Civilizations Culture Ambition And The Transformation Of Nature:

Civilizations Felipe Fernandez-Armesto, 2001-09-14 In Civilizations Felipe Fernandez Armesto once again proves himself a brilliantly original historian capable of large minded and comprehensive works here he redefines the subject that has fascinated historians from Thucydides to Gibbon to Spengler to Fernand Braudel the nature of civilization To Fernandez Armesto a civilization is civilized in direct proportion to its distance its difference from the unmodified natural environment by its taming and warping of climate geography and ecology The same impersonal forces that put an ocean between Africa and India a river delta in Mesopotamia or a 2 000 mile long mountain range in South America have created the mold from which humanity has fashioned its own wildly differing cultures In a grand tradition that is certain to evoke comparisons to the great historical taxonomies each chapter of Civilizations connects the world of the ecologist and geographer to a panorama of cultural history In Civilizations the medieval poem Sir Gawain and the Green Knight is not merely a Christian allegory but a testament to the thousand year long deforestation of the trees that once covered 90 percent of the European mainland The Indian Ocean has served as the world's greatest trading highway for millennia not merely because of cultural imperatives but because the regular monsoon winds blow one way in the summer and the other in the winter In the words of the author Unlike previous attempts to write the comparative history of civilizations it is arranged environment by environment rather than period by period or society by society Thus seventeen distinct habitats serve as jumping off points for a series of brilliant set piece comparisons thus tundra civilizations from Ice Age Europe are linked with the Inuit of the Pacific Northwest and the Mississippi mound builders and the deforesters of eleventh century Europe are both understood as civilizations built on woodlands Here of course are the familiar riverine civilizations of Mesopotamia and China of the Indus and the Nile but also highland civilizations from the Inca to New Guinea island cultures from Minoan Crete to Polynesia to Renaissance Venice maritime civilizations of the Indian Ocean and South China Sea even the Bushmen of Southern Africa are seen through a lens provided by the desert civilizations of Chaco Canyon More here are fascinating stories brilliantly told of the voyages of Chinese admiral Chen Ho and Portuguese commodore Vasco da Gama of the Great Khan and the Great Zimbabwe Here are Hesiod's tract on maritime trade in the early Aegean and the most up to date genetics of seed crops Erudite wide ranging a work of dazzling scholarship written with extraordinary flair Civilizations is a remarkable achievement a tour de force by a brilliant scholar

Civilizations Felipe Fernández-Armesto, 2000 Civilizations is a radical cultural history of mankind's relationship with nature which advances a new understanding of what it means to be civilised Fernandez Armesto is the author of ten books including Millennium Truth and Columbus How the West Came to Rule Alexander Anievas, Kerem Nişancioğlu, 2015-06-20 Winner of International Studies Association ISA's International Political Sociology Best Book Prize for 2017 Winner of British International Studies Association BISA's International Political Economy Working Group Book Prize of 2016 Shortlisted for the ISA Book Prize Mainstream historical accounts of the development of capitalism describe a process which is fundamentally European a system that was born in the mills and factories of England or under the guillotines of the French Revolution In this groundbreaking book a very different story is told How the West Came to Rule offers a interdisciplinary and international historical account of the origins of capitalism It argues that contrary to the dominant wisdom capitalism s origins should not be understood as a development confined to the geographically and culturally sealed borders of Europe but the outcome of a wider array of global processes in which non European societies played a decisive role Through an outline of the uneven histories of Mongolian expansion New World discoveries Ottoman Habsburg rivalry the development of the Asian colonies and bourgeois revolutions Alexander Anievas and Kerem Nisancioglu provide an account of how these diverse events and processes came together to produce capitalism Medieval Islamic

Maps Karen C. Pinto,2016-11-01 Hundreds of exceptional cartographic images are scattered throughout medieval and early modern Arabic Persian and Turkish manuscript collections The plethora of copies created around the Islamic world over the course of eight centuries testifies to the enduring importance of these medieval visions for the Muslim cartographic imagination With Medieval Islamic Maps historian Karen C Pinto brings us the first in depth exploration of medieval Islamic cartography from the mid tenth to the nineteenth century Pinto focuses on the distinct tradition of maps known collectively as the Book of Roads and Kingdoms Kitab al Masalik wa al Mamalik or KMMS examining them from three distinct angles iconography context and patronage She untangles the history of the KMMS maps traces their inception and evolution and analyzes them to reveal the identities of their creators painters and patrons as well as the vivid realities of the social and physical world they depicted In doing so Pinto develops innovative techniques for approaching the visual record of Islamic history explores how medieval Muslims perceived themselves and their world and brings Middle Eastern maps into the forefront of the study of the history of cartography Domesticating the World Jeremy Prestholdt,2008-01-15 This book boldly unsettles the idea of globalization as a recent phenomenon and one driven solely by Western interests by offering a compelling new perspective on global interconnectivity in the nineteenth century Jeremy Prestholdt examines East African consumers changing desires for material goods from around the world in an era of sweeping social and economic change Exploring complex webs of local consumer demands that affected patterns of exchange and production as far away as India and the United States the book challenges presumptions that Africa s global relationships have always been dictated by outsiders Full of rich and often surprising vignettes that outline forgotten trajectories of global trade and consumption it powerfully demonstrates how contemporary globalization is foreshadowed in deep histories of intersecting and reciprocal relationships across vast distances Deep History Andrew Shryock,Daniel Lord Smail,2011 Combining cutting edge social and evolutionary theory with the latest discoveries about human genes brains and material culture this book invites scholars and general readers alike to explore the dynamic of connectedness that spans all of human history Introduction to

Against the Grain Richard Manning,2005-02-01 In this provocative wide ranging book Against the Grain Richard Manning offers a dramatically revisionist view of recent human evolution beginning with the vast increase in brain size that set us apart from our primate relatives and brought an accompanying increase in our need for nourishment For 290 000 years we managed to meet that need as hunter gatherers a state in which Manning believes we were at our most human at our smartest strongest most sensually alive But our reliance on food made a secure supply deeply attractive and eventually we embarked upon the agricultural experiment that has been the history of our past 10 000 years The evolutionary road is littered with failed experiments however and Manning suggests that agriculture as we have practiced it runs against both our grain and nature's Drawing on the work of anthropologists biologists archaeologists and philosophers along with his own travels he argues that not only our ecological ills overpopulation erosion pollution but our social and emotional malaise are rooted in the devil's bargain we made in our not so distant past And he offers personal achievable ways we might re contour the path we have taken to resurrect what is most sustainable and sustaining in our own nature and the planet's

Seascapes Jerry H. Bentley, Renate Bridenthal, Kären Wigen, 2007-04-30 Historians have only recently begun to chart the experiences of maritime regions in rich detail and penetrate the historical processes at work there Seascapes makes a major contribution to these efforts by bringing together original scholarship on historical issues arising from maritime regions around the world The essays presented here take a variety of approaches One group examines the material cultural and intellectual constructs that inform and explain historical experiences of maritime regions Another set discusses efforts some more successful than others to impose political and military control over maritime regions A third group focuses on issues of social history such as labor organization information flows and the development of political consciousness among subaltern populations The final essays deal with pirates and efforts to control them in Mediterranean Japanese and Atlantic waters

The Civilizing Machine Michael Matthews, 2020-02-17 In late nineteenth century Mexico the Mexican populace was fascinated with the country's booming railroad network Newspapers and periodicals were filled with art poetry literature and social commentaries exploring the symbolic power of the railroad As a symbol of economic political and industrial modernization the locomotive served to demarcate a nation's status in the world However the dangers of locomotive travel complicated by the fact that Mexico's railroads were foreign owned and operated meant that the railroad could also symbolize disorder death and foreign domination In The Civilizing Machine Michael Matthews explores the ideological and cultural milieu that shaped the Mexican people's understanding of technology Intrinsically tied to the Porfiriato the thirty five year dictatorship of Gen Porfirio Díaz the booming railroad network represented material progress in a country seeking its place in the modern world Matthews discloses how the railroad's development represented the crowning achievement of the regime and the material incarnation of its mantra order and progress The Porfirian administration evoked the railroad in legitimizing and justifying its own reign while political opponents employed the same rhetorical themes embodied by the railroads to challenge the manner in which that regime achieved economic development and modernization As Matthews illustrates the multiple symbols of the locomotive reflected deepening social divisions and foreshadowed the conflicts that eventually brought about the Mexican Revolution

Vast Expanses Helen M. Rozwadowski, 2018-10-15 Much of human experience can be distilled to saltwater tears sweat and an enduring connection to the sea In Vast Expanses Helen M Rozwadowski weaves a cultural environmental and geopolitical history of that relationship a journey of tides and titanic forces reaching around the globe and across geological and evolutionary time Our ancient connections with the sea have developed and multiplied through industrialization and globalization a trajectory that runs counter to Western depictions of the ocean as a place remote from and immune to human influence Rozwadowski argues that knowledge about the oceans created through work and play scientific investigation and also through human ambitions for profiting from the sea has played a central role in defining our relationship with this vast trackless and opaque place It has helped us to exploit marine resources control ocean space extend imperial or national power and attempt to refashion the sea into a more tractable arena for human activity But while deepening knowledge of the ocean has animated and strengthened connections between people and the world s seas to understand this history we must address questions of how by whom and why knowledge of the ocean was created and used and how we create and use this knowledge today Only then can we can forge a healthier relationship with our future sea

The Atlantic in Global History Jorge Cañizares-Esguerra,Erik R Seeman,2016-11-03 This reader composed of original essays by leading authors expands the category of the Atlantic chronologically spatially and methodologically It firmly places the Atlantic within global history and the coverage expands into the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The essays present events that formed the nations and cultures of the Atlantic region and show their global roots and how they intertwine with non Atlantic communities of the world

Millennial Ecuador Norman E Whitten,2003-12 In the past decade Ecuador has seen five indigenous uprisings the emergence of the powerful Pachakutik political movement and the strengthening of the Confederation of Indigenous Nationalities of Ecuador and the Association of Black Ecuadorians all of which have contributed substantially to a new constitution proclaiming the country to be multiethnic and multicultural Furthermore January 2003 saw the inauguration of a new populist president who immediately appointed two indigenous persons to his cabinet In this volume eleven critical essays plus a lengthy introduction and a timely epilogue explore the multicultural forces that have allowed Ecuador s indigenous peoples to have such dramatic effects on the nation s political structure

A History of the Global Economy Colin White,2018-11-30 Providing an exceptional overview and analysis of the global economy from the origins of Homo sapiens to the present day Colin White explores our past to help understand our economic future He veers away from traditional Eurocentric approaches providing a truly global scope for readers The main themes include the creative innovativeness of humans and how this generates economic progression the common economic pathway trodden by all societies and the complementary relationship between government and the market

Pathfinders Felipe Fernández-Armesto,2006 This book is about encounters between cultures and the outreach of ambitions imaginations efforts and innovations that made them possible

Wall and Mean Tom Bernard,2007 George Wilhelm gets his kicks from sex bond trading and gambling in this promising debut which mixes those volatile elements with Tarantino style violence In 1993 George a rookie Wall Street trader is trying to make his mark in the cutthroat emerging markets funds If the financial jargon Bernard uses is arcane the frenetic pace and high stakes maneuvers still emerge clearly

Environment and Climate Change in Asia Victor R. Savage,2012-12-11 This collection of essays on environment and climate change within Asia is written by faculty members to mark the celebration of the 10th Anniversary 2001 2011 of the National University of Singapore's Masters in Environmental Management MEM program These essays reflect the multi disciplinary and inter disciplinary pedagogical nature of the MEM program with academic contributions from the Arts Architecture Building and Real Estate Business Economics Law Medicine and Sciences as well as inputs from industry and non government organizations The papers provide a mix of field study research grounded conceptual distillations policy and applied eco developmental suggestions critical reviews of government programs and comparisons of local and global environment and climate change interventions This is a must read book for any academic researcher government official corporate decision maker and the informed public about the ecological impacts and outcomes social and economic implications and the political ramifications and state policy options in the defining 21st century of global climate change Read it to become an informed and active participant in environmental debates and dialogues The Atlantic World Thomas Benjamin, 2009-02-16 From 1400 to 1900 the Atlantic Ocean served as a major highway allowing people and goods to move easily between Europe Africa and the Americas These interactions and exchanges transformed European African and American societies and led to the creation of new peoples cultures economies and ideas throughout the Atlantic arena The Atlantic World provides a comprehensive and lucid history of one of the most important and impactful cross cultural encounters in human history Empires economies and trade in the Atlantic world thrived due to the European drive to expand as well as the creative ways in which the peoples living along the Atlantic's borders adapted to that drive This comprehensive cohesively written textbook offers a balanced view of the activity in the Atlantic world The 40 maps 60 illustrations and multiple excerpts from primary documents bring the history to life Each chapter offers a reading list for those interested in a more in depth look at the period Routledge Handbook of Landscape and Food Joshua Zeunert, Tim Waterman, 2018-02-02 Since the turn of the millennium there has been a burgeoning interest in and literature of both landscape studies and food studies Landscape describes places as relationships and processes Landscapes create people's identities and guide their actions and their preferences while at the same time are shaped by the actions and forces of people Food as currency medium and sustenance is a fundamental part of those landscape relationships This volume brings together over fifty contributors from around the world in forty profoundly interdisciplinary chapters Chapter authors represent an astonishing range of disciplines from agronomy anthropology archaeology conservation countryside management cultural studies ecology ethics geography heritage studies landscape architecture landscape management and planning literature urban design and architecture Both food studies and landscape studies defy comprehension from the perspective of a single discipline and thus such a range is both necessary and enriching The Routledge Handbook of Landscape and Food is intended as a first port of call for scholars and researchers seeking to undertake new work at the many intersections of landscape and food Each chapter provides an authoritative overview a broad range of pertinent readings and references and seeks to identify areas where new research is needed though these may also be identified in the many fertile areas in which subjects and chapters
