Calender Dates 2015 With Hijra Dates:

Channeling Moroccanness Becky L. Schulthies, 2020-12-01 Honorable Mention 2022 L Carl Brown AIMS Book Prize in North African Studies What does it mean to connect as a people through mass media This book approaches that question by exploring how Moroccans engage communicative failure as they seek to shape social and political relations in urban Fez Over the last decade laments of language and media failure in Fez have focused not just on social relations that used to be and have been lost but also on what ought to be and had yet to be realized Such laments have transpired in a range of communication channels from objects such as devotional prayer beads and remote controls to interactional forms such as storytelling dress styles and orthography to media platforms like television news religious stations or WhatsApp group chats Channeling Moroccanness examines these laments as ways of speaking that created Moroccanness the feeling of participating in the ongoing formations of Moroccan relationality Rather than furthering the discourse about Morocco s conflict between liberal secularists and religious conservatives this ethnography shows the subtle range of ideologies and practices evoked in Fassi homes to calibrate Moroccan sociality and political consciousness

This book seeks to offer an interpretation of how terrorism has become a tool of Muslim radicals and why it is completely at odds with the teaching of Islam. It claims that terrorism has nothing to do with Islam as a religion but the evolution of Muslims especially in the past one thousand years has created an environment in which fanaticism, radicalism and violence can flourish. Supported by double standards by Western powers and active backing for corrupt governments and groups, Islamic terrorism came into being. It presents an overview of how Islamic thought in many parts of the Muslim world has become rigid and frozen and grounds for hoping that change in that thought may come from a perhaps surprising place. It suggests the role that both Muslim and Western societies have played and will continue to play in contributing to reforming Islam. Our purpose is not to provide a thorough proof of our ideas but to spark discussion and dialogue both in Muslim and non-Muslim communities and ideally between the two as to how Islam can regain its world thought and civilization the honored place it had during the Golden Age of Islam.
