselmann, Daniel S. Fogel, J.B. Ruhl, Patricia Wouters, 2010-11-30 The Law and Politics of Sustainability explores efforts made to address pressing environmental concerns through legislation conventions directives treaties and protocols Articles explain the mechanics of environmental law the concepts that shape sustainable development case studies and rulings that have set precedents approaches to sustainable development taken by legal systems around the world and more Experts and scholars in the field raise provocative questions about the effectiveness of international law versus national law in protecting the environment and about the effect of current laws on future generations They analyze the successes and shortcomings of present legal instruments corporate and public policies social movements and conceptual strategies offering readers a preview of the steps necessary to develop laws and policies that will promote genuine sustainability

Human Dimensions of Ecological Restoration Dave Egan, Evan E. Hjerpe, Jesse Abrams, 2012-09-26 When it comes to implementing successful ecological restoration projects the social political economic and cultural dimensions are often as important as and sometimes more important than technical or biophysical knowledge Human Dimensions of Ecological Restoration takes an interdisciplinary look at the myriad human aspects of ecological restoration In twenty six chapters written by experts from around the world it provides practical and theoretical information analysis models and guidelines for optimizing human involvement in restoration projects Six categories of social activities are examined collaboration between land manager and stakeholders ecological economics volunteerism and community based restoration environmental education ecocultural and artistic practices policy and politics For each category the book offers an introductory theoretical chapter followed by multiple case studies each of which focuses on a particular aspect of the category and provides a perspective from within a unique social political cultural setting Human Dimensions of Ecological Restoration delves into the often neglected aspects of ecological restoration that ultimately make the difference between projects that are successfully executed and maintained with the support of informed engaged citizens and those that are unable to advance past the conceptual stage due to misunderstandings or apathy The lessons contained will be valuable to restoration veterans and greenhorns alike scholars and students in a range of fields and individuals who care about restoring their local lands and waters Large Carnivore Conservation and Management Tasos Hovardas,2018-07-11 Large carnivores include iconic species such as bears wolves and big cats Their habitats are increasingly being shared with humans and there is a growing number of examples of human carnivore coexistence as well as conflict Next to population dynamics of large carnivores there are considerable attitude shifts towards these species worldwide with multiple implications This book argues and demonstrates why human dimensions of relationships to large carnivores are crucial for their successful conservation and management It provides an overview of theoretical and methodological perspectives heterogeneity in stakeholder perceptions and behaviour as well as developments in decision making stakeholder involvement policy and governance informed by human dimensions of large carnivore conservation and management The scope is international with detailed examples and case studies from Europe North and South America Central and South Asia as well as debates of the challenges faced by urbanization agricultural expansion national parks and protected areas The main species covered include bears wolves lynx and leopards The book provides a novel perspective for advanced students researchers and professionals in ecology and conservation wildlife management human wildlife interactions environmental education and environmental social science Walking the High Desert Ellen

Waterston,2020-06-22 Former high desert rancher Ellen Waterston writes of a wild essentially roadless starkly beautiful part of the American West Following the recently created 750 mile Oregon Desert Trail she embarks on a creative and inquisitive exploration introducing readers to a trusting na ve earnest stubbly grumpy old man of a desert that is grappling with issues at the forefront of national if not global concern public land use grazing rights for livestock protection of sacred Indigenous ground water rights and protection of habitat for endangered species Blending travel writing with memoir and history Waterston profiles a wide range of people who call the high desert home and offers fresh perspectives on nationally reported regional conflicts such as the Malheur Wildlife Refuge occupation Walking the High Desert invites readers wherever they may be to consider their own beliefs identities and surroundings through the optic of the high desert of southeastern Oregon

Restoring the Pitchfork Ranch A. Thomas Cole,2024-02-27 The Pitchfork Ranch is more than another dusty homestead tucked away in a corner of the Southwest It is a place with a story to tell about the most pressing crisis to confront humankind It is a place where one couple is working every day to right decades of wrongs It is a place of inspiration and promise It is an invitation to join the struggle for a better planet Restoring the Pitchfork Ranch tells the story of a decades long habitat restoration project in southwestern New Mexico A Thomas Cole explains what inspired him and his wife Lucinda to turn their retirement into years dedicated to hard work and renewal The book shares the past and present history of a very special ranch south of Silver City which is home to a rare type of regional wetland a fragile desert grassland ecosystem archaeological sites and a critical wildlife corridor in a drought stricken landscape Today the 11 300 acres that make up the

Pitchfork Ranch provide an important setting for carbon sequestration wildlife habitats and space for the reintroduction of endangered or threatened species Restoring the Pitchfork Ranch weaves together stories of mine strikers cattle ranching and the climate crisis into an important and inspiring call to action For anyone who has wondered how they can help the Pitchfork Ranch provides an inspiring way forward Stitching the West Back Together Susan Charnley,Thomas E. Sheridan,Gary P. Nabhan,2014-09-10 News headlines would often have us believe that conservationists are inevitably locked in conflict with the people who live and work on the lands they seek to protect Not so Across the western expanses of the United States conservationists ranchers and forest workers are bucking preconceptions to establish common ground As they join together to protect the wide open spaces diverse habitats and working landscapes upon which people plants and animals depend a new vision of management is emerging in which the conservation of biodiversity ecosystem integrity and sustainable resource use are seen not as antithetical but as compatible even symbiotic goals Featuring contributions from an impressive array of scientists conservationists scholars ranchers and foresters Stitching the West Back Together explores that expanded inclusive vision of environmentalism as it delves into the history and evolution of Western land use policy and of the working landscapes themselves Chapters include detailed case studies of efforts to promote both environmental and economic sustainability with lessons learned descriptions of emerging institutional frameworks for conserving Western working landscapes and implications for best practices and policies crucial to the future of the West s working forests and rangelands As economic and demographic forces threaten these lands with fragmentation and destruction this book encourages a hopeful balance between production and conservation on the large interconnected landscapes required for maintaining cultural and biological diversity over the longterm Political Ecology of Tourism Mary Mostafanezhad,Roger Norum,Eric J. Shelton,Anna Thompson-Carr,2016-01-08 Why has political ecology been assigned so little attention in tourism studies despite its broad and critical interrogation of environment and politics As the first full length treatment of a political ecology of tourism the collection addresses this lacuna and calls for the further establishment of this emerging interdisciplinary subfield Drawing on recent trends in geography anthropology and environmental and tourism studies Political Ecology of Tourism Communities Power and the Environment employs a political ecology approach to the analysis of tourism through three interrelated themes Communities and Power Conservation and Control and Development and Conflict While geographically broad in scope with chapters that span Central and South America to Africa and South Southeast and East Asia to Europe and Greenland the collection illustrates how tourism related environmental challenges are shared across prodigious geographical distances while also attending to the nuanced ways they materialize in local contexts and therefore demand the historically situated place based and multi scalar approach of political ecology This collection advances our understanding of the role of political economic and environmental concerns in tourism practice It offers readers a political ecology framework from which to address tourism related issues and themes such as development identity politics environmental subjectivities environmental degradation land and resources conflict and indigenous ecologies Finally the collection is bookended by a pair of essays from two of the most distinguished scholars working in the subfield Rosaleen Duffy foreword and James Igoe afterword This collection will be valuable reading for scholars and practitioners alike who share a critical interest in the intersection of tourism politics and the environment
