Difference Dialogue Development Bakhtinian World:

Difference, Dialogue, and Development Lakshmi Bandlamudi, 2015-12-22 Difference Dialogue and Development is an in depth exploration of the collected works of Mikhail Bakhtin to find relevance of key concepts of dialogism for understanding various aspects of human development Taking the reality of differences in the world as a given Bandlamudi argues that such a reality necessitates dialogue and actively responding to that necessity leads to development The varied works of Bakhtin that span several decades passing through the most tumultuous period in Russian history are brought under one banner of three D s Difference Dialogue and Development and the composite features of the three D s emerge as leitmotifs in every chapter Decolonial Psychology and Dialogues of Resistance James Cresswell, Atsushi Tajima, Arthur Arruda Leal Ferreira, 2025-07-11 Interweaving rich theory on dialogism power and resistance together with situated scenarios addressing the production of psychological knowledge this book explores decoloniality as it interfaces with strategic fields in psychology Current movements in global sentiment have raised important calls for decolonial action In this volume an international set of authors come together to critically challenge power by considering how colonial mindsets develop and are retained Drawing on dialogism inspired by Bakhtin Vygotsky and other leading thinkers of dialogicality the book focuses on dialogue and how it is tied to the ability to think in ways outside colonial mindsets It challenges approaches that run the risk of bypassing how fundamental colonialism has become for human thinking and incorporates visions to consider how both conceptually and methodologically a postcolonial or decolonial psychology can be done In so doing it guides readers beyond the status quo to consider a program to improve psychology formulate a new psychological culture and bring about discussion beyond the permanent yet generative tension between liberating and subordinating psychologies The book will be key reading for theoretical and critical psychology scholars and postgraduate students particularly those interested in community engagement and decolonizing psychology It will also be of interest to those engaged in research in Bakhtinian studies critical theory and power studies

Teaching and Learning Chinese as a Foreign or Second Language: The Educational Psychology Perspective Yang Frank Gong, Chun Lai, Jinghe Han, Chan Lu, Sihui Echo Ke, 2024-02-21 Over the past two decades Chinese as a foreign or second language CFL CSL has been increasingly taught and learnt as an important language both within and outside China Studies in the field have attempted to address deep seated tensions between existing educational ideologies concepts strategies and approaches and student learning process and performance and between existent teaching methods and techniques and the globalization of Chinese language education Dialogue With Bakhtin on Second and Foreign Language Learning Joan Kelly Hall, Gergana Vitanova, Ludmila A. Marchenkova, 2004-12-13 This volume is the first to explore links between the Russian linguist Mikhail Bakhtin s theoretical insights about language and practical concerns with second and foreign language learning and teaching Situated within a strong conceptual framework and drawing from a rich empirical base it reflects recent scholarship in applied linguistics that has begun to move away from formalist views of language as universal autonomous linguistic systems and toward an understanding of language as dynamic collections of cultural resources According to Bakhtin the study of language is concerned with the dialogue existing between linguistic elements and the uses to which they are put in response to the conditions of the moment Such a view of language has significant implications for current understandings of second and foreign language learning The contributors draw on some of Bakhtin s more significant concepts such as dialogue utterance heteroglossia voice and addressivity to examine real world contexts of language learning The chapters address a range of contexts including elementary and university level English as a second language and foreign language classrooms and adult learning situations outside the formal classroom The text is arranged in two parts Part I Contexts of Language Learning and Teaching contains seven chapters that report on investigations into specific contexts of language learning and teaching The chapters in Part II Implications for Theory and Practice present broader discussions on second and foreign language learning using Bakhtin s ideas as a springboard for thinking This is a groundbreaking volume for scholars in applied linguistics language education and language studies with an interest in second and foreign language learning for teacher educators and for teachers of languages from elementary to university levels It is highly relevant as a text for graduate level courses in applied linguistics and second and foreign language education Involving Methods in Youth Research Trine

Dialogicality in Development Ingrid E. Josephs, 2003-09-30 The crucial nature of developmental theory is the question of relationship between cultural and personal facets of human development Dialogue is a useful concept to specify this relationship from a process oriented perspective In its broadest sense the notion of dialogue entails the interaction between at least two entities persons meanings perspectives out of which novelty can but need not emerge Thus dialogic models are open for developmental questions These issues are examined in this the first volume in which the increasingly popular metaphor of dialogue is systematically applied to developmental issues Dialogue is a multilevel concept and can be understood 1 as a real exchange between two interacting persons 2 as the interaction between culture at large e g stories and narratives and the interacting developing person and 3 as a metaphor for developmental processes in general In the first part of this international volume the concept of dialogue is elaborated by researchers from different disciplines The focus of the second section is on dialogic models in the area of self development The third deals with the dialogical co development of person and culture

Bakhtin and his Others Liisa Steinby, Tintti Klapuri, 2014-11-01 Bakhtin and his Others aims to develop an understanding of Mikhail Bakhtin's ideas through a contextual approach particularly with a focus on Bakhtin studies from the 1990s onward The volume offers fresh theoretical insights into Bakhtin's ideas on inter subjectivity and temporality including his concepts of chronotope and literary polyphony by reconsidering his ideas in relation to the sources he employs and taking into account later research on similar topics The case studies show how Bakhtin's ideas when seen in light of this approach can be constructively employed in contemporary literary research

Extraterritorialities in Occupied Worlds Exterritory Project, 2016 The concept of extraterritoriality designates certain relationships between space law and representation This collection of essays explores contemporary manifestations of extraterritoriality and the diverse ways in which the concept has been put to use in various disciplines Some of the essays were written especially for this volume others are brought here together for the first time The inquiry into extraterritoriality found in these essays is not confined to the established boundaries of political conceptual and representational territories or fields of knowledge rather it is an invitation to navigate the margins of the legal juridical and the political but also the edges of forms of representation and poetics Within its accepted legal and political contexts the concept of extraterritoriality has traditionally been applied to people and to spaces In the first case extraterritorial arrangements could either exclude or exempt an individual or a group of people from the territorial jurisdiction in which they were physically located in the second such arrangements could exempt or exclude a space from the territorial jurisdiction by which it was surrounded The special status accorded to people and spaces had political economic and juridical implications ranging from immunity and various privileges to extreme disadvantages In both cases a person or a space physically included within a certain territory was removed from the usual system of laws and subjected to another In other words the extraterritorial person or space was held at what could be described as a legal distance In this respect the concept of extraterritoriality presupposes the existence of several competing or overlapping legal systems It is this notion of being held at a legal distance around which the concept of extraterritoriality may be understood as revolving

Theory and Practice of Dialogical Community Development Peter Westoby, Gerard Dowling, 2013-07-18 This book proposes that community development has been increasingly influenced and co-opted by a modernist soulless rational philosophy reducing it to a shallow technique for solving community problems In contrast this dialogical approach re-maps the ground of community development practice within a frame of ideas such as dialogue hospitality and depth For the first time community development practitioners are provided with an accessible understanding of dialogue and its relevance to their practice exploring the contributions of internationally significant thinkers such as P Freire M Buber D Bohm and H G Gadamer J Derrida G Esteva and R Sennett What makes the book distinctive is that first it identifies a dialogical tradition of community development and considers how such a tradition shapes practice within contemporary contexts and concerns economic social political cultural and ecological Second the book contrasts such an approach with technical and instrumental approaches to development that fail to take complex systems seriously Third the approach links theory to practice through a combination of storytelling and theory reflection ensuring that readers are drawn into a practice theory that they feel increasingly confident has been tried and tested in the world over the past 25 years

Bakhtin and Theatre Dick Mccaw, 2015-07-30 What did Bakhtin think about the theatre That it was outdated That is stopped being a serious genre after Shakespeare Could a thinker to whose work ideas of theatricality visuality and embodied activity were so central really have nothing to say about theatrical practice Bakhtin and Theatre is the first book to explore the relation between Bakhtin's ideas and the theatre practice of his time In that time Stanislavsky co founded the Moscow Art Theatre in 1898 and continued to develop his ideas about theatre until his death in 1938 Stanislavsky's pupil Meyerhold embraced the Russian Revolution and created some stunningly revolutionary productions in the 1920s breaking with the realism of his former teacher Less than twenty years after Stanislavsky's death and Meyerhold's assassination a young student called Grotowski was studying in Moscow soon to break the mould with his Poor Theatre All three directors challenged the prevailing notion of theatre drawing on disagreeing with and challenging each other's ideas Bakhtin's early writings about action character and authorship provide a revealing framework for understanding this dialogue between these three masters of Twentieth Century theatre Landmark Essays on Bakhtin, Rhetoric, and Writing Frank

Farmer, 2020-11-25 The essays in this collection give voice to the plurality of approaches that scholars in the field of rhetoric and composition have when they set forth to assimilate Bakhtin for their varied purposes The collection is arranged in three major sections The first attempts to capture the most important theoretical extensions of Bakhtin's ideas and does so with an emphasis on what Bakhtin might contribute to the present understanding of language and rhetoric The next section explores the implications of Bakhtin's work for both disciplinary identity and writing pedagogy The final section looks at how Bakhtinian thought can be used to bring new light to concerns that his work either does not address or could not have imagined addressing concerns ranging from writing across the curriculum to feminism and from computer discourse to the writing of a corporation annual report Together these essays demonstrate how fruitfully and imaginatively Bakhtin's ideas can be appropriated for a context that he could not have anticipated They also serve as an invitation to sustain the dialogue with Bakhtin in the future so that researchers may yet come to realize the fortuitous ways that Bakhtin will continue to mean more than he said Small Musical Worlds in the Mediterranean Avra Pieridou Skoutella, 2016-03-03

Dialogue and Conflict on Religion. Studies of Classroom Interaction in European Countries Ina ter Avest,Dan-Paul Jozsa,Thorsten Knauth,Javier Rosón,Geir Skeie,2009 Regarding teaching about religions and worldviews there is a gap between the ambitions of educational policies and our knowledge about what really happens in the classroom Research on classroom interaction about religion is not very far developed either nationally or as international and as comparative research There is a growing awareness however that research on pupils perspectives on religion in education is needed in order to develop sustainable approaches for future education and this book is a contribution to this research The classroom can be seen as an arena both for learning and for micro politics This arena is shaped and sometimes challenged and restricted or even curtailed by the wider societal and political context In this book we present studies of classroom interaction that focus on the micro sociological level of research The studies presented open up a rather unexplored field of international comparative research on religion in education and the role of diversity for classroom interaction giving deeper insights into what happens in classrooms displaying varieties of interactive patterns and relating these to their specific contexts
