DIV If colonial America was the melting pot of modernity it was because it was also a fabulous laboratory of images Just as much as speech and writing the image can be a vehicle for all sorts of power and resistance So writes Serge Gruzinski in the introduction to Images at War his striking reinterpretation of the Spanish colonization of Mexico Concentrating on the political meaning of the baroque image and its function within a multicultural society Gruzinski compares its ubiquity in Mexico to our modern fascination with images and their meaning Although the baroque image played a decisive role in many arenas especially that of conquest and New World colonization its powerful resonance in the sphere of religion is a focal point of Gruzinski's study In his analysis of how images conveyed meaning across linguistic barriers he uncovers recurring themes of false images less than perfect replicas the uprooting of peoples and cultural memories and the violence of iconoclastic destruction He shows how various ethnic groups Indians blacks Europeans left their distinct marks on images of colonialism and religion coopting them into expressions of identity or instruments of rebellion As Gruzinski's story unfolds he tells of Aztec idols the cult of the Virgin of Guadalupe conquistadors Franciscans and neoclassical attempts to repress the baroque In the final chapter he discusses the political and religious implications of contemporary imagery such as that in Mexican soap operas and speculates about the future of images in Latin America Originally written in French this work makes available to an English audience a seminal study of Mexico and the role of the image in the New World div

Images of Miraculous Healing in the Early Modern Netherlands Barbara A. Kaminska,2021-11-08 Images of Miraculous Healing in the Early Modern Netherlands explores the ways in which paintings and prints of biblical miracles shaped viewers approaches to physical and sensory impairments and bolstered their belief in supernatural healing and charitable behavior Drawing upon a vast range of sources Barbara Kaminska demonstrates that visual imagery held a central place in premodern disability discourses and that the exegesis of New Testament miracle stories determined key attitudes toward the sick and the poor Addressed to middle class collectors many of the images analyzed in this study have hitherto been neglected by art historians Link to book presentation <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=79jHEmTOKnU> Paintings and the Past Ivan Gaskell, 2019-05-13 This book is an exploration of how art specifically paintings in the European manner can be mobilized to make knowledge claims about the past No type of human made tangible thing makes more complex and bewildering demands in this respect than paintings Ivan Gaskell argues that the search for pictorial meaning in paintings yields limited results and should be replaced by attempts to define the point of such things which is cumulative and ever subject to change He shows that while it is not possible to define what art is other than being an open kind it is possible to define what a painting is as a species of drawing regardless of whether that painting is an artwork or not at any given time The book demonstrates that things can be artworks on some occasions but not necessarily on others though it is easier for a thing to acquire artwork status than to lose it That is the movement of a thing into and out of the artworld is not symmetrical All such considerations are properly matters not of ontology what is and what is not an artwork but of use that is how a thing might or might not function as an artwork under any given circumstances These considerations necessarily affect the approach to paintings that at any given time might be able to function as an artwork or might not be able to function as such Only by taking these factors into account can anyone make viable knowledge about the past This lively discussion ranges over innumerable examples of paintings from Rembrandt to Rothko as well as plenty of far less familiar material from contemporary Catholic devotional works to the Chinese avant garde Its aim is to enhance philosophical acuity in respect of the analysis of paintings and to increase their amenability to philosophically satisfying historical use Paintings and the Past is a must read for all advanced students and scholars concerned with philosophy of art aesthetics historical method and art history God Listens Lorene Hanley Duquin, 2017-11-10 Can you hear me God Sometimes we feel close to God in prayer Sometimes we feel like he s very distant But one promise we have from the Lord is that he always listens In God Listens you ll find real life stories of answered prayer Author Lorene Hanley Duquin shares stories she has collected from real people people praying for physical healing people praying for wisdom in making an important life decision people in need of spiritual healing and many more Each chapter focuses on different forms of prayer and includes practical ideas for using them in your own life God Listens and responds sometimes just the way we want and sometimes in unexpected ways but always with deep and abiding love for us Beholding Violence in Medieval and Early Modern Europe Allie Terry-Fritsch, 2017-07-05 Interested in the ways in which medieval and early modern communities have acted as participants observers and interpreters of events and how they ascribed meaning to them the essays in this interdisciplinary collection explore the concept of beholding and the experiences of individual and collective beholders of violence during the period Addressing a range of medieval and early modern art forms including visual images material objects literary texts and performances the contributors examine the complexities of viewing and the production of knowledge within cultural political and theological contexts In considering new methods to examine the process of beholding violence and the beholder's perspective this volume addresses such questions as How does the process of beholding function in different aesthetic conditions Can we speak of such a thing as the period eye or an acculturated gaze of the viewer If so does this particularize the gaze or does it risk universalizing perception How do violence and pleasure intersect within the visual and literary arts How can an understanding of violence in cultural representation serve as means of knowing the past and as means of understanding and potentially altering the present
