An Introduction to Feminist Therapy by Evans Kinkade and Seem focuses on the practical application of feminist theory to clinical experience. Postmodern Perspectives on Contemporary Counseling Issues Mark Scholl, James Hansen, 2018-04-05. Postmodernism is one of the most revolutionary and transformative ideological movements to emerge in the history of counseling and psychotherapy. However, descriptions of postmodernism are often abstract and philosophical, thereby making it difficult for practitioners to discern concrete ways that the ideology might enrich their ability to help clients. In Postmodern Perspectives on Contemporary Counseling Issues, contributions from expert scholars and practitioners clearly detail the implications of postmodern ideology for counseling practice. Contemporary issues such as trauma, addiction, social justice, advocacy, couples counseling and education are conceptualized within a postmodern context and creative treatment options are illustrated with numerous case examples. Although the broad conceptual details of postmodernism are reviewed, the primary focus of this text is on innovative ways to help clients with solution focused narrative and other postmodern approaches. The rich descriptions of the implementation of postmodern approaches and techniques make it an invaluable training tool for supervisors and counselor educators. The book is also ideal for counselors, psychotherapists and other helping professionals who would like to bolster and enliven their practice with cutting edge methods, tools and techniques derived from postmodern ideology.

The Therapeutic Relationship in Psychotherapy Practice Charles J. Gelso, 2018-08-29. The Therapeutic Relationship in Psychotherapy Practice: An Integrative Perspective explores the key components of the patient-therapist relationship in psychotherapy as well as how these elements affect the treatment process and outcomes and what therapists may do to enhance the relationship. Dr. Gelso posits a tripartite model in which the therapeutic relationship is seen as being composed of three interlocking elements: a real or personal relationship, a working alliance and a transference-countertransference configuration that exist in each and every therapeutic relationship. Focusing on what psychotherapists can do to foster strong and facilitative relationships with their patients, the book includes substantial material drawn from clinical practice with an ever present eye on research findings.

Empathy in Counseling and Psychotherapy Arthur J.

Clark, 2014-01-14 The purpose of this text is to organize the voluminous material on empathy in a coherent and practical manner filling a gap that exists in the current therapeutic literature. Empathy in Counseling and Psychotherapy: Perspectives and Practices comprehensively examines the function of empathy as it introduces students and practitioners to the potential effectiveness of utilizing empathic understanding in the treatment process. Employing empathy with full recognition of its strengths and limitations promotes sound strategies for enhancing client development. As an integral component of the therapeutic relationship, empathic understanding is indispensable for engaging clients from diverse backgrounds. This cogent work focuses on understanding empathy from a wide range of theoretical perspectives and developing interventions for effectively employing the construct across the course of treatment. The book also presents a new approach for integrating empathy through a Multiple Perspective Model in the therapeutic endeavor. Organized into three sections, the text addresses empathy in the following capacities: historical and contemporary perspectives and practices in counseling and psychotherapy; theoretical orientations in counseling and psychotherapy; and a Multiple Perspective Model in counseling and psychotherapy. This widely appealing volume is designed for use in courses in counseling and therapy techniques, theories of counseling and psychotherapy, and the counseling internship, and is a valuable resource for counselors, psychotherapists, psychologists, psychiatrists, social workers, and other related fields of inquiry in the human services.
