Dieselhydraulics In The 1960s And:

Diesel-Hydraulics in the 1960s and 1970s John Jennison, Tony Sheffield, 2014 This title features detailed and comprehensive coverage of the Western Region's entire diesel hydraulic fleet from inception to demise. The book is fully illustrated with new and unseen photographs. North British Type 2 B-B Diesel-Hydraulic Locomotives, BR Class 22 - Volume 2 - Detailed Insights Anthony P Sayer, 2024-09-30 The British Railways Pilot Scheme orders of 1955 included six North British Type 2 diesel hydraulic locomotives, these being introduced during 1959 for use on the Western Region. Without operational experience, a further fifty-two locomotives were delivered between 1959 and 1962. The fleet survived intact until 1968 when half of the class was withdrawn due to declining traffic levels across the UK with successive National Traction Plans progressively selecting the less successful non-standard and numerically challenged classes for removal from traffic. All fifty-eight locomotives were withdrawn by New Year's Day 1972. This book, the second of two, builds on the overview of the class provided in Volume 1 and makes extensive use of available archive material and the personal observations of numerous enthusiasts. Previously unpublished information covering the performance issues of these locomotives forms a central focus, together with details of fire incidents and accidents. Liveries and detail differences are given in depth treatment to illustrate that there really were reasons and a logical progression behind the complicated series of design modifications applied to the Class. Volume 2 concludes with sections on storage, withdrawal and final disposal. North British Type 2 B-B Diesel-Hydraulic Locomotives, BR Class 22 - Volume 1 - Setting the Scene Anthony P Sayer, 2024-07-04 The British Railways Pilot Scheme orders of 1955 included six Type 2 diesel hydraulic locomotives built by the North British Locomotive Co, these being introduced during 1959 for use on the Western Region. Without operational experience, a further fifty-two locomotives were delivered between 1959 and 1962. The fleet survived intact until 1968 when approximately half of the class was withdrawn as a result of declining traffic levels across the UK with successive National Traction Plans progressively selecting the less successful non-standard and numerically challenged classes for removal from traffic. All fifty-eight locomotives were withdrawn by New Year's Day 1972. This book, the first of two, sets the scene surrounding the short history of the Class 22s, covering the introduction of the fleet, technical aspects, appearance, design, delivery and acceptance testing, works histories and allocations. Detailed individual histories of each of the fifty-eight locomotives are included. British Diesel Locomotives of the 1950s and '60s Greg Morse, 2016-07-28 After the Second World War, the drive for the modernisation of Britain's railways ushered in a new breed of locomotive: the Diesel. Diesel-powered trains had been around for some time but faced with a coal crisis and the Clean Air Act in the 1950s, it was seen as a part of the solution for British Rail. This beautifully illustrated book, written by an expert on rail history, charts the rise and decline of Britain's diesel-powered locomotives. It covers a period of great change and experimentation where the iconic steam engines that had dominated for a century were replaced by a series of modern diesels, including the ill-fated Westerns and the more successful
