Community Based Adaptation To Climate Change Scaling It Up:

Community-Based Adaptation to Climate Change E. Lisa F. Schipper, Jessica Ayers, Hannah Reid, Saleemul Huq, Atiq Rahman, 2014-01-21 As climate change adaptation rises up the international policy agenda matched by increasing funds and frameworks for action there are mounting questions over how to ensure the needs of vulnerable people on the ground are met Community based adaptation CBA is one growing proposal that argues for tailored support at the local level to enable vulnerable people to identify and implement appropriate community based responses to climate change themselves Community Based Adaptation to Climate Change Scaling it up explores the challenges for meeting the scale of the adaptation challenge through CBA It asks the fundamental questions How can we draw replicable lessons to move from place based projects towards more programmatic adaptation planning How does CBA fit with larger scale adaptation policy and programmes How are CBA interventions situated within the institutions that enable or undermine adaptive capacity Combining the research and experience of prominent adaptation and development theorists and practitioners this book presents cutting edge knowledge that moves the debate on CBA forward towards effective appropriate and scaled up adaptive action Our Warming Planet: Climate Change Impacts And Adaptation Martin Parry, Cynthia

Rosenzweig, Manishka De Mel, 2021-10-22 This volume the second in the Lectures in Climate Change series covers the full array of climate impacts and adaptation measures It has been brought together by friends and colleagues of Dr Martin Parry Co Chair of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC 2007 assessment on impacts and adaptation The writers are experts in this field and have been lead authors in many of the IPCC assessments and other major publications Lectures in Climate Change is a unique combination of written text plus electronic slides that together comprise an informative and up to date set of presentations This second volume entitled Our Warming Planet Climate Change Impacts and Adaptation covers areas of climate impacts related to climate science methods and approaches sectors regional and national studies and policy and practice The volume comprises topics such as current and future challenges of climate change global assessments downscaling community based adaptation impacts on biodiversity food systems water resources and cities Research from across the world is presented on making science actionable through assessments early warning and early action communicating climate risk documenting the uptake of adaptation on the global front and transformation towards systemic resilience Included with this publication are downloadable electronic slides and accompanying notes of each lecture for students teachers and public speakers around the world to be better able to understand and present climate change impacts and adaptation Related Link s Community-based adaptation Hannah Reid, 2017-10-02 Community based adaptation CBA to climate change is based on local priorities needs knowledge and capacities Early CBA initiatives were generally implemented by non government organisations NGOs and operated primarily at the local level Many used bottom up participatory processes to identify the climate change problem and appropriate responses Small localised stand alone initiatives are insufficient to address the scale of challenges climate change will bring however The causes of vulnerability such as market or service access or good governance also often operate beyond the project level Larger organisations and national governments have therefore started to implement broader CBA programmes which provide opportunities to scale up responses and integrate CBA into higher levels of policy and planning This book shows that it is possible for CBA to remain centred on local priorities but not necessarily limited to work implemented at the local level Some chapters address the issue of mainstreaming CBA into government policy and planning processes or into city or sectoral level plans e g on agriculture Others look at how gender and children s issues should be mainstreamed into adaptation planning itself and others describe how tools can be applied and finance delivered for effective mainstreaming This book was published as a special issue of Climate and Development

Monitoring and Evaluation of Climate Change Adaptation: A Review of the Landscape Dennis Bours, Colleen McGinn, Patrick Pringle, 2015-09-17 Monitoring and evaluation M E of climate change adaptation CCA poses an assortment of thorny methodological challenges Individually none are unique to CCA but together they represent a very distinctive conundrum facing practitioners and policy makers Adding to this complexity further climate change may be global in nature but its impacts and how we respond to them through adaptation efforts cut across scales sectors and levels of intervention As investments in climate adaptation increase organizations are seeking to measure assess and understand an array of adaptation initiatives and derive learnings to inform policy and praxis This issue presents findings from many of the most important contemporary CCA program evaluation research initiatives The chapters represent the most coherent and current collection of CCA M E research in this emerging and important field written by many of its leading experts Filled with examples and insights in formulating coherent responses to methodological challenges it will be of interest to M E scholars and practitioners globally This is the 147th issue in the New Directions for Evaluation series from Jossey Bass It is an official publication of the American Evaluation Association

COMMUNITY-BASED ADAPTATION TO CLIMATE CHANGE: SCALING IT UP (INTERLOAN 389116). , Climate Adaptation Futures Jean P. Palutikof, Sarah L. Boulter, Andrew J. Ash, Mark Stafford Smith, Martin Parry, Marie Waschka, Daniela Guitart, 2013-02-04 Adaptation is the poor cousin of the climate change challenge the glamour of international debate is around global mitigation agreements while the bottom up activities of adaptation carried out in community halls and local government offices are often overlooked Yet as international forums fail to deliver reductions in greenhouse gas emissions the world is realising that effective adaptation will be essential across all sectors to deal with the unavoidable impacts of climate change The need to understand how to adapt effectively and to develop appropriate adaptation options and actions is becoming increasingly urgent This book reports the current state of knowledge on climate change adaptation and seeks to expose and debate key issues in adaptation research and practice It is framed around a number of critical areas of adaptation theory and practice including Advances in adaptation thinking Enabling frameworks and policy for adaptation Engaging and communicating with practitioners Key

challenges in adaptation and development Management of natural systems and agriculture under climate change Ensuring water security under a changing climate Urban infrastructure and livelihoods and The nexus between extremes disaster management and adaptation It includes contributions from many of the leading thinkers and practitioners in adaptation today The book is based on key contributions from the First International Conference on Climate Change Adaptation Climate Adaptation Futures held on the Gold Coast Australia in June 2010 That three day meeting of over 1000 researchers and practitioners in adaptation from 50 countries was the first of its kind Readership The book is essential reading for a wide range of individuals involved in climate change adaptation including Researchers Communication specialists Decision makers and policy makers e g government staff local council staff On ground adaptation practitioners e g aid agencies government workers NGOs Postgraduate and graduate students and Consultants Routledge Handbook of Environmental Anthropology Helen Kopnina,Eleanor Shoreman-Ouimet,2016-08-12 Environmental Anthropology studies historic and present human environment interactions This volume illustrates the ways in which today s environmental anthropologists are constructing new paradigms for understanding the multiplicity of players pressures and ecologies in every environment and the value of cultural knowledge of landscapes This Handbook provides a comprehensive survey of contemporary topics in environmental anthropology and thorough discussions on the current state and prospective future of the field in seven key sections As the contributions to this Handbook demonstrate the subfield of environmental anthropology is responding to cultural adaptations and responses to environmental changes in multiple and complex ways As a discipline concerned primarily with human environment interaction environmental anthropologists recognize that we are now working within a pressure cooker of rapid environmental damage that is forcing behavioural and often cultural changes around the world As we see in the breadth of topics presented in this volume these environmental challenges have inspired renewed foci on traditional topics such as food procurement ethnobiology and spiritual ecology and a broad new range of subjects such as resilience nonhuman rights architectural anthropology industrialism and education This volume enables scholars and students quick access to both established and trending environmental anthropological explorations into theory methodology and practice The Routledge Handbook of Environment and Communication Anders Hansen,Robert Cox,2022-12-26 This revised and fully updated second edition of the Routledge Handbook of Environment and Communication provides a state of the art overview of environmental communication theory practice and research The momentous changes witnessed in the politics of the environment as well as in the nature of media and public communication in recent years have made the study and understanding of environmental communication ever more pertinent This is reflected in this second edition including a number of exciting new chapters concerned with environmental communication in an age of misinformation and fake news environmental communication community and social transformation environmental justice and advances in methods for the analysis of mediated environmental communication Signalling the key dimensions of public mediated communication the

Climate Change and Agricultural Development Udaya Sekhar Nagothu, 2016-07-15 Two of the greatest current challenges are climate change and variability and food security Feeding nine billion people by 2050 will require major efforts aimed at climate change adaptation and mitigation One approach to agriculture has recently been captured by the widely adopted term of Climate Smart Agriculture CSA This book not only explains what this entails but also presents practical on the ground studies of practices and innovations in agriculture across a broader spectrum including agroecology and conservation agriculture in less developed countries It is shown that CSA is not a completely new science and a number of its recommended technologies have been used for some time by local farmers all over the world What is relevant and new is the approach to exploit their adaptation and mitigation potential However a major limitation is the lack of evidence based knowledge that is necessary for policy makers to prepare strategies for adaptation and mitigation This book assembles knowledge of CSA agroecology and conservation agriculture and perspectives from different regions of the world to build resilient food systems The first part analyzes the concept opportunities and challenges and provides a global perspective drawing particularly on studies from Africa and Asia The second part of the book showcases results from various studies linked to soil water and crop management measures from an ongoing program in India as well as experiences from other regions The third section assesses the needs for an enabling policy environment mainstreaming gender and some final recommendations for up scaling and or out scaling innovations

Community-based Adaptation to Climate Change Hannah Reid, 2009 Focuses on the approaches to climate change adaptation which are community based and participatory This title highlights the participatory methods to help communities analyze the causes and effects of climate change integrate scientific and community knowledge and plan appropriate adaptation measures

Climate Change and Human Development Hannah Reid, 2014-07-10 Whilst the world's poor are clearly hit hardest by climate change impacts so too do they hold many of the solutions for how best to cope with its impacts and at times reduce greenhouse gas emissions to zero In this wide ranging book Hannah Reid offers a rich compendium of real life scenarios and brings home the realities of how poor people are suffering from and coping with climate change impacts today Drawing on case studies gathered by the UP in Smoke group a powerful coalition of global environment and development organizations including Greenpeace Oxfam Practical Action and the WWF this book provides new models for human development in a climate change constrained future as well as positive solutions to tackling climate change at the macro level with proposals from luminaries such as Professors Wangari Maathai Manfred Max Neef and Jayati Ghosh Scaling-Up Climate Action in Agriculture Bager, S. L., Dinesh, D., Olesen, A. S., Andersen, S. P., Eriksen, S. L., Friis, A., 2017-05-31 Increasing food production in the face of a growing population while adapting to and mitigating climate change constitutes a main challenge for the global agricultural sector This study identifies analyses and contextualizes regional initiatives related to agriculture and climate change in developing countries In order to identify needs for improvements and possibilities for replication or scale up a review of recently launched initiatives is combined with a SWOT analysis Moreover the study places initiatives in the context of INDCs of Sub Saharan African countries submitted under the UNFCCC As a result recommendations on how to develop and implement best practice agriculture climate change initiatives are presented Regional Development and Forgotten Spaces María del Carmen Sánchez-Carreira, Paulo Jorge Reis Mourão, Bruno Blanco-Varela, 2023-07-06 This book constitutes a novel contribution combining recent theoretical developments and empirical contributions as well as the recent and latest trends and challenges on the issue of Forgotten Spaces Forgotten Spaces like the Forgotten Regions in particular are spaces that in potential can and do create significant value if their resources are properly rediscovered and create many potential costs if these spaces are increasingly neglected by economic agents The editors have identified a gap in current research because there is not enough empirical evidence about these places as well as about the role of their actors Abandoning regions can lead to for example pollution uncontrolled forest fires vandalism heritage deterioration and potentially untreated industrial facilities carrying potential costs not only in environmental sustainability but also in values such as landscape aesthetics Thus this book reflects on the dimensions of the identification of such Forgotten Spaces on the design of policies focused on minimizing associated costs and on the scope of programs to promote these areas not only for upgrading them but also for promoting their environmental sustainability The comparative approach of the empirical part also allows knowledge and experience from diverse longitudes and latitudes The editors highlight the richness of the experience of Latin American countries the polarization and interesting experiences from several sector rediscovered in Europe as well as the holistic cases coming from several African experiences This book will attract the attention of academicians politicians and ultimately the attention of all decision makers who most likely are forgetting many of the Spaces around them Green Finance and Investment Scaling Up Adaptation Finance in Developing Countries Challenges and Opportunities for International Providers OECD, 2023-11-16 This report analyses current trends of adaptation finance provided and mobilised by developed countries for developing countries It explores potential action areas for international providers to scale up funding for climate change adaptation including by unlocking the potential of the private sector Economic impacts of climate change on priority value chains in the Caribbean Rhiney, K., Ajayi, O. C., 2018-09-10 To support the implementation of CTA s flagship project for the Caribbean this report is aimed at developing capacity building efforts for specific groups of farmers engaging in specific production activities in priority value chains so they may improve their access to key markets This report focuses on the threats climate change poses to the production of two priority value chains in the Caribbean fruit and vegetables and roots and tubers contributors to global assessments such as the IPCC reports Tales of Shit Petra Bongartz, 2010 Least Developed Countries Fund Global Environment Facility, 2012-11-15 Resilience in the Anthropocene: Adapting to Climate Chaos Dave Hardwick, The Earth's climate is changing at an unprecedented rate largely due to human activities. The consequences are far reaching and deeply impactful posing significant challenges to societies and ecosystems globally. This book Resilience in the Anthropocene: Adapting to Climate Chaos explores the urgent need for adaptation strategies to mitigate the unavoidable impacts of this escalating climate crisis. While mitigation efforts aimed at reducing greenhouse gas emissions are crucial, adaptation strategies are equally essential to minimize the adverse effects already being experienced and those projected for the future. We delve into practical and innovative solutions for constructing resilient communities and infrastructure focusing on several key areas. Firstly, we examine urban resilience analyzing the vulnerabilities of urban infrastructure to climate change impacts such as extreme heat, flooding, and sea level rise. We explore innovative design principles, green infrastructure solutions, and improved emergency response systems for creating more resilient cities. Secondly, we address the critical issue of climate resilient agriculture and food security. The book analyzes the multifaceted impacts of climate change on agricultural systems and discusses innovative farming techniques, drought resistant crops, and sustainable water management practices for ensuring food security in a changing climate. Thirdly, we explore the role of innovative technologies in enhancing climate adaptation, including early warning systems, advanced materials for infrastructure, and renewable energy sources. These technologies offer significant potential for mitigating climate risks and improving resilience. Beyond technological solutions, this book emphasizes the significance of community resilience. We explore the importance of community engagement, participatory planning, and social support networks in building strong and adaptable communities capable of withstanding and recovering from climate related disasters. This book is designed to equip readers with the knowledge and tools to engage effectively in the critical challenge of building a more resilient future. It is a call to action encouraging collaboration, informing policy decisions, and fostering a global commitment to a sustainable and resilient world. The information presented here serves as a foundation for understanding the complexities of climate adaptation and empowers readers to contribute to the global effort of creating a more sustainable and resilient future for all.
