

Programming Labs

PART A: Java Fundamentals OOPs in Java

1. Program to assign two integer values to X and Y. Using the 'if' statement the output of the program should display a message whether X is greater than Y.
2. Program to find the factorial of the numbers 1 to 10. To calculate the factorial value, use while loops. (Hint: Fact of 4 =  $4 \times 3 \times 2 \times 1$ )
3. Program to add two integers and two float numbers. When no arguments are supplied, give a default value to calculate the sum. Use function overloading.
4. Program to perform mathematical operations. Create a class called AddSub with methods to add and subtract. Create another class called MulDiv that extends from AddSub class to use the member data of the super class. MulDiv should have methods to multiply and divide. A main function should access the methods and perform the mathematical operations.
5. Program with class variable that is available for all instances of a class. Use static variable declaration. Observe the changes that occur in the object's member variable values.
6. Program
  - a. To find the area and circumference of the circle by accepting the radius from the user.
  - b. To accept a number and find whether the number is Prime or not.
7. Program to create a student class with following attributes; Enrollment No, Name, Mark of sub1, Mark of sub2, mark of sub3, Total Marks. Total of the three marks must be calculated only when the student passes in all three subjects. The pass mark for each subject is 50. If a candidate fails in any one of the subjects his total mark must be declared as zero. Using this condition write a constructor for this class. Write separate functions for accepting and displaying student details. In the main method create an array of three student objects and display the details.
8. In a college first year class are having the following attributes Name of the class (BCA, BCom, BSc), Name of the staff No. of the students in the class, Array of students in the class.
