Archaeology 2.0 Eric C. Kansa,Sarah Witcher Kansa,Ethan Watrall,2011-11-01 How is the Web transforming the professional practice of archaeology And as archaeologists accustomed to dealing with deep time how can we best understand the possibilities and limitations of the Web in meeting the specialized needs of professionals in this field These are among the many questions posed and addressed in Archaeology 2.0: New Approaches to Communication and Collaboration edited by Eric Kansa Sarah Witcher Kansa and Ethan Watrall With contributions from a range of experts in archaeology and technology this volume is organized around four key topics that illuminate how the revolution in communications technology reverberates across the discipline approaches to information retrieval and information access practical and theoretical concerns inherent in design choices for archaeology's computing infrastructure collaboration through the development of new technologies that connect field based researchers and specialists within an international archaeological community and scholarly communications issues with an emphasis on concerns over sustainability and preservation imperatives This book not only describes practices that attempt to mitigate some of the problems associated with the Web such as information overload and disinformation it also presents compelling case studies of actual digital projects many of which are rich in structured data and multimedia content or focused on generating content from the field in real time and all of which demonstrate how the Web can and is being used to transform archaeological communications into forms that are more open inclusive and participatory Above all this volume aims to share these experiences to provide useful guidance for other researchers interested in applying technology to archaeology

Cyber-Archaeology and Grand Narratives Thomas E. Levy, Ian W. N. Jones, 2017-11-21 This volume asks how the current Information Technology Revolution influences archaeological interpretations of techno social change Does cyber archaeology provide a way to breathe new life into grand narratives of technological revolution and culture change or does it further challenge these high level theoretical explanations Do digital recording methods have the potential to create large regional scale databases to ease investigation of high level theoretical issues or have they simply exposed deeper issues of archaeological practice that prevent this In short this volume cuts beyond platitudes about the revolutionary potential of the Information Technology Revolution and instead critically engages both its possibilities and limitations The contributions to this volume are drawn from long term regional studies employing a cyber archaeology framework primarily in the southern Levant a region with rich archaeological data sets spanning the Paleolithic to the present day As such contributors are uniquely placed to comment on the interface between digital methods and grand narratives of long term techno social change Cyber Archaeology and Grand Narratives provides a much needed challenge to current approaches and a first step toward integrating innovative digital methods with archaeological theory

Ballynahatty Barrie Hartwell, Sarah Gormley, Catriona Brogan, Caroline Malone, 2023-08-15 Just six miles from the center of Belfast County Down on the plateau of Ballynahatty above the River Lagan is one of Ireland's great Neolithic henge monuments the 200 m wide Giant's Ring For over a thousand years this area was the focus of intense funerary ritual seemingly designed to send the dead to their ancestors and secure the land for the living Scattered through the fields to the north and west of the Ring are flat cemeteries standing stones tombs cists and ring barrows ancient monuments that were leveled by the plough when the land was enclosed in the 18th and 19th centuries A great 90 m long timber enclosure with an elaborate entrance and inner temple was first observed through crop marks in aerial photos Excavation of the site between 1990 1999 revealed a complex structure composed of over 400 postholes many over 2 m deep This was a building in the grand style elegantly designed to control space views and access to an inner sanctum containing a platform for exposure of the dead By 2550 BC the timber temple had been swept away in a massive conflagration and the remains dismantled Ballynahatty was one of the last great public ceremonial enterprises known to have been constructed by the Neolithic farmers in Northern Ireland an enterprise proclaiming their enigmatic religion ancestral rights and territorial aspirations This report reconstructs the remarkable building complex and explains the sophistication and organization of its construction and use The report sets the site and excavation in the wider development of the Ballynahatty landscape and its study to the present day

Computational Approaches to Archaeological Spaces Andrew Bevan, Mark Lake, 2016-06-16 This volume of original chapters written by experts in the field offers a snapshot of how historical built spaces past cultural landscapes and archaeological distributions are currently being explored through computational social science It focuses on the continuing importance of spatial and spatio temporal pattern recognition in the archaeological record considers more wholly model based approaches that fix ideas and build theory and addresses those applications where situated human experience and perception are a core interest Reflecting the changes in computational technology over the past decade the authors bring in examples from historic and prehistoric sites in Europe Asia and the Americas to demonstrate the variety of applications available to the contemporary researcher

Historical Archaeologies of the Caribbean Todd M. Ahlman, Gerald F. Schroedl, 2019-11-12 New perspectives on Caribbean historical archaeology that go beyond the colonial plantation Historical Archaeologies of the Caribbean Contextualizing Sites through Colonialism Capitalism and Globalism addresses issues in Caribbean history and historical archaeology such as freedom frontiers urbanism postemancipation life trade plantation life and new heritage This collection moves beyond plantation archaeology by expanding the knowledge of the diverse Caribbean experiences from the late seventeenth through the mid nineteenth centuries The essays in this volume are grounded in strong research programs and data analysis that incorporate humanistic narratives in their discussions of Amerindian freedmen plantation institutional military and urban sites Sites include a sample of the many different types found across the Caribbean from a variety of colonial contexts that are seldom reported in archaeological research yet constitute components essential to understanding the full range and depth of Caribbean history Contributors examine urban contexts in Nevis and St John and explore the economic connections between Europeans and enslaved Africans in urban and plantation settings in St Eustatius The volume contains a pioneering study of frontier exchange with Amerindians in Dominica and a synthesis of ceramic exchange networks among enslaved Africans in the Leeward Islands Chapters on military forts in Nevis and St Kitts call attention to this often neglected aspect of the Caribbean colonial landscape Contributors also directly address culture heritage issues relating to community participation and interpretation On St Kitts the legacy of forced confinement of lepers ties into debates of current public health policy Plantation site studies from Antigua and Martinique are especially relevant because they detail comparisons of French and British patterns of African enslavement and provide insights into how each addressed the social and economic changes that occurred with emancipation Contributors Todd M Ahlman Douglas V Armstrong Samantha Rebovich Bardoe Paul Farnsworth Jeffrey R Ferguson R Grant Gilmore III Diana Gonz lez Tennant Edward Gonz lez Tennant Barbara J Heath Carter L Hudgins Kenneth G Kelly Eric Klingelhofer Roger H Leech Stephan Lenik Gerald F Schroedl Diane Wallman Christian Williamson
