Dictionary Visions, Research and Practice Henrik Gottlieb, Jens Erik Mogensen, 2007-12-12 This book is about dictionaries and dictionary making. In six thematic sections it presents nineteen contributions covering a wide field within lexicography: Online Lexicography; Dictionary Structure; Phraseology in Dictionaries; LSP Lexicography; Dictionaries and the User; plus Etymology; History and Culture in Lexicography. Some chapters focus on theoretical aspects; others report on dictionary work in the making; and still others compare and analyze existing dictionaries. Common to all authors however is the concern for the dictionary user. Trivial as it may seem, the fact that dictionaries are meant to fulfill the needs of specific user groups has only recently achieved widespread recognition in the lexicographical literature. This volume shows the many ramifications of this functional approach to lexicography by presenting twenty-two authors representing the state of the art in eleven countries: Canada, Denmark, Germany, Great Britain, Iceland, Israel, Latvia, The Netherlands, Poland, South Africa, and Spain.

Education, 2000-04 Announcements Kristina Mendicino, 2020-01-01 A study of novelty through analyses of the language of announcement in revolutionary texts. Walter Benjamin claimed that the notion of novelty took on unprecedented importance with the growth of high capitalism in the nineteenth century In this book Kristina Mendicino analyzes a selection of canonical texts that reflect profound concern with novelty and its apparent contrary the eternal return of the same including Nietzsche's Thus Spoke Zarathustra Baudelaire's lyric and prose poetry and Marx and Engels's Communist Manifesto She also addresses Eternity by the Stars by Louis Auguste Blanqui who is less well known and often underestimated in considerations of his significance for revolutionary political theory Mendicino argues that the notion of a novum cannot be understood without attentiveness to the language of announcement not least of all because the new has always been associated with a particular mode of linguistic performance Through close readings of emphatically annunciatory texts she demonstrates how the extreme possibilities of expression that they present through specific citational and rhetorical praxes render the language of announcement overdetermined and anachronistic in ways that exceed any systematic account of historical time and experience This excess in and through language is precisely what opens hitherto unheard of alternatives for conceiving of historical temporality and political possibility Impressive in scope and philosophically sophisticated this erudite and elegantly written book is quite simply dazzling Mendicino successfully tears down many of the tired clichés that too often subtend discussions about novelty and modernism and makes persuasive arguments for her own novel claims about why the appeal to novelty matters so much In her capable hands the question of novelty becomes a lever with which she powerfully pries open familiar texts philosophical traditions and concepts and transforms those recognizable topoi into resources for thinking differently about historical time revolution capital wealth theory and practice Elissa Marder author of Dead Time Temporal Disorders in the Wake of Modernity Baudelaire and Flaubert
