Energy Security Cooperation In Northeast Asia Routledge Explorations In Environmental Studies:

Energy Security Cooperation in Northeast Asia Bo Kong, Jae H. Ku, 2015 Energy Security Cooperation in Northeast Asia Bo Kong, Jae Ku, 2015-04-24 Drawing on cutting edge research from leading scholars this book investigates state preferences for regime creation and assesses state capacity for executing these preferences in Northeast Asia's energy domain defined as the geographical area comprising the following countries Russia Mongolia China Japan South Korea and North Korea It examines questions pertaining to how states perceive the need and necessity for establishing a regime when it comes to the issue of energy and how much commitment they make to the effort in Northeast Asia The book analyses the factors that shape each country's fundamental energy interests in the region how these interests impact their attitudes toward engaging the region on energy security and the way they carry out their regional engagement Based on countries' interests in promoting institutionalized regional energy cooperation and their capacity for forging that cooperation the collection assesses each state's role in contributing to an energy regime in Northeast Asia It then concludes with a critique on the decade plus quest for energy security cooperation in Northeast Asia and suggests ways forward for facilitating regional energy security cooperation This book will be of great interest to scholars and students of environmental policy energy policy security studies Asian studies and international relations The Theoretical and Practical Dimensions of Regionalism in East Asia Karolina Klecha-Tylec, 2016-11-29 This book provides a comprehensive overview of developments in East Asian regionalism combining qualitative evidence with empirical quantitative analysis It argues that two dominant processes have formed East Asian regionalism 1 regionalization and 2 inter regionalism Klecha Tylec examines the differences between traditional and new regionalisms as they apply to East Asia the differences between East Asian and European regionalism the role of the United States in shaping regional links and the evolution of the three key structures of ASEAN ASEAN 3 and Asia Summits The book is unique for examining together the network zonal and geospatial dimensions of relations in East Asia as they apply at micro regional sub regional macro regional trans regional and inter regional levels The book offers a detailed analysis of intra regional links and the hybrid relationships between micro regions and nation states The Governance of Sustainable Rural Renewal Rory Shand, 2016-06-10 This book examines examples of rural regeneration projects through the public administration lens analysing how governance arrangements in rural settings work In particular the author focusses on the role of communities business and tiers of governance local regional national and supra national in terms of delivery and funding By drawing on a range of case studies from the UK US Australia and South Africa the book identifies best practice in governance applicable to both academic conceptual debates and to practitioners engaged in real world governance of regeneration While there are substantial political science sociology and geography debates within the existing academic literature around food security fair trade urban rural divides and supply chains little has been written on the way in which governance in comparative global case study settings operates in achieving or underpinning rural renewal programmes Through the inclusion of dedicated sections in each chapter summarising both the links between academic debate and practice this book will be of great interest to researchers and policy makers in the field of rural development and environmental politics and governance in general Disasters and Social Resilience Helen Boon, Alison Cottrell, David King, 2016-05-20 The interconnectedness of communities organisations governing bodies policy and individuals in the field of disaster studies has never been accurately examined or comprehensively modelled This kind of study is vital for planning policy and emergency responses and assessing individual and community vulnerability resilience and sustainability as well as mitigation and adaptation to climate change impacts it therefore deserves attention Disasters and Social Resilience fills this gap by introducing to the field of disaster studies a fresh methodology and a model for examining and measuring impacts and responses to disasters Urie Bronfenbrenner s bioecological systems theory which is used to look at communities holistically is outlined and illustrated through a series of chapters guiding the reader from the theory s underpinnings through research illustrations and applications focused on each level of Bronfenbrenner s ecosystems culminating in an integration chapter The final chapter provides policy recommendations for local and national government bodies and emergency providers to help individuals and communities prepare and withstand the effects of a range of disasters This book will be of great interest to scholars and students of disaster and emergency management disaster readiness and risk reduction DRR and to scholars and students of more general climate change and sustainability studies

Disaster Risk Reduction for Economic Growth and Livelihood Ian Davis, Kae Yanagisawa, Kristalina Georgieva, 2015-05-22 The prevalence of natural disasters in recent years has highlighted the importance of preparing adequately for disasters and dealing efficiently with their consequences This book addresses how countries can enhance their resilience against natural disasters and move towards economic growth and sustainable development Covering a wide range of issues it shows how well thought out measures can be applied to minimize the impacts of disasters in a variety of situations Starting with the need for coping with a rapidly changing global environment the book goes on to demonstrate ways to strengthen awareness of the effectiveness of preventive measures including in the reconstruction phase The book also covers the roles played by different actors as well as tools and technologies for improved disaster risk reduction It focuses on a variety of case studies from across Asia Africa and Latin America drawing out lessons that can be applied internationally This book will be of great interest to professionals in disaster management including national governments donors communities citizens NGOs and private sector It will also be a highly valuable resource for students and researchers in disaster management and policy development studies and economics Peace and Security in Northeast Asia Peter Hayes, Young Whan Kihl, 2016-09-16 This work provides an analysis of North Korea s nuclear controversy from a variety of perspectives including nuclear reactor technology and technology transfer economic sanctions and incentives confidence building measures environmental challenges and the views of Korea and the major powers East Asian Regionalism

Christopher M. Dent, 2016-06-02 East Asia is one of the world's most dynamic and diverse regions and is also becoming an increasingly coherent region through the interplay of various integrative economic, political and socio-cultural processes. Fully updated and revised throughout, this new edition explores the various ways in which East Asian regionalism continues to deepen. The second edition has been expanded to incorporate coverage of significant issues that have emerged in recent years, including: Growing tensions in the region over maritime territory and historical issues; Competing regional free trade agreement negotiations; The impact of the global financial crisis on financial co-operation and engagement with global governance; Obama's pivot to Asia and developments in US relations with East Asia; The influence of new technology and social media on micro-level regional relations; The growing importance of new diplomacy issues such as energy security, climate change, food security and international migration. Key pedagogical features include end-of-chapter study questions, case studies that discuss topical issues with study questions, also provided useful tables and figures which illustrate key regional trends in East Asia. Extensive summary conclusions covering the chapter's main findings from different international political economy perspectives. East Asian Regionalism is an essential text for courses on East Asian regionalism, Asian politics and Asian economics.

Jagannath P. Panda, 2020-03-03 This book assesses the strategic linkages that the Korean Peninsula shares with the Indo-Pacific and provides a succinct picture of issues which will shape the trajectory of the Korean Peninsula in the future. This book analyses how critical actors such as the United States, China, Russia and Japan are caught in a tightly balanced power struggle affecting the Korean Peninsula. It shows how these countries are exerting control over the Korean Peninsula while also holding on to their status as critical actors in the broader Indo-Pacific. The prospects of peace, stability and unity in the Korean Peninsula and the impact of this on Indo-Pacific power politics are explored as well as the contending and competing interests in the region. Chapters present country-specific positions and approaches as case studies and review the impact of power politics on stakeholders' relationships in the Indo-Pacific. The book also argues that the Korean Peninsula and the issue of denuclearization is of primary importance to any direction an Indo-Pacific Partnership may take. Bringing together scholars, journalists and ex-diplomats, this book will be of interest to academics working in the field of international relations, foreign policy, security studies and Asian studies as well as audiences interested.

Constantinos Yiallourides, 2019-05-20 The settlement of the maritime boundary disputes between China and Japan in the East China Sea and between Greece and Turkey in the Aegean Sea is politically deadlocked. While diplomatic settlement efforts have been ongoing for the past several decades, neither side in each case appears prepared to back down from its respective maritime and territorial claims. Several incidents at sea have occurred, prompting diplomatic protests, military standoffs, even exchange of fire. The existing status quo is inherently unstable and does not favour either side to the extent that it holds hostage the multiple benefits that could otherwise be generated from the exploitation of the seabed energy and mineral resources in the disputed waters creating an urgent need for a meaningful discussion on finding a practical way forward This monograph undertakes a comprehensive analysis of these disputes based on the rules and principles of international law critically evaluating possible institutional designs of inter State cooperation over seabed activities in disputed maritime areas and makes recommendations for the prospect of realising joint development regimes in the East China Sea and the Aegean to coordinate the exploration for and exploitation of resources without having resorted previously to boundary delimitation settlement Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1971 Encyclopedia of the United Nations and International Agreements: T to Z Edmund Jan Osmańczyk,2003 This thoroughly revised and updated edition is the most comprehensive and detailed reference ever published on United Nations The book demystifies the complex workings of the world's most important and influential international body Energy Security in Asia and Eurasia Mike M. Mochizuki,Deepa M.

Ollapally,2016-12-01 Many states appear to have strong sentiment on energy security and energy transit vulnerability Some analysts see the rapidly increasing demand for energy and competition for energy resources leading to nationalistic energy policies Others argue that global trends with efficient energy markets and growing options on renewables suggest more relaxed energy outlooks This book focuses on Asia where global demand for energy is now concentrated in the aspiring and rising powers of the region China India Japan and South Korea and also recognises the importance of Russia as a growing energy supplier Contributions by experts in the field provide detailed and parallel case studies Shedding light on the ongoing debate in the literature regarding energy outlooks of major Asian states they analyse whether energy policies are expected to evolve along market oriented cooperative lines or more competitive and even destructive mercantile nationalist lines The book argues that states are not unitary actors even in the key energy security arena and there are competing and contrasting viewpoints in Asian states on energy security It suggests that domestic debates structure thinking on energy security making energy policy more contingent than assumed by purely market or geopolitical logics Providing a strong contribution to comparative energy security studies the book fills an important gap in the literature on energy and national security and offers a basis for conducting further inter state interactive analysis It will be of interest to researchers on Asian Studies energy politics and international relations The Environmental Dimension of Asian Security In-t'aek Hyŏn,Miranda Alice Schreurs,2007 Northeast Asia is a region with highly disparate levels of industrialization and political systems It also contains some very troubling security flashpoints the Taiwan Strait the Korean Peninsula and the East China Sea China's rapacious quest for energy and rapid industrial expansion have led to intense international competition with Japan and the United States and internal instability as well North Korea poses two distinct environmental security threats famine refugees and the regime's use of nuclear blackmail for subsidized energy Yet there is very little regional cooperation despite the need to manage disputes over energy natural resources and pervasive pollution The Environmental Dimension of Asian Security examines these issues through a regional environmental security complex that explores the potential for greater intersubjective understandings of regional environmental and natural resource problems and greater institutional collaboration and management Ecological Security in Northeast Asia Miranda Alice Schreurs, Dennis Pirages, 1998

The Chinese Shadow on India's Eastward Engagement Sanjay K. Bhardwaj, 2021-07-12 India one of the largest importers of oil in the world has been diversifying its energy resource options and moving towards greater energy security This book analyses India's potential for building energy ties in the Asia Pacific considering the global and regional power politics Facing China's growing influence in Asia India's eastward engagement with its extended neighbours has been entrenched in its Act East Policy and institutional commitments towards Southeast Asia This volume focuses on diverse facets of energy security beyond the traditional understanding of demand and supply and price and stability It examines India's energy sector its dependence on hydrocarbons and the push towards renewable and alternate energy resources It further looks at the strategic importance of the Indian Ocean and South China Sea regions in geopolitical negotiations from an energy perspective and how China's influence in the region will affect India's moves towards greater energy cooperation with the countries of East Asia With contributions by leading experts the volume seeks to fill a major void in this theme and cater to the needs of a variety of audiences including academics policymakers and experts in international relations geopolitics and geoeconomics and professionals in the field of energy studies Perspectives on Energy and Environmental

Cooperation in Northeast Asia Nyum Jin, 1995 Managing Regional Energy Vulnerabilities in East Asia Daojiong Zha, 2013-08-29 This book examines East Asia's inter state collaborative energy projects to address energy vulnerability It focuses on projects that have demonstrated effectiveness in addressing vulnerabilities faced by the ten states of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations and China Japan and South Korea in Northeast Asia Including case studies on uncertainties in external sources of oil and gas supply maritime piracy continuation of energy poverty and geographical barriers to cross border electricity interconnection expert contributors highlight how collaborative energy projects have been more successful than the traditional state rivalry in energy related issues The book develops the framework of energy vulnerability avoiding usual securitization approaches instead examining non traditional security conceptualizations in studying energy policies to examine how issue specific cooperation efforts between states arise and develop Using East Asia as a starting point contributors introduce a framework that advances the study of international energy cooperation Managing Regional Energy Vulnerabilities in East Asia will be of interest to students and scholars of Asian studies sociology development studies and international political economy particularly the political economy of East Asia energy and development studies regional and global governance of energy and the environmental economics Energy, Environment and Security in Northeast Asia Nautilus Institute for Security and Sustainable Development, Center for Global Communications, 2000 Energy and Security in Northeast Asia Michael Stankiewicz, 1998
