The Art and Science of Effective and Impactful COMMUNICATION Karminder Ghuman, PhD, 2024-08-10

Communication makes a big difference. A deeper understanding of this domain can enable individuals and professionals to achieve their intended objectives. Imparting education and corporate training in the field of communication for more than 25 years has been a transformational experience. Grappling with the realities of communication and parallel to that, conducting informal research regarding various communication principles has been an exhilarating experience. I believe that for what all I have gained while having a very interactive interface with the world of communication, now is the right time to repay by assimilating all my experiences in the form of a very comprehensive book in which the concepts and principles of communication are narrated in a lucid and non-textual manner. The objective of writing this book is to fulfill the need of individuals who need focused literature to develop their communication, not only from an operational angle like writing or making an oral presentation but also as communication happens typically every second in formal and informal settings of the personal and working life of an individual An attempt has been made to have an application bias instead of a theoretical one

Furda, Jacques Steinberg, 2021-09-21 From an Ivy League dean and a college admissions expert a guide to help parents support their children as they navigate their way to college The College Conversation is a comprehensive resource for mapping the path through the college application process that provides practical advice and reassurance to keep both anxious parents and confused children sane and grounded Rather than adding to the existing canon of How to Get In college guides or rankings Eric Furda and Jacques Steinberg provide a step by step approach to having the tough conversations on this topic with less stress and more success The book is organized around key discussions and themes that trace the chronological arc of admissions and financial aid beginning before the assembly of a list of potential colleges and continuing through the receipt of decisions with a final section that includes advice on the first year of college The topics include preliminary conversations about the search and specifically how parents can think about their children's interests and what kind of college would best suit them choosing a college based on its curriculum culture and community writing the most effective essays assessing acceptances including considerations of finances and aid and making the transition from high school to college life The College Conversation will provide parents students and counselors with the credible level headed information often missing in this process as well as a much needed dash of perspective borne of experience The

Conversation Robert Livingston, 2021-02-02 A FINANCIAL TIMES BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR An essential tool for individuals organizations and communities of all sizes to jump start dialogue on racism and bias and to transform well intentioned statements on diversity into concrete actions from a leading Harvard social psychologist NAACP IMAGE AWARD NOMINEE FOR OUTSTANDING LITERARY ACHIEVEMENT LONGLISTED FOR THE PORCHLIGHT BUSINESS BOOK AWARD FINALIST FOR THE FT MCKINSEY BUSINESS BOOK OF THE YEAR AWARD Robert Livingston is one of America's most respected social psychologists studying diversity He has a unique ability to strip out the judgmentalism that can warp people's thinking about race and racism and therefore he can reach a broad audience educate them about the research and bring them along when he talks about solutions Jonathan Haidt 1 New York Times bestselling author of The Anxious Generation How can I become part of the solution In the wake of the social unrest of 2020 and growing calls for racial justice many business leaders and ordinary citizens are asking that very question This book provides a compass for all those seeking to begin the work of anti racism In The Conversation Robert Livingston addresses three simple but profound questions What is racism Why should everyone be more concerned about it What can we do to eradicate it For some the existence of systemic racism against Black people is hard to accept because it violates the notion that the world is fair and just But the rigid racial hierarchy created by slavery did not collapse after it was abolished nor did it end with the civil rights era Whether it's the composition of a company's leadership team or the composition of one's neighborhood these racial divides and disparities continue to show up in every facet of society For Livingston the difference between a solvable problem and a solved problem is knowledge investment and determination And the goal of making organizations more diverse equitable and inclusive is within our capability Livingston s lifework is showing people how to turn difficult conversations about race into productive instances of real change For decades he has translated science into practice for numerous organizations including Airbnb Deloitte Microsoft Under Armour L Oreal and JPMorgan Chase In The Conversation Livingston distills this knowledge and experience into an eye opening immersion in the science of racism and bias Drawing on examples from pop culture and his own life experience Livingston with clarity and wit explores the root causes of racism the factors that explain why some people care about it and others do not and the most promising paths toward profound and sustainable progress all while inviting readers to challenge their assumptions

What I Mean to Say Ian Williams,2024-10-08 Enough small talk Let s get right to it Why can t we talk to each other anymore What makes good communication And how do we restore the lost art of conversation In contemporary society much of our communication exists in a new dimension the online space and it s changing how we regard each other and how we converse In the digital realm we can be anonymous we can make false and hurtful comments yet evade consequences in a hurried scroll of clicks and swipes But a good conversation takes time and patience courage even We need to realize that one half of our conversations is in fact listening And aren t the best conversationalists like the best musicians good listeners With What I Mean to Say award winning novelist and poet Ian Williams seeks to ignite a conversation about conversation to confront the deterioration of civic and civil discourse and to reconsider the act of conversing as the sincere open exchange of thoughts and feelings Alternately serious and playful Williams nimbly leaps between topics of discussion and along the way is discursive digressive and endlessly generous like any great conversationalist
