Process Facilitation in Psychoanalysis, Psychotherapy and Social Work Sylvia O'Neill, 2018-07-03 Process Facilitation in Psychoanalysis Psychotherapy and Social Work elaborates a differential theory of therapeutic engagement with full reference not only to psychoanalysis and to psychotherapy but also surprisingly to social work When contemporary social work with the marginalised achieves mutual constructive collaboration social workers characteristically notice an unfolding process Could this correspond to the analytic process of psychoanalysis Sylvia O'Neill seeks to explain theoretically and to illustrate clearly in practice just how a quasi autonomous therapeutic process becomes established The theory underpinning the book is Jean Luc Donnet s conceptualisation of the establishment of the analytic process in psychoanalysis through introjection of the analytic setting Donnet designates the psychoanalytic setting as the analytic site O'Neill proceeds to trace by means of detailed clinical discussion the analogous process by which a viable therapeutic process can become established through created found discovery and introjection of the relevant site or setting in psychoanalytic psychotherapy and in social work Amongst the most important elements are the practitioner s internalised theoretical principles The book demonstrates that unconscious introjection figures more importantly in effective therapeutic engagement than a conscious therapeutic alliance An important corollary for social work is that contrary to popular myth no prior psychological mindedness is required The differential theory of Process Facilitation in Psychoanalysis Psychotherapy and Social Work is equally relevant to psychodynamic counselling

Walker, 2011-12-01 Addressing the perennial question why should we be moral this book argues that we can only give a truly and morally satisfying answer to that question by radically reconfiguring our conception of the self and the way it relates to others

On Freud's "Formulations on the Two Principles of Mental Functioning" Lawrence J. technique A common thread that runs through all the chapters is the view that this brief paper by Freud which he humbly introduced by stating The deficiencies of this short paper which is preparatory rather than expository is a masterpiece that contains within it the seeds of much of his later writing The distinction he draws between the pleasure principle and the reality principle are profound and raise questions that still preoccupy analysis today

Psychoanalysis Clara Thompson, 2018-04-27 Clara Thompson was a leading representative of the cultural interpersonal school of psychoanalysis sometimes known as the neo Freudians which included Karen Horney Erich Fromm and Harry Stack Sullivan Classical analysts once viewed neo Freudians with the greatest suspicion and mistrust yet today they can be seen for the innovative group of thinkers they were Thompson's Psychoanalysis Evolution and Development first published in 1950 remains an enormously fair minded discussion of the history of psychoanalytic theory and therapy Psychoanalysis has always been a theory of personality as well as a technique of therapy Since Freud was born in 1856 and was an outstanding representative of the culture of old Vienna Thompson thought there was plenty of room for revising classical analytic thinking in light of later developments Such revisionism she believed need not lose the essential appreciation of the dynamic unconscious within classical analysis However Thompson felt Freud's biological outlook needed to be supplemented by a culturally more sophisticated orientation and she was among those who tried to put Freud's concepts of libido into historical perspective Instead of psychoanalysis having as its objective the release of tensions Thompson proposed that the goal of analysis ought to be the growth of the total personality Her revisionism also meant that the scope of psychoanalytic treatment could be broadened well beyond the neuroses Freud sought to explain Thompson well understood the impact of the social environment on character formation The psychology of women needed to be rethought differences between men and women could be partly explained by the social expectations that traditional Western culture had imposed on them Thompson believed the whole analyst patient relationship needed to be rethought the real personality of the therapist has to be acknowledged and the full human interplay between patient and analyst required examination In the current positivistic therapeutic climate based on technological advances in psychopharmacology the ethical and humanistic dimension may be lost Reflecting on the work of Clara Thompson and the neo Freudian school can remind us of earlier efforts to challenge therapeutic authority and their distinct relevance to our problems today Maelzel's Chess Player Robert Wilcocks, 1994 This is the first study of Freud's texts to incorporate the intellectual findings of Adolf Grünbaum the archival material published by Jeffrey Masson the recently published correspondence between Freud and Wilhelm Fliess and Lewin's profile of long term cocaine users Wilcocks challenges literary critics who have granted Freud's writings scientific status and claims that the works are no more than the rhetorical deceptions of a talented writer Through a careful examination of the Freud Fliess correspondence and of Freud's case histories and through a novel comparison of Freud's rhetorical devices with Poe's rhetoric of deception in the essay Maelzel's Chess Player Wilcocks reveals that Freud was a talented but disturbed master of deception including self deception

Psychoanalytic Sociology Duane Rousselle, 2024-09-05 Singularities are isolated social bonds. They lack a common language with one another and express themselves with certainty. Strangeness is therefore no longer constitutive to the social bond. It has become elevated to the very principle of social order. Our social world has become strange. Duane Rousselle explores this new theory of the social bond while accounting for recent developments in the cultural logic of capitalism. Each chapter offers a different and compelling perspective on broader phenomena and notions of estrangement within civilization through explorations of the evil empire, rogue states, the master-slave dialectic, and the new status of knowledge that is at stake in the era of singularities. This book offers enriched and novel dialogues across Freudian and Lacanian psychoanalysis, Marxist and anarchist theory, and theoretical sociology with illustrative contemporary examples. Psychoanalytic Sociology argues that our current social crises are exemplified by the way social groups project their own inhumanity onto others. Written in Russia during the outbreak of the Ukrainian crisis, it prophesied new uncompromising and aggressive wars, the confluence of foreign agent laws and cancel culture. The war among singularities runs very deep and exists on every scale, e.g., interpersonal, institutional, and cultural. This book navigates this strange new social world and invents a language capable of articulating it.

The Political Psychology of Populism François Bafoil, 2025-07-16 This book examines the underlying social pathology of Trump and Putin's political orientations. The assault on the United States Capitol on January 6, 2021, and Russia's war on Ukraine in February 2022 both reveal a disturbing drift towards new forms of populism. Drawing on the theoretical insights of Sigmund Freud and Norbert Elias regarding the impulses of the masses and the social trauma triggered by the quest for lost origins, Trump and Putin's populist policies are revealed in a new light, shaped by love and hate, feeding on the frustrations and resentments of the masses. The two figures and their followers are driven to violence. For these leaders, violence even fuels belief in a renewal of democracy, a democracy by the people and for the people at the service of the masses. It is based on the idea that a single pure truth is the source of appeasement and well-being that excludes outsiders. The book is a continuation of work previously published with Palgrave. The politics of destruction and is the result of several years of interdisciplinary research and a dialogue between psychoanalysis and the social sciences.
