Challenging Catholics A Catholic Evangelical Dialogue:

Challenging Catholics Dwight Longenecker, John Martin, 2001 Divisions within the Christian church are often misunderstood Between Catholics and evangelicals there are differences of interpretation and understanding over a wide range of doctrinal issues baptism communion good works and the authority of the Bible as against the traditions of the church As different denominations look for a greater degree of unity and discuss their points of agreement as well as their differences Challenging Catholics offers a meaningful contribution to the debate This book takes the form of a dialog between a Roman Catholic and an evangelical It will stimulate inform and challenge as it examines and explains Catholic beliefs from a biblical perspective      Pentecostals and Roman Catholics on Becoming a Christian Karen

Murphy, 2018-05-23 In Pentecostals and Roman Catholics on Becoming a Christian Dr Karen Murphy explores the fifth round of the International Roman Catholic Pentecostal Dialogue 1998 2006 Discussing Spirit baptism faith conversion experience and discipleship Dr Murphy notes areas in which the Dialogue has evolved since its inception in 1972 She unpacks the commonalities that bond Catholics and Pentecostals and examines theological divergences and challenges to dialogue While Catholics approach becoming a Christian from a sacramental perspective most Pentecostals think of Christian initiation in non sacramental or conversionist terms a reality that fosters ongoing tensions between the two traditions Dr Murphy reveals how Catholics and Pentecostals seek to overcome this dichotomy by honoring spirituality and experience as integral to the ecumenical encounter      Catholics and Evangelicals Thomas P. Rausch, 2000 A report on the new dialogue growing up between Catholics and Protestant evangelicals with an honest summary of issues that still divide them      Catholicism and Interreligious Dialogue James Heft, 2011-11-21 Each article is followed by a significant response from a member of the non Catholic faith community being addressed and by a response to the response by the author of the article      Theological Dialogue with Classical Pentecostals Jelle Creemers, 2015-09-24 The last two decades have witnessed the growing participation in theological dialogues of non institutional free church movements This poses a serious challenge to 21st century ecumenism since ecclesial realities and internal diversity of these movements impede fruitful dialogue in the classical manner The present volume addresses fundamental aspects of this challenge by a critical study of an exemplary case of such dialogues the International Roman Catholic Classical Pentecostal Dialogue 1972 2007 This unique study builds both on primary archival sources and on earlier research on the IRCCPD After providing an ecumenical profile of the Classical Pentecostal dialogue partner Creemers demonstrates how fair representation of the Classical Pentecostal movement has been pursued in the course of the dialogue Next he gives attention to the ecumenical method of the IRCCPD First the development of a dialogue method hinging on hard questions is traced which has allowed a balanced theological exchange between the dialogue partners Regarding theological method it is demonstrated that both partners showed a willingness to experiment together by integrating sources of theological knowledge typically distrusted in their own traditions In conclusion the analyses are integrated in an overview of challenges and opportunities for dialogue with the Classical Pentecostal movement in the context of ongoing discussions on ecumenical method Is the Reformation Over? Mark A. Noll, Carolyn Nystrom, 2008-04 An evangelical evaluation of post Vatican II Roman Catholicism and evangelical Catholic relations Pentecostalism, Catholicism, and the Spirit in the World Stan Chu Ilo, 2019-10-17 This volume's essays are an ecumenical ensemble of the best scholars and leading practitioners in the Pentecostal and Charismatic movements from all four corners of the world The contributors bring together various denominational perspectives and dialogue for understanding the present momentum of these Spirit movements in the world church Their diverse methodologies transverse the traditional and new approaches to studying these movements Pointing the way forward the authors highlight some of the lessons learned in their scholarly engagement with Spirit movements These lessons offer significant insight and viewpoints for the academy in the historical analysis of these movements They also serve as a good guide for pastoral discernment and accompaniment for God's people in their daily lives as well as for social ministries in the world church This volume addresses questions of salvation and eschatology health and healing prosperity and poverty suffering and death fear and faith despair and hope Other topics include the conflict between charism and institution and the tension between cultic clericalism and the affirmation and use of the gifts and talents of lay members of Christ's faithful in the church Anti-Catholicism in Northern Ireland, 1600-1998 J. Brewer, G. Higgins, 1998-09-07 Anti Catholicism forms part of the dynamics to Northern Ireland's conflict and is critical to the self defining identity of certain Protestants However anti Catholicism is as much a sociology process as a theological dispute It was given a Scriptural underpinning in the history of Protestant Catholic relations in Ireland and wider British Irish relations in order to reinforce social divisions between the religious communities and to offer a deterministic belief system to justify them The book examines the socio economic and political processes that have led to theology being used in social closure and stratification between the seventeenth century and the present day Profiles of Pentecostal Theology Christopher A. Stephenson, 2021-10-25 Pentecostal theology is burgeoning in the academy and a vast body of literature continues to grow With precision and ease Stephenson carefully leads readers through an array of theological topics texts and figures Combining original analysis and constructive contributions he classifies diverse and complex ideas in pentecostal biblical studies systematic theology and theological ethics Whether they are beginning students seeking an accessible initiation into an area that newly piques their interests or established scholars who need a sophisticated crash course in a yet unexplored field of inquiry readers will find Stephenson's accounts to be a reliable guide through this daunting topic Receptive Ecumenism and the Call to Catholic Learning Paul Murray, 2010-05-06 This volume proposes a fresh strategy for ecumenical engagement Receptive Ecumenism that is fitted to the challenges of the contemporary context and has already been internationally recognised as making a distinctive and important new contribution to ecumenical thought and practice Beyond this the volume tests and illustrates this proposal by examining what Roman Catholicism in particular might fruitfully learn from its ecumenical others. Challenging the tendency for ecumenical studies to ask whether explicitly or implicitly. What do our others need to learn from us? This volume presents a radical challenge to see ecumenism move forward into action by highlighting the opposite question: What can we learn with integrity from our others? This approach is not simply ecumenism as shared mission or ecumenism as problem solving and incremental agreement but ecumenism as a vital long term programme of individual communal and structural conversion driven like the Gospel that inspires it by the promise of conversion into greater life and flourishing. The aim is for the Christian traditions to become more, not less than they currently are, by learning from or receiving of each other's gifts. The 32 original essays that have been written for this unique volume explore these issues from a wide variety of denominational and disciplinary perspectives: drawing together ecclesiologists, professional ecumenists, sociologists, psychologists and organizational experts.

Berkouwer and Catholicism Eduardo Echeverria, 2013-04-28 Gerrit Cornelis Berkouwer 1903-1996 was a great master of dogmatic and ecumenical theology. He was a Reformed Protestant thinker with roots in Dutch neo-Calvinism, a holder of the Chair in Dogmatics 1945-1974 at the Free University Amsterdam, a position previously held by his two illustrious neo-Calvinist predecessors Abraham Kuyper 1837-1920 and Herman Bavinck 1854-1921. Echeverria provides a much needed in-depth analysis and critique of his theology, particularly his evolving relationship with Catholicism in light of Vatican II. His contention is that Berkouwer's careful and nuanced examination of Catholic theology as well as possible responses to his critiques offers important clues for the contemporary ecumenical project.

Jews, Catholics, and the Burden of History Eli Lederhendler, 2006-03-02 Volume XXI of the distinguished annual Studies in Contemporary Jewry marks sixty years since the end of the Second World War and forty years since the Second Vatican Council's efforts to revamp Church relations with the Jewish people and the Jewish faith. Jews, Catholics and the Burden of History offers a collection of new scholarship on the nature of the Jewish-Catholic encounter between 1945 and 2005 with an emphasis on how this relationship has emerged from the shadow of the Holocaust.

Challenges in Jewish-Christian Relations James Keltie Aitken, Edward Kessler, 2006 James K Aitken and Edward D Kessler have assembled here a widely diverse collection of essays on Jewish-Christian relations, a discipline that compared with other subjects studied in university and religious circles is relatively young. Jewish-Christian relations is a complex enterprise that cannot be reduced to simple theological or historical narratives; it must take into account politics, sociology, education, language, history, biblical studies, hermeneutics and theology. The contributors view their particular subject through the lens of all of these disciplines while ably meeting the challenge of looking toward the future.

The Challenges of the Pentecostal, Charismatic and Messianic Jewish Movements Revd Dr Peter Hocken, 2013-05-28 This book explores the Pentecostal and charismatic movements tracing their development and their variety Hocken shows how these movements of the Holy Spirit both outside the mainline churches and as renewal currents within the churches can be understood as mutually challenging and as complementary The similarities and the differences are significant The Messianic Jewish movement possesses elements of both the new and the old Addressing the issues of modernity and globalization this book explores major phenomena in contemporary Christianity including the relationship between the new churches and entrepreneurial capitalism

Ecumenism: A Guide for the Perplexed R. David Nelson, Charles Raith II, 2017-07-27 Ecumenism A Guide for the Perplexed is a comprehensive introduction to the methods achievements and future prospects of the modern ecumenical movement The authors begin the volume by charting out a serviceable definition of ecumenism a term that has long been a source of confusion for students of theology and church history They review the chronology of the modern ecumenical movement and highlight the major events figures accomplishments and impasses This historical survey is followed by critical examinations of three significant challenges for contemporary ecumenical theology and practice Along the way the authors provide commentary upon the difficulties and prospects that the ecumenical movement might anticipate as it enters this new millennium

Contesting the Body of Christ Myles Werntz, 2025-08-05 The church changed tremendously in the twentieth century with new churches emerging and old churches being renewed This period encompassed the birth of the World Council of Churches the rise of American evangelicalism the Second Vatican Council the coming of age of charismatic Christianity and more In this book Myles Werntz explores the landscape of twentieth century ecclesiology and shows how the four marks of the church were remade contested and reaffirmed in surprising and innovative ways in the course of this turbulent century Werntz asks what it means to say that the church is one holy catholic and apostolic amid so many diverse alternatives He explains how the many dynamics of the twentieth century posed both theological and ethical challenges for confessing the marks of the church but also what promise comes from expanding our vision of how God might be at work across traditions Werntz shows that the four marks of the church can help us see what the last century brought and what we might learn from it now He also provides guidance for the future of the twenty first century church The book includes a foreword from Ephraim Radner
