Community Informatics Enabling Communities With Information And Communications Technologies:

Community Informatics: Enabling Communities with Information and Communications Technologies Gurstein, Michael, 1999-07-01 Community Informatics is developing as an approach for linking economic and social development efforts at the community level to the opportunities that information and communications technologies present Areas such as SMEs and electronic commerce community and civic networks electronic democracy and online participation are among a few of the areas affected Community Informatics Enabling Communities with Information and Communications Technologies is an introduction to the discipline of community informatics Issues such as trends controversies challenges and opportunities facing the community application of information and communications technologies into the millennium are studied

Current Issues in IT Education Tanya McGill, 2003-01-01 Addressing the ongoing quest for teaching excellence in an increasingly technological society the information presented in this volume addresses how to effectively implement teaching technologies across disciplinary boundaries The scholarly dimensions of belief inquiry argument and reflection in information systems are presented with attention to educational theories of metacognition technology literacy and community informatics Training for e business and public agency work are discussed to better equip instructors for the distinctive information needs of these sectors Community Informatics Dave Eagle, Barry Hague, Leigh Keeble, Brian D. Loader, 2005-06-29 Community groups social support networks voluntary agencies and government organisations are all actively exploring the potential of the new information and communication technologies to bring about democratic development and renewal A rich variety of social experiments in what has become known as Community Informatics is now beginning to provide useful research findings and exciting examples of innovative applications This book sets down some of the defining features of a Community Informatics approach and some of the common themes which are emerging In particular it considers the following issues sustainability employment community management public service provision partnerships of stakeholders local learning social support and networks This edited collection brings together leading exponents of Community Informatics from around the world and critically evaluates their experiences Encyclopedia of Developing Regional Communities with Information and Communication Technology Marshall, Stewart, Taylor, Wal, Yu, Xinghuo, 2005-06-30 This encyclopedia provides a thorough examination of concepts technologies policies training and applications of ICT in support of economic and regional developments around the globe Provided by publisher What is Community Informatics (and why Does it Matter)?

Michael Gurstein, 2007 Community Informatics CI is the application of information and communications technologies ICTs to enable community processes and the achievement of community objectives CI goes beyond the Digital Divide to making ICT access usable and useful to excluded populations and communities for local economic development social justice and political empowerment CI approaches ICTs from a community perspective and develops strategies and techniques for managing their use by communities both virtual and physical including the variety of Community Networking applications CI assumes that both communities have characteristics requirements and opportunities that require different strategies for ICT intervention and development from individual access and use Also CI addresses ICT use in Developing Countries as well as among the poor the marginalized the elderly or those living in remote locations in Developed Countries CI is of interest both to ICT practitioners and academic researchers and addresses the connections between the policy and pragmatic issues arising from the tens of thousands of Community Networks Community Technology Centres Telecentres Community Communications Centres and Telecottages globally along with the rapidly emerging field of electronically based virtual communities

Learning in Communities John M. Carroll, 2009-02-24 Most learning takes place in communities People continually learn through their participation with others in everyday activities Such learning is important in contemporary society because formal education cannot prepare people for a world that changes rapidly and continually We need to live in learning communities This volume gathers together all of the scholarly materials directly emanating from a workshop held in August 2005 when a multidisciplinary group of scholars met at Penn State's College of Information Sciences and Technology to discuss learning in communities Initially a sectioned report on the workshop was published as a special section in the Journal of Community Informatics in 2006 Subsequently a special issue of 5 full papers was published in the Journal of Computer Supported Cooperative Work and a special section of 2 full papers was published in the International Journal of Computer Supported Collaborative Learning

Information Communication Technologies: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Van Slyke, Craig, 2008-04-30 The rapid development of information communication technologies ICTs is having a profound impact across numerous aspects of social economic and cultural activity worldwide and keeping pace with the associated effects implications opportunities and pitfalls has been challenging to researchers in diverse realms ranging from education to competitive intelligence

Internet and Society in Latin America and the Caribbean International Development Research Centre (Canada), 2004 This book presents pioneering research that is designed to show from a qualitative and ethnographic perspective how new information and communication technologies as applied to the school system and to local governance initiatives merely reproduce traditional pedagogical approaches and the dominant forms by which power is exercised at the local level The studies thus constitute points of departure for further thinking about the need to promote an Internet culture based on the social application of a OC right to communication and culture OCO and an OC Internet right OCO that will permit the establishment of true citizen participation and free access to knowledge with due regard to personal and individual rights such as those of privacy and intimacy
