Pearce, 1978 The Mass Media Neal Bernard, Tom Modl, 1988 Discusses the media and politics government regulation of the media advertising and more Mass Media Unleashed Carl R. Ramey, 2007 Everyone complains about mass media but only the FCC and Congress are expressly empowered to do something about it and that's why America deserves better from its media policymakers Mass Media Unleashed touches on the key issues stirring the current debate over mass media policy such as consolidation the steady dismantling of regulatory standards the roles mass media must play but increasingly fail to perform in today's helter skelter world and the vastly different ways these media are now delivered to and used by busy on the go Americans Carl Ramey a long time Washington communications lawyer has observed the policymaking process up close and personal for thirty years Warning that time is running out for taking actions that will make a real difference Ramey shines a critical light on the massive transformation of government policy that has taken place since 1980 and has led to vast changes in today's electronic media more consolidation less public service and everything ruled by the bottom line Before the game is over Washington policymakers must step to the plate and hit a home run for America scrapping the old regulatory system and writing an entirely new policy script that for the first time is specifically designed to guarantee a broadcast service that is free local and dedicated to serving Americans as citizens not just as consumers This provocative read is a must for everyone concerned about mass media's responsibilities and the policies that shape them Christianity and the Mass Media in America Quentin J. Schultze, 2003-10-31 The mass media and religious groups in America regularly argue about news bias sex and violence on television movie censorship broadcast and film content rating systems and government regulation of the media This work shows how religion and media in America have borrowed each other's rhetoric Images of West Indian Immigrants in Mass Media Christine M. Du Bois, 2004 Du Bois explores mass media's unflattering images of black Caribbean immigrants Drawing on the extended case study in the Chesapeake region she highlights media ethics in relation to minorities Analyses of journalism advertisements TV and film reveal ways these immigrants were unfairly depicted during the 1980s and 1990s and how relationships among law enforcers journalists criminals and Hollywood writers shaped media representations Du Bois also details the West Indians response She places their concerns in the context of an America where dark skinned immigrants can be subjected to racism and xenophobia particularly when members of their community commit crimes Her findings are relevant to the current struggle to balance journalism about terrorists with a desire to treat all Americans fairly
