Journal 1326 King Edward II's estranged wife Queen Isabella shames him by refusing to return from France to England. When the king hears she has betrothed their son to the daughter of the French Count of Hainault, all England fears invasion by a Hainault army. The King's knights, including Sir Baldwin de Furnhill, are commanded to London to protect the realm. Meanwhile, Bishop Stapledon, the Treasurer of England, is under severe threat, but from whom? He has made many enemies in his long political life, and Sir Baldwin and his friend Simon Puttock must do all they can to find the would-be assassin before he can strike. What readers are saying about The Bishop Must Die: The characters are richly drawn and weave in and out of the events of the early 14th century with Michael Jecks showing great knowledge of the times. Jecks always brings his chosen era to life. Another masterpiece from one of my favourite authors. Chambers's Journal of Popular Literature, Science and Arts, 1900

Corpse Candle (Hugh Corbett Mysteries, Book 13) Paul Doherty, 2012-10-30 A phantom horseman. A murdered abbot. A locked door. Paul Doherty weaves an intricately plotted mystery in Corpse Candle in which Sir Hugh's powers of deduction are tested by one of his most puzzling cases. Perfect for fans of Susanna Gregory and Michael Jecks. Paul Doherty has captured the atmosphere of an enclosed community where there is nowhere to hide from an assassin who appears not to have a motive. Well written. A thumping good read. South Wales Argus. The Brothers of the abbey of St Martin's in the Marsh usually pay little heed to the tales of robber baron Sir Geoffrey Mandeville's ghost galloping through the Lincolnshire fens with a retinue of ghastly horsemen. They may hear the shrill blast of a phantom hunting horn or see the corpse candles glowing in the dark, but none really accepts the peasants' belief that these flickering lights can forewarn men of their own deaths. The monks are protected by the monastery's high wall and their powerful abbot, a friend of King Edward I, and although their leaders sometimes argue over the abbey's future, their lives are peaceful and comfortable. But then Abbot Stephen is found murdered in his chamber with the door and windows locked from the inside, and Sir Hugh Corbett, Keeper of the King's Seal, arrives to investigate. What readers are saying about Corpse Candle: This book has elegance, history, and mystery that will make you scared but wanting to turn the page. Intrigue is maintained throughout with interesting twists. Another excellent book that just could not be put down.

The Angel of Death (Hugh Corbett Mysteries, Book 4) Paul Doherty, 2012-10-30 A shocking murder takes Hugh Corbett into a dark and dangerous investigation. In the fourth thrilling novel in Paul Doherty's medieval series, sleuth Hugh Corbett must discover how a man can be murdered in full view of the king and most of the notables of England. Perfect for Michael Jecks and Ellis Peters. In 1298, Edward I of England invaded Scotland and brutally sacked the town of Berwick, raising to the ground the Red House of the Flemings, who had permission to trade there. He little knew his action would have far-reaching repercussions. A year later, Edward convokes a great assembly of the realm in St Paul's Cathedral. They are to hear Mass, after which the main celebrant, Walter de Montfort, has been delegated to lecture the King on not taxing the Church. During the Mass, de Montfort dies a sudden and violent death. Hugh Corbett, the King's clerk, is given the task of solving the mystery and tracking down the murderer. Against the background of Edward's struggle to maintain himself both at home and abroad Corbett's investigations become tortuous and laced with danger What readers are saying about The Angel of Death This is the best murder mystery I've read A plot to keep you on the edge of your seat Well written entertaining and keeps you guessing until the end The Houses of Hereford 1200-1700 Nigel Baker, Pat Hughes, Richard K. Morriss, 2017-12-21 The cathedral city of Hereford is one of the best kept historical secrets of the Welsh Marches Although its Anglo Saxon development is well known from a series of classic excavations in the 1960s and 70s what is less widely known is that the city boasts an astonishingly well preserved medieval plan and contains some of the earliest houses still in everyday use anywhere in England Three leading authorities on the buildings of the English Midlands have joined forces combining detailed archaeological surveys primary historical research and topographical analysis to examine 24 of the most important buildings from the great hall of the Bishop's Palace of c 1190 to the first surviving brick town house of c 1690 Fully illustrated with photographs historic maps and explanatory diagrams the case studies include canonical and mercantile hall houses of the Middle Ages mansions commercial premises and simple suburban dwellings of the early modern period Owners and builders are identified from documentary sources wherever possible from the Bishop of Hereford and the medieval cathedral canons through civic office holding merchant dynasties to minor tradesmen otherwise known only for their brushes with the law The Burroughs Cyclopædia Clark A. Brady, 2024-10-14 Edgar Rice Burroughs was not satisfied with creating characters and events within the world that we know instead he created whole new worlds for histories and he filled them with peoples languages cities wars plants machines and monsters that were believable to the reader yet still alien and fantastic enough to thrill and delight From A Kor the keeper of the Towers of Jetan in Manator through Zythab one of the priests of Brulor in Ashair this is a comprehensive reference to the fantastic worlds of Burroughs Each entry provides a complete definition along with a reference to the book in which the entry appeared For terms the language either actual e.g. Latin and French or Burroughs created e.g. The Tongue of the Great Ape or Pal-ul-don from which it was derived is given Spy in Chancery (Hugh Corbett Mysteries, Book 3) Paul Doherty, 2012-10-30 Some people will stop at nothing not even murder to keep their secrets hidden Paul Doherty writes a spellbinding mystery in Spy in Chancery the third novel to feature his much loved medieval sleuth Hugh Corbett Perfect for fans of Ellis Peters and Robin Hobb Edward I of England and Philip IV of France are at war Philip by devious means has managed to seize control of the English duchy of Aquitaine in France and is now determined to crush Edward King Edward suspects that his enemy is being aided by a spy in the English court and commissions his chancery clerk Hugh Corbett to trace and if possible destroy the traitor Corbett's mission brings him into danger on both land and at sea and takes him to Paris and its dangerous underworld and then to hostile Wales Unwillingly he is drawn into the murky undercurrents of international politics in the last decade of the thirteenth century And the spy will stop at nothing not even murder to keep his identity secret What readers are saying about Spy in Chancery Paul Doherty has the happy knack of making anything he writes about come to life for the reader The sights and sounds of medieval England seem vividly real in this entertaining novel A dark and engaging jaunt through a strange vividly realised and fey world Fantastic Believable characters and wonderful medieval setting makes them all a very entertaining read Literature Connections to World History 712
