DATA SCIENCE CRASH COURSE: Drinking Water Potability Classification and Prediction Using Machine Learning and Deep Learning with Python

Vivian Siahaan,Rismon Hasiholan Sianipar,2023-08-06 In this data science crash course project we aim to build a classification and prediction model to determine the potability of drinking water using machine learning and deep learning techniques in Python The first step of the project involves data exploration where we examine the dataset s structure and characteristics We identify the target variable Potability which indicates whether the water is safe to drink 1 or not 0 We check for any missing values and handle them appropriately to ensure the dataset s integrity Next we analyze the distribution of features in the dataset to understand their statistical properties We visualize the feature distributions through histograms box plots and density plots This exploration helps us identify potential outliers or skewed features that might require preprocessing Before building the predictive models we split the dataset into training and testing sets The training set is used to train the machine learning models while the testing set evaluates their performance on unseen data To start with machine learning models we employ algorithms Logistic Regression Support Vector Machines K Nearest Neighbors Decision Trees Random Forests Gradient Boosting Extreme Gradient Boosting Light Gradient Boosting We use the Grid Search technique to optimize their hyperparameters ensuring the best possible performance After evaluating and selecting the best performing machine learning model we explore deep learning techniques using an Artificial Neural Network ANN The ANN architecture consists of input hidden and output layers We determine the optimal number of hidden layers and neurons through experimentation To train the ANN we use the training data and optimize the model s weights using backpropagation and gradient descent We also employ techniques like dropout and batch normalization to prevent overfitting After training the models we evaluate its performance on the test set To gauge the model s accuracy precision recall and F1 score we generate a classification report Additionally we plot the training and validation accuracy as well as the loss during the training process to visualize the model s learning progress For further insights we plot a confusion matrix which provides a comprehensive view of the true positive true negative false positive and false negative predictions This helps us assess the model s performance in handling different classes Throughout the project we prioritize model evaluation to ensure reliable predictions We compute the accuracy score which gives us an overall understanding of the model s correctness The classification report provides detailed precision recall and F1 score for each class highlighting how well the model predicts the positive and negative cases In conclusion this data science crash course project focuses on drinking water potability classification and prediction using various machine learning and deep learning techniques in Python The project begins with data exploration and feature distribution analysis followed by the use of machine learning models with hyperparameter tuning through grid search Subsequently deep learning techniques using an Artificial Neural Network ANN are employed and the model s performance is evaluated using multiple metrics By following this comprehensive approach we aim to build an accurate and robust model that can effectively predict drinking water potability and contribute to ensuring safe drinking water for communities

DATA SCIENCE CRASH COURSE: Thyroid Disease Classification and Prediction Using Machine Learning and Deep Learning with Python

GUI Vivian Siahaan,Rismon Hasiholan Sianipar,2023-07-17 Thyroid disease is a prevalent condition that affects the thyroid gland leading to various health issues In this session of the Data Science Crash Course we will explore the classification and prediction of thyroid disease using machine learning and deep learning techniques all implemented with the power of Python and a user friendly GUI built with PyQt We will start by conducting data exploration on a comprehensive dataset containing relevant features and thyroid disease labels Through analysis and pattern recognition we will gain insights into the underlying factors contributing to thyroid disease Next we will delve into the machine learning phase where we will implement popular algorithms including Support Vector Logistic Regression K Nearest Neighbors KNN Decision Tree Random Forest Gradient Boosting Light Gradient Boosting Naive Bayes Adaboost Extreme Gradient Boosting and Multi Layer Perceptron These models will be trained using different preprocessing techniques including raw data normalization and standardization to evaluate their performance and accuracy We train each model on the training dataset and evaluate its performance using appropriate metrics such as accuracy precision recall and F1 score This helps us assess how well the models can predict stroke based on the given features To optimize the models performance we perform hyperparameter tuning using techniques like grid search or randomized search This involves systematically exploring different combinations of hyperparameters to find the best configuration for each model After training and tuning the models we save them to disk using joblib This allows us to reuse the trained models for future predictions without having to train them again Moving beyond traditional machine learning we will build an artificial neural network ANN using TensorFlow This ANN will capture complex relationships within the data and provide accurate predictions of thyroid disease To ensure the effectiveness of our ANN we will train it using a curated dataset split into training and testing sets This will allow us to evaluate the model s performance and its ability to generalize predictions To provide an interactive and user friendly experience we will develop a Graphical User Interface GUI using PyQt The GUI will allow users to input data select prediction methods machine learning or deep learning and visualize the results Through the GUI users can explore different prediction methods compare performance and gain insights into thyroid disease classification Visualizations of training and validation loss accuracy and confusion matrices will enhance understanding and model evaluation Line plots comparing true values and predicted values will further aid interpretation and insights into classification outcomes Throughout the project we will emphasize the importance of preprocessing techniques feature selection and model evaluation in building reliable and effective thyroid disease classification and prediction models By the end of the project readers will have gained practical knowledge in data exploration machine learning deep learning and GUI development They will be equipped to apply these techniques to other domains and real world challenges The project s comprehensive approach from data exploration to model development and GUI implementation ensures a holistic understanding of thyroid disease classification and prediction It empowers readers to explore applications of data science in healthcare and beyond The combination of machine learning and deep learning techniques coupled with the intuitive GUI offers a powerful framework for thyroid disease classification and prediction This project serves as a stepping stone for readers to contribute to the field of medical data science Data driven approaches in healthcare have the potential to unlock valuable insights and improve outcomes The focus on thyroid disease classification and prediction in this session showcases the transformative impact of data science in the medical field Together let us embark on this journey to advance our understanding of thyroid disease and make a difference in the lives of individuals affected by this condition Welcome to the Data Science Crash Course on Thyroid Disease Classification and Prediction
