Srivastava, Selen B Morkoc, 2014-06-17 Fifty of the world's greatest modern buildings from 1950 to the present dissected and analyzed through specially commissioned freehand drawings After a period in which computation derived architecture driven by digital design tools data analysis and new formal expression has thrived students and their teachers have returned to age old techniques before employing the digital tools that are a part of every architect's studio Tired of the perfectly rendered screen image architects are making presentations that are clearly the work of the hand and the mind not the computer This ambitious publication organized chronologically is aimed at a new generation of architects who take technology for granted but seek to further understand the principles of what makes a building meaningful and enduring Each of the fifty works of architecture is presented through detailed consideration of its site topology and surroundings natural light volumes and massing program and circulation details fenestration and ornamentation Over 2 500 painstakingly hand drawn images of the buildings of the past seven decades help readers return to the core values of understanding site and creating buildings looking with the eyes engaging through direct physical experience and constructing by hand

The Art of Digital Design

David E. Winkel, 2000 Digital Design Frank Vahid, 2006-07-28 While most popular digital design books present a perspective rooted in the 1970s and 1980s Digital System Design takes the subject into the 21st century It quickly moves through the low levels of design making a clear distinction between design and gate level minimization The book also emphasizes how one of the key uses of digital design today is to build high performance alternatives to software in addition to glue logic And it swiftly progresses to register transfer level RTL design since that is the level at which most digital design in practice today is performed

Design of Digital Computers Hans W Gschwind, E J McCluskey, 1975-06-13
