Comparative Cultural Studies and the New Weltliteratur Elke Sturm-Trigonakis, 2013-11-15 In this English translation and revision of her acclaimed German language book Elke Sturm Trigonakis expands on Goethe s notion of Weltliteratur 1827 to propose that owing to globalization literature is undergoing a profound change in process content and linguistic practice Rather than producing texts for a primarily national readership modern writers can collate diverse cultural literary and linguistic traditions to create new modes of expression that she designates as hybrid texts The author introduces an innovative framework to analyse these new forms of expression that is based on comparative cultural studies and its methodology of contextual systemic and empirical approaches to the study of literature and culture including the concepts of the macro and micro systems of culture and literature To illustrate her proposition Sturm Trigonakis discusses selected literary texts that exhibit characteristics of linguistic and cultural hybridity the concept of in between and transculturality and thus are located in a space of a new world literature Examples include Gastarbeiterliteratur migrant literature by authors such as Chiellino Shami and Atabay The book is important reading for philologists linguists sociologists and other scholars interested in the cultural and linguistic impact of globalization on literature and culture The German edition of this volume was originally published as Global playing in der Literatur Ein Versuch ber die Neue Weltliteratur 2007 and it has been translated in collaboration with the author by Athanasia Margoni and Maria Kaiser

Romantic Revisions in Novels from the Americas Lauren Rule Maxwell, 2013-03-15 Why are twentieth century novelists from former British colonies in the Americas preoccupied with British Romantic poetry In Romantic Revisions Lauren Rule Maxwell examines five novels Kincaid s Lucy Atwood s The Handmaid s Tale McCarthy s Blood Meridian Fitzgerald s The Great Gatsby and Harris s Palace of the Peacock that contain crucial scenes engaging British Romantic poetry Each work adapts figures from British Romantic poetry and translates them into an American context Kincaid relies on the repeated image of the daffodil Atwood displaces Lucy McCarthy upends the American arcadia Fitzgerald heaps Keatsian images of excess and Harris transforms the albatross In her close readings Maxwell suggests that the novels reframe Romantic poetry to allegorically confront empire revealing how subjectivity is shaped by considerations of place and power Returning to British Romantic poetry allows the novels to extend the Romantic poetics of landscape that traditionally considered the British subject s relation to place By recasting Romantic poetics in the Americas these novels show how negotiations of identity and power are defined by the legacies of British imperialism illustrating that these nations their peoples and their works of art are truly postcolonial While many postcolonial scholars and critics have dismissed the idea that Romantic poetry can be used to critique colonialism Maxwell suggests that on the contrary it has provided contemporary writers across the Americas with a means of charting the literary and cultural legacies of British imperialism in the New World The poems of the British Romantics offer postcolonial writers particularly rich material Maxwell argues because they characterize British influence at the height of the British empire In explaining how the novels adapt figures from British Romantic poetry Romantic Revisions provides scholars and students working in postcolonial studies Romanticism and English language literature with a new look at politics of location in the Americas Imre Kertész and Holocaust Literature Louise Olga Vasvári, Steven Tötösy de Zepetnek, 2005 Publisher Description Asian Diaspora and East-West Modernity Sheng-mei Ma, 2012-07-30 Drawing from Anglo American Asian American and Asian literature as well as J horror and manga Chinese cinema and Internet and the Korean Wave Sheng mei Ma s Asian Diaspora and East West Modernity probes into the conjoinedness of West and East of modernity s illusion and nothing s infinitude Suspended on the stylistic tightrope between research and poetry critical analysis and intuition Asian Diaspora restores affect and heart to the experience of diaspora in between East and West at homeness and exilic attrition Diaspora by definition stems as much from socioeconomic and collective displacement as it points to emotional reaction This book thus challenges the fossilized conceptualizations in area studies ontology and modernism The book s first two chapters trace the Asian pursuit of modernity into nothing as embodied in horror film and the gaming motif in transpacific literature and film Chapters three through eight focus on the borderlands of East and West the edges of humanity and meaning Ma examines how loss occasions a revisualization of Asia in children s books how Asian diasporic passing signifies paradoxically both born again and demise of the old self how East turns East or the agent of self fashioning for Anglo America Asia and Asian America how the construct of bugman distinguishes modern West s and East s self image how the extreme human condition of non person permeates the Korean Wave and how manga artists are drawn to wartime Japan The final two chapters interrogate the West s death bound yet enlightening Orientalism in Anglo American literature and China s own schizophrenic split evidenced in the 2008 Olympic Games Text and Image in Modern European Culture Natasha Grigorian, Margaret Rigaud-Drayton, Thomas Baldwin, 2012-09-15 Text and Image in Modern European Culture is a collection of essays that are transnational and interdisciplinary in scope Employing a range of innovative comparative approaches to reassess and undermine traditional boundaries between art forms and national cultures the contributors shed new light on the relations between literature and the visual arts in Europe after 1850 Following tenets of comparative cultural studies work presented in this volume explores international creative dialogues between writers and visual artists ekphrasis in literature literature and design fashion architecture hybrid texts visual poetry surrealist pocket museums poetic photo texts and text and image relations under the impact of modern technologies avant garde experiments digital poetry The discussion encompasses pivotal fin de siècle modernist and postmodernist works and movements in Britain France Germany Italy Poland Russia and Spain A selected bibliography of work published in the field is also included The volume will appeal to scholars of comparative literature art history and visual studies and it includes contributions appropriate for supplementary reading in senior undergraduate and Beebee analyzes fictional texts as a discursive territoriality that shape readers' notions of and ambivalence about national and regional belonging. Several canonical works of literary fiction have provided their readers with verbal maps that in their depictions of boundary spaces construct indirect images of national territory and geography. Beebee analyzes the historical and cultural diversity in Johann Wolfgang von Goethe's, Nikolai Gogol's and Ivan Turgenev's competing geographies of Russia and its empire. She explores the tradition through a comparative analysis of five seminal texts. Guo argues that Chinese women writers of the period position the personal within the diegesis in order to reconfigure their moral commitments and personal desires. By fashioning a feminine representation of subjectivity, tanci writers found a habitable space of self-expression in the male-dominated literary tradition. Through her discussion of the emergence, evolution and impact of women's tanci, Guo shows how historical forces acting on the formation of the genre serve as the background for an investigation of cross-dressing, self-portraiture and authorial self-representation. Further, Guo approaches anew the concept of woman-oriented perspective and argues that this perspective conceptualizes a narrative framework in which the heroine's are endowed with mobility to exercise their talent and power as social beings as men's equals. Such a woman-oriented perspective redefines normalized gender roles with an eye to exposing women's potentialities to transform historical and social customs in order to engender a world with better prospects for women. This work will be a significant contribution to scholarship on Chinese women's tanci novels in late imperial Qing and early twentieth-century China.
