Claim No Easy Victory Firoze Manji, Bill Fletcher, Jr., 2024-02-06 An anthology of revolutionary poet-liberation philosopher Amílcar Cabral brings to life the contemporary resonance of his thought for today's freedom movements. 2023 marks the fiftieth anniversary of the assassination of Amílcar Cabral, world-renowned revolutionary poet-liberation philosopher and leader of the independence movement of Guinea-Bissau and Cape Verde. Cabral's influence stretched well beyond the shores of West Africa. He had a profound influence on the pan-Africanist movement and the Black liberation movement in the United States and the English-speaking world. In this unique collection of essays contemporary thinkers from across Africa, the United States, and internationally commemorate the anniversary of Cabral's assassination. They reflect on the legacy of this extraordinary individual and his relevance to contemporary struggles for self-determination and emancipation. The book serves both as an introduction or reintroduction to one that the rulers and beneficiaries of global racial capitalism would rather see forgotten. Understanding Cabral sheds light on the necessity of grounding radical change in the creation of theory based on the actual conditions within which a movement is attempting to develop. Cabral's theoretical ideas and revolutionary practice of building popular movements for liberation are assessed by each of the authors as critically relevant today. His well-known phrase "Claim no easy victories" resonates today no less than it did during his lifetime. Features contributions by Kali Akuno, Samir Amin, David Austin, Jesse Benjamin, Angela Davis, Bill Fletcher Jr, Mireille Fanon Mendelsohn, France Lewis, Gordon Firoze Manji, Asha Rodney, Patricia Rodney, and Olufemi T. O. Williams and others.

Amílcar Cabral António Tomás, 2022-05-01 On 20 January 1973 the Bissau-Guinean revolutionary Amílcar Cabral was killed by militants from his own party. Cabral had founded the PAIGC in 1960 to fight for the liberation of Portuguese Guinea and Cape Verde. The insurgents were Bissau-Guineans aiming to get rid of the Cape Verdeans who dominated the party elite. Despite Cabral's assassination, Portuguese Guinea became the independent Republic of Guinea Bissau The guerrilla war that Cabral had started and led precipitated a chain of events that would lead to the 1974 Carnation Revolution in Lisbon toppling the forty year old authoritarian regime This paved the way for the rest of Portugal s African colonies to achieve independence Written by a native of Angola this biography narrates Cabrals revolutionary trajectory from his early life in Portuguese Guinea to his death at the hands of his own men It details his quest for national sovereignty beleaguered by the ethnic based identity conflicts the national liberation movement struggled to overcome Through the life of Cabral Ant nio Tom s critically reflects on existing ways of thinking and writing about the independence of Lusophone Africa

Global Marxism Simin Fadaee,2024-09-10 A cutting edge exploration of how Marx s ideas have been adopted and adapted by revolutionary thinkers in the Global South For much of the twentieth century the ideas of Karl Marx provided the backbone for social justice around the world But today the legacy of Marxism is contested with some seeing it as Eurocentric and irrelevant to the wider global struggle In Global Marxism Simin Fadaee argues that Marxism remains a living tradition and the cornerstone of revolutionary theory and practice in the Global South She explores the lives ideas and legacies of a group of revolutionaries who played an exceptional role in contributing to counter hegemonic change Figures such as Ho Chi Minh Kwame Nkrumah Ali Shariati and Subcomandante Marcos did not simply accept the version of Marxism that was given to them they adapted it to local conditions and contexts In doing this they demonstrated that Marxism is not a rigid set of propositions but an evolving force whose transformative potential remains enormous This global Marxism has much to teach us in the never ending task of grasping the changing historical conditions of capitalism and the complex world in which we live

Politics of African Anticolonial Archive Shiera S. el-Malik,Isaac A. Kamola,2017-03-03 African political writing of the mid 20th century seeks to critically engage with questions of identity history and the state for the purpose of national and human liberation This volume collects an array of essays that reflect on anticolonialism in Africa broadly defined Each contribution connects the historical period with the anticolonial present through a critical examination of what constitutes the anticolonial archive The volume considers archive in a Derridean sense as always in the process of being constructed such that the assessment of the African anticolonial archive is one that involves a contemporary process of curating The essays in this volume as well as the volume itself enact different ways of curating material from this period The project reflects an approach to documents arguments and materials that can be considered international relations and world politics but in ways that that intentionally leaves them unhinged from these disciplinary meanings While we examine many of the same questions that have been asked within area studies African studies and International Relations we do so through an alternative archive In doing so we challenge the assumption that Africa is solely the domain of policy makers and area studies and African peoples as the objects of data

Racism After Apartheid Vishwas Satgar,2019-03-01 Racism after Apartheid volume four of the Democratic Marxism series brings together leading scholars and activists from around the world studying and challenging racism In eleven thematically rich and conceptually informed chapters the contributors interrogate the complex nexus of questions surrounding race and relations of oppression as they are played out in the global South and global North Their work challenges Marxism and anti racism to take these lived realities seriously and consistently struggle to build human solidarities Paulin Hountondji and the Science Question in Africa Zeyad el Nabolsy,2025-07-18 This book offers a systematic reconstruction of Paulin Hountondji s contributions to the debate about the place of modern science on the African continent The book shows that Hountondji develops an account of modern science that is sociologically sensitive to the entanglement between modern science and colonialism on the African continent without falling into epistemic relativism about the claims of modern science It is argued that Hountondji s views on modern science express a strong historical materialist influence and that he develops a theory of science that draws both on the Hessen Grossmann hypothesis and dependency theory Thus this book brings together two strands of historical materialist thought about science that have hitherto been isolated from one another This book is of interest to scholars who specialize in African philosophy history and philosophy of science global philosophy and African studies Africana Studies Grant Farred,2022-06-24 This book showcases new and expansive possibilities for Africana studies scholarship by collecting works across disciplines that push the boundaries of the discipline into topics both broader and more specific than traditionally approached in philosophy literature music political science and more perspective and the specific meaning it held for those envisioning a future South Africa For many members of the African National Congress and the South African Communist Party the Soviet Union represented a political system that had achieved political and economic justice through socialism a point of view that has since been lost with the collapse of the USSR and the end of the Cold War This new edition of A Soviet Journey the first since 1978 restores this vision to the historical record highlighting how activist intellectuals like La Guma looked to the Soviet Union as a paradigm of self determination decolonization and postcolonial development The introduction by Christopher J Lee discusses these elements of La Guma's text in addition to situating La Guma more broadly within the intercontinental spaces of the Black Atlantic and an emergent Third World Presenting a more expansive view of African literature and its global intellectual engagements A Soviet Journey will be of interest to readers of African fiction and non fiction South African history postcolonial Cold War studies and radical political thought

Political Instability in Guinea-Bissau Ricardo Real P. de Sousa, Jens Herpolsheimer, Jara Cuadrado, 2025-04-25 How can we make sense of the persistent political instability in Guinea Bissau a small country that has hosted extensive international interventions and made world news headlines over several decades This book tackles this question arguing for the need to understand politics in Guinea Bissau as intricately linked to and deeply embedded in transnational regional and trans regional dynamics Taking a multidimensional approach the book brings together international scholars who have studied politics in Guinea Bissau and Africa for many years at different levels and from diverse perspectives Together the contributors provide an up to date analysis of crucial actors and processes whilst also putting them in historical perspective The volume connects the study of politics in Guinea Bissau to a range of empirical phenomena and theoretical debates that have wider relevance far beyond its borders In this way it enables a better understanding of regional and international politics demonstrating how apparently marginal cases are not marginal at all but are actively entangled in broader multi dimensional politics With important new perspectives and insights both on Guinea Bissau and wider regional dynamics this book will be an important read for researchers and policy makers involved in African politics and security issues
