Hidatsa Social and Ceremonial Organization Alfred W. Bowers, 1965 Hidatsa Social and Ceremonial Organization a study of an important horticultural Plains Indian tribe synthesizes the rich material Alfred W Bowers recorded in the early 1930s from the last generation of Hidatsas who lived in the historic village of Like a Fishhook This documentary record of their nineteenth century lifeways is now a classic in American ethnography The book is distinguished for its presentation of extensive personal and ritual narratives that allow Hidatsa elders to articulate directly their conceptions of traditional culture It combines archeological and ethnographic approaches to reconstruct a Hidatsa culture history that is shaped by a concern for cultural detail stemming from the American ethnographic tradition of Franz Boas At the same time its concern for the understanding of social structure reflects the influence of the British structural functional approach of A R Radcliffe Brown The most comprehensive account ever published on the Hidatsas it is of enduring value and interest

One Man's Planet Stephen M. Testa, 2009 One Man's Planet is a slightly off centered geologist's introduction to how politics pop culture and the earth sciences mix it up every day in all of our lives A humorous look at a myriad of issue that grace the news and drive political debates from local councils to international discourse One Man's Planet picks apart the rhetoric on all sides of these debates to look at how the science describes the issue often to the nakedness of the opposing parties Tackling topics like climate energy water and hazards Stephen Testa channels Beanie Babies Mad Max and Shakespeare among others to examine the latest scientific understanding of these issues Author Stephen Testa weaves science personalities pop culture and politics into a very informative and entertaining tapestry on the planet today and the planet's tomorrow Come tour the Earth with Testa as your guide
