Engaging Anthropological Theory A Social And Political History By Moberg Mark 2012 Paperback:

Engaging Anthropological Theory Mark Moberg, 2019 This updated second edition of Mark Moberg's lively book offers a fresh look at the history of anthropological theory. Covering key concepts and theorists, Engaging Anthropological Theory examines the historical context of anthropological ideas and the contested nature of anthropology itself. Anthropological ideas regarding human diversity have always been rooted in the sociopolitical conditions in which they arose and exploring them in context helps students understand how and why they evolved and how theory relates to life and society. Illustrated throughout, this engaging text moves away from the dry recitation of past viewpoints in anthropology and brings the subject matter to life.

Engaging Anthropological Theory Mark Moberg, 2024-09-30 The updated third edition of this book critically reconsiders the history of anthropological theory. Covering key concepts and theorists in a lively style, Engaging Anthropological Theory examines the historical context of anthropological ideas and the contested nature of anthropology itself. The book illustrates how anthropological ideas about human diversity are rooted in historical conditions, including the West's relationship with colonized societies and the politics of scholarly inquiry itself. Exploring anthropological ideas in context helps students understand how they evolved and how they relate to society and history. This new edition pays close attention to non-canonical figures and scholars of color whose contributions are too often bypassed in disciplinary histories. Students and instructors will also appreciate the open-ended review questions for each chapter that stimulate critical thought and discussion. Extensively illustrated throughout, this engaging text moves away from the dry recitation of past viewpoints in anthropology and shows their continued relevance to modern life.

Globalization from Below Gordon Mathews, Gustavo Lins Ribeiro, Carlos Alba Vega, 2012-08-21 This book explores globalization as actually experienced by most of the world's people buying goods from street vendors brought by traders moving past borders and across continents under the radar of the law. The dimensions and practices of globalization from below are depicted and analyzed in detail by a team of international scholars. Topics covered include the New Silk Road, African traders in China, street hawking in Calcutta, and pirate CDs in Mexico. The chapters provide intimate portrayals of routes, markets, and people in locations across the globe and explore theories that can help make sense of these complex and fascinating case studies. Students of globalization, economic anthropology, and developing world economics will find the book invaluable.

A Research Agenda for Economic Anthropology James G. Carrier, 2019 The financial crisis and its economic and political aftermath have changed the ways that many anthropologists approach economic activities, institutions, and systems. This insightful volume presents important elements of this change. With topics ranging from the relationship of states and markets to the ways that anthropologists' political preferences and assumptions harm their work, the book presents cogent statements by younger and established scholars of how existing research areas can be extended and the new avenues that ought to be pursued.

History and International Relations Martin Wight, 2023-06-18 History and International Relations collects works by the late Professor

Martin Wight 1913 1972 an historian and scholar of international relations Wight conducted research on many topics including British colonial history European studies international institutions and the history of states systems and is nonetheless best known for his lectures about the political philosophy of international relations at the London School of Economics 1949 1961 and the University of Sussex 1961 1972 He is widely regarded as an intellectual ancestor and pathbreaker of the English School of international relations even though this term only gained currency nine years after his death The English School is usually construed as signifying an approach to the study of international relations more rooted in historical and humanistic learning than in the social sciences This volume encompasses works in four categories a standards of excellence in scholarship about history and international relations b European integration efforts since 1945 c British policy in the Middle East notably in relation to the 1956 Suez crisis and d European politics in the interwar period leading up to 1939 This last category features four chapters by Wight from the noteworthy Chatham House collection sponsored by the Royal Institute of International Affairs The World in March 1939 These chapters on Germany and Eastern Europe stand out as exceptionally thorough and discerning owing in part to their reliance on a wealth of primary and secondary sources This collection also includes Wight's reviews of works by Geoffrey Barraclough Marc Bloch Herbert Butterfield R G Collingwood Denis Mack Smith Sir Lewis Namier A J P Taylor Arnold J Toynbee Veronica Wedgwood and other historians
