Mapping the Invisible Landscape Kent C. Ryden, 1993 Any landscape has an unseen component a subjective component of experience memory and narrative which people familiar with the place understand to be an integral part of its geography but which outsiders may not suspect the existence of Unless they listen and read carefully This invisible landscape is made visible through stories and these stories are the focus of this engrossing book Traveling across the invisible landscape in which we imaginatively dwell Kent Ryden himself a most careful listener and reader asks the following questions What categories of meaning do we read into our surroundings What forms of expression serve as the most reliable maps to understanding those meanings Our sense of any place he argues consists of a deeply ingrained experiential knowledge of its physical makeup an awareness of its communal and personal history a sense of our identity as being inextricably bound up with its events and ways of life and an emotional reaction positive or negative to its meanings and memories Ryden demonstrates that both folk and literary narratives about place bear a striking thematic and stylistic resemblance Accordingly Mapping the Invisible Landscape examines both kinds of narratives For his oral materials Ryden provides an in depth analysis of narratives collected in the Coeur d Alene mining district in the Idaho panhandle for his consideration of written works he explores the OC essay of place OCO the personal essay which takes as its subject a particular place and a writer s relationship to that place Drawing on methods and materials from geography folklore and literature Mapping the Invisible Landscape offers a broadly interdisciplinary analysis of the way we situate ourselves imaginatively in the landscape the way we inscribe its surface with stories Written in an extremely engaging style this book will lead its readers to an awareness of the vital role that a sense of place plays in the formation of local cultures to an understanding of the many layered ways in which place interacts with individual lives and to renewed appreciation of the places in their own lives and landscapes Popularizing Pennsylvania Simon J. Bronner, 2010-11-01 Today his memory lives on in the legends he helped promote such as that of the Indian princess Nita nee for whom Central Pennsylvania s Nittany Mountain is supposedly named and his instrumental role in creating Pennsylvania s noted system of parks and forests and the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission The Folklorist in the Marketplace Willow G. Mullins, Puja Batra-Wells, 2019-11-08 The Folklorist in the Marketplace brings together voices from multiple disciplines to consider how economics shape and are shaped by folk groups and academic disciplines The authors ask how folk and folklorists can productively comment on the economic structures they inhabit As trade technology and geopolitics have led to a rapid increase in the global spread of cultural products like media knowledge objects and folkways there has been a concomitant rise in fear and anxiety about globalization s dark other side economic nativism neocolonialism cultural appropriation and loss Culture has become a resource and a currency in the global marketplace This movement of people and forms necessitates a new textual consideration of how folklore and economics interweave In The Folklorist in the Marketplace contributors explore how the marketplace and folklore have always been integrally linked and what that means at this cultural and economic moment Covering a variety of topics from creel boats to the history of a commune that makes hammocks The Folklorist in the Marketplace goes far beyond the well trod examinations of material culture to look closely at the historical and contemporary intersections of these two disciplines and to provoke cross disciplinary conversation and collaboration Contributors William A Ashton Halle M Butvin James I Deutsch Christofer Johnson Michael Lange John Laudun Julie M A LeBlanc Cassie Patterson Rahima Schwenkbeck Amy Shuman Irene Sotiropoulou Yuanhao Zhao Vietnam Remembered Varick Chittenden, 1995 A book featuring miniature dioramas that translate the Vietnam war into art and self therapy for the artist American Folklore Studies Simon J.
