Knowledge for a Sustainable World

The search for answers to the issue of global sustainability has become increasingly urgent. In the context of higher education, many universities and academics are seeking new insights that can shift our dependence on ways of living that rely on the exploitation of so many and the degradation of so much of our planet. This is the vision that drives SANORD and many of the researchers and institutions within its network. Although much of the research is on a relatively small scale, the vision is steadily gaining momentum, forging dynamic collaborations and pathways to new knowledge. The contributors to this book cover a variety of subject areas and offer fresh insights about chronically under-researched parts of the world. Others document and critically reflect on innovative approaches to cross-continental teaching and research collaborations. This book will be of interest to anyone involved in the transformation of higher education or the practicalities of cross-continental and cross-disciplinary academic collaboration. The Southern African-Nordic Centre (SANORD) is a network of higher education institutions from Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, Sweden, Botswana, Namibia, Malawi, South Africa, Zambia and Zimbabwe. Universities in the southern African and Nordic regions that are not yet members are encouraged to join.

Insidious Capital

With a team of anthropologists and geographers, Insidious Capital explores “value and values” in what may well be the last phase of capitalist globalization. In a global perspective of fast transforming social spaces that move from East to West, the book explores the struggles around the exploitation and valuation of labor, environmental politics, expansion of the ground rent, new hierarchies, the contradictions of higher education, the off shoring of “immaterial” labor, the illiberal right, and the mobilizations against it. This is a book about the variegated frontlines of value within an uneven, but not random, geography of capitalist expansion.

Building Smart, Resilient and Sustainable Infrastructure in Developing Countries

E-Government: Perspectives from Developing and Emerging Countries Mothataesi Sebina, Peter Mazebe II, Moahi, Kgomotso Hildegard, Bwalya, Kelvin Joseph, 2014-03-31 Access to government information faces many roadblocks in developing and emerging economies due to lack of appropriate legal frameworks and other requisite information laws However there is hope that many countries are now recognizing the importance of providing access to public information resources Digital Access and E Government Perspectives from Developing and Emerging Countries explores the relationships that exist between access to information laws and e government It shares the strategies used in encouraging access to information in a variety of jurisdictions and environments to be of use to e government designers and practitioners policymakers and university professors States of Subsistence José Ciro Martínez, 2022-04-12 On any given day in Jordan more than nine million residents eat approximately ten million loaves of khubz arabi the slightly leavened flatbread known to many as pita Some rely on this bread to avoid starvation for others it is a customary pleasure Yet despite its ubiquity in accounts of Middle East politics and society rarely do we consider how bread is prepared consumed discussed and circulated and what this all represents With this book Jos Ciro Mart nez examines khubz arabi to unpack the effects of the welfare program that ensures its widespread availability Drawing on more than a year working as a baker in Amman Mart nez probes the practices that underpin subsidized bread Following bakers and bureaucrats he offers an immersive examination of social welfare provision Mart nez argues that the state is best understood as the product of routine practices and actions through which it becomes a stable truth in the lives of citizens States of Subsistence not only describes logics of rule in contemporary Jordan and the place of bread within them but also unpacks how the state endures through forms sensations and practices amid the seemingly unglamorous and unspectacular day to day Police in Africa Jan Beek, Mirco Göpfert, Olly Owen, Johnny Steinberg, 2017-08-15 Often overlooked by journalists and scholars the police forces of the African continents are a significant and little studied phenomenon This book seeks to redress that lacuna The studies span the continent from South Africa to Sierra Leone keeping a strong ethnographic focus on police officers and their work The Conjoint/Disjoint Alternation in Bantu Jenneke van der Wal, Larry M. Hyman, 2016-12-19 This volume brings together descriptions and analyses of the conjoint disjoint alternation a typologically significant phenomenon found in many Bantu languages The chapters provide in depth documentation comparative studies and theoretical analyses of the alternation from a range of Bantu languages showing its crosslinguistic variation in constituent structure morphology prosody and information structure

Living my dream. Fulfilling my destiny Confred Musuka, 2014-11-18 I decided to write this book because I had you in mind If it were not for you I would have not bothered to do so Like everyone else I would be going about doing my own business But I am not like that I know what you are going through because I have been there before Just imagine a situation where someone survives on other people s leftover foodstuffs that find its way to the dustbins Imagine going without a bath for two weeks Maybe think of it this way you have always wondered why you were brought up at an orphanage instead of a normal family home set up Suppose in your own personal investigations you discovered that you were a product of two irresponsible parents one of whom dumped you at a rubbish pit What would you do Think about it this way your ambition was to be At school you worked very hard and managed to obtain 6 points at Grade 12 Alas you struggle to raise money to buy a CBU or UNZA application form Even when you are admitted into university and given 75% bursary by the government you fail to raise the remaining 25% required for you to start you dream programme All I can say to you is Do not give up Keep trying and aim to fulfil your dream

The Cow in the Elevator Tulasi Srinivas, 2018-05-10 In The Cow in the Elevator Tulasi Srinivas explores a wonderful world where deities jump fences and priests ride in helicopters to present a joyful imaginative yet critical reading of modern religious life Drawing on nearly two decades of fieldwork with priests residents and devotees and her own experience of living in the high tech city of Bangalore Srinivas finds moments where ritual enmeshes with global modernity to create wonder a feeling of amazement at being overcome by the unexpected and sublime Offering a nuanced account of how the ruptures of modernity can be made normal enrapturing and even comical in a city swept up in globalization s tumult Srinivas brings the visceral richness of wonder apparent in creative ritual in and around Hindu temples into the anthropological gaze Broaching provocative philosophical themes like desire complicity loss time money technology and the imagination Srinivas pursues an interrogation of wonder and the adventure of writing true to its experience The Cow in the Elevator rethinks the study of ritual while reshaping our appreciation of wonder s transformative potential for scholarship and for life

The Experimental City James Evans, Andrew Karvonen, Rob Raven, 2016-05-20 This book explores how the concept of urban experimentation is being used to reshape practices of knowledge production in urban debates about resilience climate change governance and socio technical transitions With contributions from leading scholars and case studies from the Global North and South from small to large scale cities this book suggests that urban experiments offer novel modes of engagement governance and politics that both challenge and complement conventional strategies The book is organized around three cross cutting themes Part I explores the logics of urban experimentation different approaches and how and why they are deployed Part II considers how experiments are being staged within cities by whom and with what effects Part III examines how entire cities or groups of cities are constructed as experiments This book

seeks to contribute a deeper and more socially and politically nuanced understanding of how urban experiments shape cities and drive wider changes in society providing a framework to examine the phenomenon of urban experimentation in conceptual and empirical detail The Scandal of Continuity in Middle East Anthropology Judith Scheele, Andrew Shryock, 2019-09-12 Despite a rich history of ethnographic research in Middle Eastern societies the region is frequently portrayed as marginal to anthropology The contributors to this volume reject this view and show how the Middle East is in fact vital to the discipline and how Middle Eastern anthropologists have developed theoretical and methodological tools that address and challenge the region's political ethical and intellectual concerns The contributors to this volume are students of Paul Dresch an anthropologist known for his incisive work on Yemeni tribalism and customary law As they expand upon his ideas and insights these essays ask questions that have long preoccupied anthropologists such as how do place point of view and style combine to create viable bodies of knowledge how is scholarship shaped by the historical context in which it is located and why have duration and form become so problematic in the study of Middle Eastern societies Special attention is given to understanding local terms contested knowledge claims what remains unseen and unsaid in social life and to cultural patterns and practices that persist over long stretches of time seeming to predate and outlast events Ranging from Morocco to India these essays offer critical but sensitive approaches to cultural difference and the distinctiveness of the anthropological project in the Middle East Introducing Urban Anthropology Rivke Jaffe, Anouk de Koning, 2022-12-30 This book provides an up to date introduction to the important field of urban anthropology This is a critical area of study as more than half of the world's population now lives in cities and anthropological research is increasingly done in an urban context Exploring contemporary anthropological approaches to the urban the authors consider How can we define urban anthropology What are the main themes of twenty first century urban anthropological research What are the possible future directions in the field The chapters cover topics such as urban mobilities place making and public space production and consumption and politics and governance These are illustrated by lively case studies drawn from urban settings across the world Accessible yet theoretically incisive Introducing Urban Anthropology will be a valuable resource for anthropology students and also for those working in urban studies and related disciplines such as sociology and geography The revised second edition includes updated theoretical discussions and new ethnographic case studies It features a new chapter on neoliberalism austerity and solidarity and engages more extensively with digital transformations of urban life Faith in Flux Devaka Premawardhana, 2018-03-02 Pentecostalism Africa's fastest growing form of Christianity is known for displacing that which came before Yet anthropologist Devaka Premawardhana witnessed neither massive growth nor dramatic rupture in the part of Mozambique where he worked His research opens a new paradigm for the study of global Christianity one centered on religious fluidity and existential mobility and on how indigenous traditions remain vibrant and influential even in the lives of converts In Faith in Flux Premawardhana narrates a range of everyday hardships faced by a rural Makhuwa

speaking people snakebites and elephant invasions chronic illnesses and recurring wars disputes within families and conflicts with the state to explore how wellbeing sometimes entails not stability but mobility In their ambivalent response to Pentecostalism as in their historical resistance to sedentarization and other modernizing projects the Makhuwa reveal crucial insights about what it is to be human about changing as a means of enduring becoming as a mode of being and converting as a way of life

Rethinking Life at the Margins Michele Lancione, 2016-04-20 Experimenting with new ways of looking at the contexts subjects processes and multiple political stances that make up life at the margins this book provides a novel source for a critical rethinking of marginalisation Drawing on post colonialism and critical assemblage thinking the rich ethnographic works presented in the book trace the assemblage of marginality in multiple case studies encompassing the Global North and South These works are united by the approach developed in the book characterised by the refusal of a priori definitions and by a post human and grounded take on the assemblage of life The result is a nuanced attention to the potential expressed by everyday articulations and a commitment to produce a processual vitalist and non normative cultural politics of the margins The reader will find in this book unique challenges to accepted and authoritative thinking and provides new insights into researching life at the margins

Africa and Urban Anthropology Deborah Pellow, Suzanne Scheld, 2023-03-08 This volume offers valuable anthropological insight into urban Africa covering a range of cities across a continent that has become one of the fastest urbanizing geographic areas of the globe Consideration is given to the structures social formations and rhythms that constitute the definition of an African city town or urban space and to current concepts for thinking about African cities in the twenty first century The contributors examine topics including notions of belonging the effects of globalization colonialism and transnationalism on African urban life the cultural dimensions of infrastructure and public resources mobility labor issues spatial organization language and popular culture trends among other themes The book reflects on how the ethnography of urban Africa fits within anthropology and urban studies and on new theoretical concepts and methodologies that can be created through anthropological fieldwork in African cities It will be of particular interest to scholars and students from anthropology African studies and urban studies as well as sociology and geography

A Socialist Peace? Mike McGovern, 2017-06-22 For the last twenty years the West African nation of Guinea has exhibited all of the conditions that have led to civil wars in other countries and Guineans themselves regularly talk about the inevitability of war Yet the country has narrowly avoided conflict again and again In A Socialist Peace Mike McGovern asks how this is possible how a nation could beat the odds and evade civil war Guinea is rich in resources but its people are some of the poorest in the world Its political situation is polarized by fiercely competitive ethnic groups Weapons flow freely through its lands and across its borders And finally it is still recovering from the oppressive regime of S kou Tour McGovern argues that while Tour s reign was hardly peaceful it was successful often through highly coercive and violent measures at establishing a set of durable national dispositions which have kept the nation at peace Exploring the ambivalences of contemporary Guineans toward the afterlife of Tour's reign as well as their abiding sense of socialist solidarity McGovern sketches the paradoxes that undergird political stability

The Laziness Myth Christine Jeske, 2020-12-15 When people cannot find good work can they still find good lives By investigating this question in the context of South Africa where only 43 percent of adults are employed Christine Jeske invites readers to examine their own assumptions about how work and the good life do or do not coincide The Laziness Myth challenges the widespread premise that hard work determines success by tracing the titular laziness myth a persistent narrative that disguises the systems and structures that produce inequalities while blaming unemployment and other social ills on the so called laziness of particular class racial and ethnic groups Jeske offers evidence of the laziness myth's harsh consequences as well as insights into how to challenge it with other South African narratives of a good life In contexts as diverse as rapping in a library manufacturing leather shoes weed whacking neighbors yards negotiating marriage plans and sharing water taps the people described in this book will stimulate discussion on creative possibilities for seeking the good life in and out of employment in South Africa and elsewhere

Monrovia Modern Danny Hoffman, 2017-08-17 In Monrovia Modern Danny Hoffman uses the ruins of four iconic modernist buildings in Monrovia Liberia as a way to explore the relationship between the built environment and political imagination Hoffman shows how the E J Royce tower and the Hotel Africa luxury resort as well as the unfinished Ministry of Defense and Liberia Broadcasting System buildings transformed during the urban warfare of the 1990s from symbols of the modernist project of nation building to reminders of the challenges Monrovia's residents face The transient lives of these buildings inhabitants many of whom are ex combatants prevent them from making place based claims to a right to the city and hinder their ability to think of ways to rebuild and repurpose their built environment Featuring nearly 100 of Hoffman's color photographs Monrovia Modern is situated at the intersection of photography architecture and anthropology mapping out the possibilities and limits for imagining an urban future in Monrovia and beyond
