

2 Types of Assessments

Formative

Formative assessments measure student comprehension in the process of learning a skill or acquiring new knowledge. What has the child learned so far?

Example: A teacher has just finished teaching a lesson on fractions. In order to see if his students were able to follow the lesson, he asks some of them to come up to the board and demonstrate the meanings of one half, one third, and one fourth on the board by shading parts of a circle.

Summative

Summative assessments measure student comprehension at the end of a lesson or unit. What did the child learn overall?

Example: The teacher gives a paper test at the end of a two week unit on fractions. Students might be given a worksheet on which to shade in correct portions of circles, match numerical fractions to their shaded circle counterparts, and answer word problems using fractions. The teacher does not help much because he needs to see what levels of comprehension the children can demonstrate on their own.
