...the war, members of many tribes served as code talkers. The Navajo were the largest tribe with one of the hardest languages to learn. So, the biggest group of code talkers was Navajo. There were about 30 people who spoke their language. And, it wasn't written down.

...men who worked with the Marines to develop a code that didn't exist in Navajo. The code talkers used the military words. Airplanes were given bird names. For example, fighter planes were called "Hummingbirds." Ships were given fish names. They also invented codes for the letters of the alphabet. Anytime they needed a word that didn't have a code, they would spell it using the alphabet code. After the 29 Navajo code talkers created the code, they left to serve in World War II. Then, new people were trained. By the end of the war, there were 400 Navajo code talkers. Their contribution was invaluable. Enemy forces weren't able to understand their code. To this day, it's the only code used in a war that has never been broken.
