Digital Diasporas Jennifer M. Brinkerhoff, 2009-03-02 In the first full length scholarly study of the increasingly important phenomenon of digital diasporas Jennifer M Brinkerhoff examines how immigrants who still feel a connection to their country of origin use the internet She argues that digital diasporas can ease security concerns in both the homeland and the host society improve diaspora members quality of life in the host society and contribute to socio economic development in the homeland Drawing on case studies of nine digital diaspora organizations Brinkerhoff s research supplies new empirical material regarding digital diasporas and their potential security and development impacts She also explores their impact on identity negotiation arguing that digital diasporas create communities and organizations that represent hybrid identities and encourage solidarity identity and material benefits among their members The book also explores these communities implications for policy and practice

Virtual Homelands Madhavi Mallapragada, 2013-10-15 The internet has transformed the idea of home for Indians and Indian Americans In Virtual Homelands Indian Immigrants and Online Cultures in the United States Madhavi Mallapragada analyzes home pages and other online communities organized by diasporic and immigrant Indians from the late 1990s through the social media period Engaging the shifting aspects of belonging immigrant politics and cultural citizenship by linking the home page household and homeland as key sites Mallapragada illuminates the contours of belonging and reveals how Indian American struggles over it trace back to the web s active mediation in representing negotiating and reimagining home As Mallapragada shows ideologies around family and citizenship shift to fit the transnational contexts of the online world and immigration At the same time the tactical use of the home page to make gender racial and class struggles visible and create new modes for belonging implicates the web within complex political and cultural terrain On e commerce community and activist sites the recasting of home and homeland online points to intrusion by public agents such as the state the law and immigration systems in the domestic the private and the familial Mallapragada reveals that the home page may mobilize to reproduce conservative narratives of Indian immigrants familial and citizenship cultures but the reach of a website extends beyond the textual and discursive to encompass the institutions shaping it as the web unmakes and remakes ideas of India and America
