Challenging Transitions In Learning And Work:

Challenging Transitions in Learning and Work, 2010-01-01 In the past two decades advanced capitalist countries have seen sustained growth in labour market participation along with a growth in the number of jobs workers tend to have in their working lives Over a slightly longer period we also see that participation in both formal educational attainment and a range of non compulsory learning training has grown However labour market discrimination based on gender age disability and race ethnicity remains a serious issue in virtually all OECD countries Challenging Transitions in Learning and Work presents a critical and expansive exploration of learning and work transitions within this context These transitions are challenging for those enmeshed in them and need to be actively challenged through the critical research reported The impetus for this volume its conceptual framing and much of the research emerges from the team of Canadian researchers who together completed case study and survey projects within the Work and Lifelong Learning WALL network The authors include leading scholars with established international reputations as well as emerging researchers with fresh perspectives This volume will appeal to researchers and policy makers internationally with an interest in educational studies and industrial sociology

Lifelong Learning in Paid and Unpaid Work D.W. Livingstone, 2015-04-08 Lifelong Learning is essential to all individuals and in recent years has become a guiding principle for policy initiatives ranging from national economic competition to issues of social cohesion and personal fulfilment However despite the importance of lifelong learning there is a critical absence of direct international evidence on its extent content and outcomes Lifelong Learning in Paid and Unpaid Work provides a new paradigm for understanding work and learning documenting the active contribution of workers to their development and their adaptation to paid and unpaid work Empirical evidence drawn from national surveys in Canada and eight related case studies is used to explore the current learning activities of those in paid employment housework and volunteer work addressing all forms of learning including formal schooling further education courses informal training and self directed learning particularly in the context of organisational and technological change Proposing an expanded conceptual framework for investigating the relationships between learning and work the contributors offer new insights into the ways in which adult learning adapts to and helps reshape the wide contemporary world of work throughout the life course

Transitions and Learning through the Lifecourse Kathryn Ecclestone, Gert Biesta, Martin Hughes, 2009-10-16 Like many ideas that inform policy practice and research transition has many meanings Children make a transition to adulthood pupils move from primary to secondary school and there is then a movement from school to work training or further education Transitions can lead to profound and positive change and be an impetus for new learning for some individuals and be unsettling difficult and unproductive for others Transitions have become a key concern for policy makers and the subject of numerous policy changes over the past ten years They are also of interest to researchers and professionals working with different groups Transitions and Learning Through the Lifecourse examines transitions across a range of education life and work settings It explores the claim that successful transitions are essential for educational inclusion social achievement and economic prosperity and that individuals and institutions need to manage them more effectively Aimed primarily at academic researchers and students at all levels of study across a range of disciplines including education careers studies sociology feminist and cultural studies this book is the first systematic attempt to bring together and evaluate insights about educational life and work transitions from a range of different fields of research Contributions include The transition between home and school The effects of gender class and age Transitions to further and higher education Transitions for students with disabilities Transitions into the workplace Learning within the workplace Approaches to managing transitions

Rethinking Education in the Age of Technology Allan Collins,Richard Halverson,2018-04-13 How can schools make the most of both the technology and the learning potential of today s born digital students Allan Collins and Richard Halverson argue that new technologies have transformed our workplaces our lives and our culture and it is time that we take the next step to transform learning in and out of schools This book explains why and how today s educators policymakers and communities must adapt to provide all learners with access to the new learning tools of the 21st century

Developmental Transitions Sarah Crafter,Rachel Maunder,Laura Soulsby,2019-03-14 How can we make sense of change and stability through the lifespan of human development What role does personal experience our relationships with others and historical and sociocultural contexts play in shaping these changes This is the first book to offer an integrative overview of the range of developmental transitions which occur through the lifespan Bringing together different theoretical and conceptual perspectives and a broad range of empirical research including quantitative and qualitative approaches this book encompasses a range of complex transitional forms Covering topics such as health transitions transitions in friendships and romantic relationships career transitions and societal transitions this book takes the reader beyond a focus on childhood and adolescence to look at the whole lifespan Reflecting a perspective that takes into account a sociocultural past and present this book seeks to show how transitions can be viewed as both an experience of uncertainty and possibility Transitions perform important functions and present psychosocial opportunities Developmental Transitions is essential reading for all undergraduate and graduate students of developmental and cultural psychology and is also a valuable resource for academics and practitioner audiences interested in stability and change as people age

Supporting Difficult Transitions Mariane Hedegaard, Anne Edwards, 2019-07-11 The international contributors to Supporting Difficult Transitions discuss examples of transitions that are problematic for children young people and their carers Focusing on vulnerable children and young people the transitions include starting school changing schools starting work entering a new culture or a culture that has been changed to focusing on vulnerable children and young people The book will be useful to practitioners involved in supporting children and their carers as they make these moves students and course tutors in the caring professions researchers and policy makers and those who implement policy for children and young people The different case examples are given coherence by drawing on cultural historical approaches to how people move between practices Particular attention is paid to how practitioners can build shared understandings of what matters for children and young people and for the institutions they are entering These understandings become a resource to strengthen collaborations between practitioners or between practitioners and the children and their carers as they support entry into new practices

Challenges Students with Learning Disabilities Face without Transition Programs to Post-Secondary Institutions Christine Warian, Ed.D, 2021-01-27 Challenges Students with Learning Disabilities Face without Transition Programs to Post Secondary Institutions By Christine Warian Ed D Christine Warian Ed D has been in education for over two decades and throughout her career has developed a passion for literacy and dyslexia She has also developed a desire to prepare the next generation of teachers as they embark on their career educating students who come into their lives Challenges Students with Learning Disabilities Face without Transition Programs to Post Secondary Institutions was developed as a dissertation topic since Dr Warian wanted to know what programs are available to students with learning disabilities as they prepare to transition to post secondary institutions Dr Warian is familiar with services that are available to students with learning disabilities in the K 12 school environment and felt a need to investigate what programs if any are available to this population of students at the post secondary level Administrators of post secondary institutions would benefit from reading this text to provide them guidance in what to provide to students with learning disabilities that are enrolled in their institution Investigating post secondary institutions private and public in the state of New Jersey few institutions provide programs for students with learning disabilities Information provided in this work from institutional websites as well as participants experiences indicates a need at the post secondary level to ensure students with a learning disability have the same opportunity as their non learning disabled peers at the post secondary level

International Handbook of Research in Professional and Practice-based Learning Stephen Billett, Christian Harteis, Hans Gruber, 2014-07-15 The International Handbook of Research in Professional and Practice based Learning discusses what constitutes professionalism examines the concepts and practices of professional and practice based learning including associated research traditions and educational provisions It also explores professional learning in institutions of higher and vocational education as well the practice settings where professionals work and learn focusing on both initial and ongoing development and how that learning is assessed The Handbook features research from expert contributors in education studies of the professions and accounts of research methodologies from a range of informing disciplines It is organized in two parts The first part sets out conceptions of professionalism at work how professions work and learning can be understood and examines the kinds of institutional practices organized for developing occupational capacities The second part focuses on procedural issues associated with learning for and through professional practice and how assessment of professional capacities might progress The key premise of this Handbook is that during both initial and ongoing professional development individual learning processes are influenced and shaped through their professional environment and practices Moreover in turn the practice and processes of learning through practice are shaped by their development all of which are required to be understood through a range of research orientations methods and findings This Handbook will appeal to academics working in fields of professional practice including those who are concerned about developing these capacities in their students In addition students and research students will also find this Handbook a key reference resource to the field

Learning, Work and Social Responsibility Karen Evans, 2009-05-26 The concept of individual responsibility has taken on a significance comparable to that of choice in the global rise of neo liberalism of the late 20th and early 21st centuries The rise of neo liberalism is most often analysed through the lenses of theory governmentality and societal structures There has been a tendency for analysis to become overly abstract with the subjective experiences of the social actors missing dimensions in the literature This book draws on more than 20 years of international research that has focused on the subjective experiences of people as actors in changing social landscapes These landscapes are differently positioned politically economically and socially in relation to the rise of neo liberalism Comparisons enable the differences in people's experiences to be located explored and explained in relation to different socio economic landscapes thus throwing into relief the effects of neo liberal policies where they are found My approach is to create an extended dialogue between ideas and evidence starting close to home and then extending to speci c international comparisons and to wider explorations of the central themes of the book human agency and social responsibility Finally I return to social landscapes of Britain to review the position and potential for social change in societies that exemplify what Sennett has termed Anglo American regimes in contrast to Rhine regimes as exemplified by Germany

Distance and E-learning in Transition András Szűcs, Alan Tait, Martine Vidal, Ulrich Bernath, 2013-03-01 The rushed development of information and communication technologies and their impact on the world of learning in the last decade have profoundly changed the paradigms scenarios and values at all levels of education The professionalization of tools and practices in addition to the consolidation of academic and practical knowledge has been a major continuing issue throughout these years The annual conferences of the largest European professional community in distance and e learning have been setting the landmarks in this process The selection from this unique knowledge pool demonstrates the deepening and consolidation of knowledge and experience This book presents the developments in the field of open distance and e learning through new technologies methodologies and tools which have profoundly changed the paradigms scenarios and values at all levels of education over the last decade Thinking about Schools Eleanor Blair Hilty, 2018-04-19 This book considers how

American public education came to be the way it is today It helps students to have a better sense of how the past informs the present and how questions regarding who is served best by the schools tell us about the goals and aspirations of present day schools in America Active and Transformative Learning in STEAM Disciplines Miltiadis Demetrios

Lytras, 2023-11-20 Active and Transformative Learning in STEAM Disciplines is a unique reference volume for the new student centric and objectives oriented learning environment where individual and team learning paths enhance problem solving capabilities Sustaining Employability Through Work-life Learning Stephen Billett, Henning Salling

Olesen, Laurent Filliettaz, 2023-06-30 This book seeks to advance understandings of and approaches to supporting and sustaining working age adults learning across lengthening working lives and inevitable transitions they encounter and are required to negotiate It is founded on the processes and findings of a three phase practical inquiry into worklife learning and its implications for workplace and education practice conducted in Australia over a three year period commencing in 2019 Diverse perspectives and orientations were utilised in approaches to data analysis and renderings from the data thereby opening up the analysis of these complex phenomena to different lines of interrogation questions and analytical approaches It elaborates more fully understandings about the processes of adults learning and development across their lifespan of adulthood referred to as working life and what factors and contributions supported that learning This book also attempts to reconcile a coherent view about development across the work lifespan and how that can be supported by education provisions workplaces communities and by the adults themselves Handbook for Teaching and Learning in Geography Helen Walkington, Jennifer Hill, Sarah Dyer, 2019-12-27 This exemplary Handbook provides readers with a novel synthesis of international research evidence based practice and personal reflections to offer an overview of the current state of knowledge in the field of teaching geography in higher education Chapters cover the three key transitions into through and out of higher education to present a thorough analysis of the topic

Transitions and Transformations in Learning and Education Päivi Tynjälä, Marja-Leena Stenström, Marjatta Saarnivaara, 2012-03-28 The breakneck speed of change in today's societies creates enormous challenges for educational institutions at all levels This volume explores ways how to manage change in educational processes and contexts focusing in particular on the concepts of transition and transformation How do we educate a skilled workforce sensitive professionals and responsive citizens who are able not only to cope with change but also to adopt required roles as agents of change How do we prepare students and employees to cope adequately with changes and transitions in their careers and personal lives The first of this book's three sections deals with the conceptual and theoretical aspects of transition transformational processes and human development It defines these concepts and examines the ways in which educational theory and praxis understand concepts of change and development The second section presents empirical studies that offer differing perspectives on educational transitions covering the lifespan from early years education to lifelong learning The third part of the volume focuses on issues of learning and pedagogy and argues that educational practices should change with the changing world With numerous concrete examples included in the analysis and with studies taking a range of forms from personal histories to large scale surveys this new book is a major addition to the literature in a field that has key implications for our future The first of this book's three sections deals with the conceptual and theoretical aspects of transition transformational processes and human development It defines these concepts and examines the ways in which educational theory and praxis understand concepts of change and development The second section presents empirical studies that offer differing perspectives on educational transitions covering the lifespan from early years education to lifelong learning The third part of the volume focuses on issues of learning and pedagogy and argues that educational practices should change with the changing world With numerous concrete examples included in the analysis and with studies taking a range of forms from personal histories to large scale surveys this new book is a major addition to the literature in a field that has key implications for our future
