The Common Gaze Eric Stoddart, 2021-01-30 Our political spheres are riven with micro targeted political advertising that degrades the possibilities and incentive for shared respectful debate We are producers as well as consumers of data when we record our physical and sometimes our spiritual exercise on smartphone apps The algorithms which identify us granting us access to state and corporate provision are not objective but often deeply discriminatory against people of colour and those lower on socio economic scales Offering a ground breaking new perspective on one of the great concerns of our time Eric Stoddart examines everyday surveillance in the light of concern for the common good He reveals the urgent need to challenge data gathering and analysis that weakens the social fabric by dividing people into categories largely based on inferred characteristics and interprets surveillance in relation to God s preferential option for those who are poor The Common Gaze is a call not only for revised surveillance but for better ways of understanding how God sees Smart Leadership - Wise

Leadership Christopher Steed,2017-07-14 1 Nurture the professionals an environment of value is one where teachers are trusted to function not de skilled 2 Nurture a much wider and less impoverished view of what constitutes achievement Case study symposium on education North Devon April 2014 3 Nurture the learner thinking for themselves 4 Nurture human connections introduce learners to each other Notes 11 Listen to the music and help change the song Wise leaders and transformative change Concerns not demands Creativity and empathy Global leadership Transformative change and the culture of an organisation Getting to yes the bottom line and the skill of negotiation Two metaphors Listen to the music and change the song A course in executive education based on this idea Notes 12 Leadership with spirit Wisdom and the black box of power Ten commandments for the wise leader in highly complex times Notes Postscript Motivational drivers and human value theory Maslow revisited The dog that didn t bark Motivated by power Conclusion Notes Index Trading for Good Christian Felber,2019-11-15 Trade is the lifeblood of the global economy but few would consider it a social good Instead our views on trade have polarized between two extremes free trade ideologues who regard trade as an end in itself and protectionists who view it as a destructive force to be contained But there is another way to trade one with the interests of people not profit at its heart In this visionary work Christian Felber founder of the Economy for the Common Good movement offers a dazzling new paradigm for the global trading order Confronting the free trade religion which has reigned since Adam Smith Felber champions an alternative approach in which trade serves the wider interests of society incorporating the key issues of our time human rights climate change and the growing divide richer and poorer countries He proposes the groundbreaking idea of an Ethical Trade Zone founded on a principled approach to tariffs and trade policies and built with international cooperation on trade taxation and labour Penetrating and passionate Christian Felber shows how this brave new economic world can be built democratically from the grassroots up and how trading for good can be made a reality Learning to Save the Future Alexander J. Means,2018-04-09 Mainstream economists and Silicon Valley entrepreneurs claim that unfettered capitalism and digital technology can unlock a future of unbounded prosperity create endless high paying jobs and solve the world s vast social and ecological problems Realizing this future of abundance purportedly rests in the transformation of human potential into innovative human capital through new 21st century forms of education In this new book Alex Means challenges this view Stagnating economic growth and runaway inequality have emerged as the normal condition of advanced capitalism Simultaneously there has been a worldwide educational expansion and a growing surplus of college educated workers relative to their demand in the world economy This surplus is complicated by an emerging digital revolution driven by artificial intelligence and machine learning that generates worker displacing innovations and immaterial forms of labor and valorization Learning to Save the Future argues that rather than fostering mass intellectuality educational development is being constrained by a value structure subordinated to 21st century capitalism and technology Human capabilities from creativity design engineering to communication are conceived narrowly as human capital valued in terms of economic productivity and growth Similarly global problems such as the erosion of employment and climate change are conceived as educational problems to be addressed through business solutions and the digitalization of education This thought provoking account provides a cognitive map of this condition offering alternatives through critical analyses of education and political economy technology and labor creativity and value power and ecology
