Schmidt,2015-08-20 This book traces and conceptualises the changing notion of democracy and demonstrates how democracy promotion finds itself at the heart of contemporary international discourses and policies Democracy promotion is widely considered to constitute a hypocritical and failed grand international narrative of the 1990s and has allegedly been replaced by other more pressing and academically more captivating concerns such as conflict management statebuilding and climate change This book challenges this position and argues that the core notions of democracy promotion such as empowerment inclusion and responsiveness are a key concern of contemporary international policymakers Drawing on the work of Michel Foucault Hannah Arendt as well as John Dewey it investigates the notion of democracy and modality of its promotions through the policy fields of conflict management statebuilding and climate change The central development the book observes is the reconceptualisation of democracy from the constituted sphere of the public to the lived relations of the social The book argues that the novel rationality of democracy and its promotion offers a particular solution to governing impasses in a world perceived to be globalised and complex which accounts for democracy's current but neglected centrality This book will be of much interest to students of democracy intervention statebuilding global governance and IR in general

Contesting Austerity and Free Trade in the EU Julia Rone,2020-11-25 The book explores the diffusion of protest against austerity and free trade agreements in the wave of contention that shook the EU following the 2008 economic crisis It discusses how protests against austerity and free trade agreements manifested a wider discontent with the constitutionalization of economic policy and the way economic decisions have been insulated from democratic debate It also explores the differentiated politicization of these issues and the diffusion of protests across Western as well as Eastern Europe which has often been neglected in studies of the post crisis turmoil Julia Rone emphasizes that far from being an automatic spontaneous process protest diffusion is highly complex and its success or failure can be impacted by the strategic agency and media practices of key political players involved such as bottom up activists as well as trade unions political parties NGOs intellectuals and mainstream media This is an important resource for media and communications students and scholars with an interest in activism political economy social movement studies and protest movements Europe's 21st Bilateral Diplomacy and EU Membership Sandra Sonnleitner, 2018-05-17 Das Buch widmet sich der Frage wie die Mitgliedschaft in der EU nationalstaatliche bilaterale Diplomatie beeinflusst und verändert. Die Ergebnisse dieser empirischen Untersuchung zeigen das Wesen dieses Einflusses und seine Auswirkungen anhand von Entwicklungen in Österreich nach 20 Jahren EU Mitgliedschaft. Dabei steht das klassischste Element nationalstaatlicher bilateraler Diplomatie im Zentrum: das Außenministerium und sein diplomatischer Dienst. Die Studie basiert auf neo-institutionalistischen und organisationsanalytischen Ansätzen. Untersucht wurden Veränderungen und Anpassungen in Strukturen, Aufgaben und Prozessen sowie im Berufsbild und der professionellen Identität von Diplomatinen und Diplomaten. Dabei wurden zwei Untersuchungsstränge bilaterale Diplomatie innerhalb der EU und außerhalb der EU gesondert betrachtet.

Democracy Promotion in the EU's Neighbourhood Sandra Lavenex, Frank Schimmelfennig, 2013-09-13 EU external democracy promotion has traditionally been based on linkage and bottom-up support for democratic forces in third countries and leverage and the top-down inducement of political elites towards democratic reforms through political conditionality. The advent of the European Neighbourhood Policy and new forms of association have introduced a new third model of democracy promotion which rests in functional cooperation between administrations. This volume comparatively defines and assesses these three models of external democracy promotion in the EU's relations with its eastern and southern neighbours. It argues that while linkage has hitherto failed to produce tangible outcomes and the success of leverage has basically been tied to an EU membership perspective, the governance model of democracy promotion bears greater potential beyond the circle of candidate countries. This third approach, while not tackling the core institutions of the political system as such but rather promoting transparency, accountability and participation at the level of state administration, may turn out to remain the EU's most tangible form of democratic governance promotion in the future. This book was originally published as a special issue of Democratization.

Social Movements in Elections Abi Rhodes, 2021-08-23 This book focuses on the interrelatedness of social movements and elections and develops the theoretical dimension of movement-voter interaction. It posits that social movements engage in communicative tactics during elections to highlight specific issues and to convey ideas, values and beliefs to the voter. Applying methodological tools from political discourse analysis, the book considers the breadth of on and offline tactics employed by the UK movement groups The People's Assembly Against Austerity and Extinction Rebellion in the 2015, 2017 and 2019 general elections. The book argues the case for social movement-voter interaction as a key aspect of social movement and political communication research.

Politicizing European Integration Dominic Hoeglinger, 2016-01-26 This book offers a comprehensive treatment of the timely question of the politicization of European integration. Deforming the Reform Luana Martin-Russu, 2022-09-21 This open access book presents an actor-centered study on Europeanization based on the assumption that EU-driven reforms are highly dependent on the behavior and interests of the key domestic actors Whether or not a state pursues a European and democratic agenda depends on domestic lawmakers Further political elites are pre eminent in deciding on the nature form and content of any law and on the extent to which the rule of law is actually enforced Elites can overcome structural or institutional barriers that stand in the way of achieving their goals The empirical study on Romania presented here lends this observation a more profound meaning it shows how in contexts where high level corruption is the norm rather than the exception self serving political elites cannot be expected to genuinely commit to adopting sound anti corruption reform The book is an inquiry into the motivations that drive legislators to make particular decisions but also into the structural characteristics and dynamics of the elite that invite a selfish rather than responsible and responsive behaviour This publication was supported by funds from the Publication Fund for Open Access Monographs of the Federal State of Brandenburg Germany

Comparative Perspectives on the Substance of EU Democracy Promotion Anne Wetzels, Jan Orbie, Fabienne Bossuyt, 2017-10-02 This book examines the substance of European Union EU democracy promotion by comparing it with norms of governance that other international actors promote among them the United Nations the United States the Central and East European EU member states Russia China and non governmental organizations It aims to gain a better understanding of the EU s democracy promotion agenda and to learn more about the distinctiveness of the norms diffused by the EU Building on a common conceptual chapter the contributions follow different theoretical approaches and research designs and focus on a diversity of case studies The book concludes that in comparison with other international actors the EU s conceptual approach to democracy promotion is diffuse which in turn makes the EU a particularly flexible but also technical democracy promoter when it comes to implementation At the same time there are limits to flexibility at the level of concepts and frames This indicates a distinct character of the substance of EU democracy promotion which can be linked to the nature of the EU polity This book was published as a special issue of the Cambridge Review of International Affairs

Shaping Online News Performance Edda Humprecht, 2017-05-29 The author offers a comprehensive portrait of online news performance in Western countries in changing media environments Drawing on a content analysis of 48 news outlets from different types of media organization in France Germany Great Britain Italy Switzerland and USA Edda Humprecht investigates the complex interplay of systemic and organizational dynamics and their impact on online news content showing that the performance of online news media strongly varies among different media outlets Less profit oriented outlets and those with a focus on information generally perform well offering hard news diversity critical distance or analytical depth This suggests that the divide between high and low performing outlets is tied to the news outlet s capacity and willingness to strike a balance between their profit orientation and their normative role as information providers Furthermore the findings demonstrate that different dimensions of news performance are more pronounced in certain countries This book provides new theoretical perspectives and methods for political and media scholars and insights for journalists policymakers and concerned citizens
