Certifying Personal Protective Technologies Institute of Medicine, Board on Health Sciences Policy, Committee on the Certification of Personal Protective Technologies, 2011-04-16 When you purchase a product you expect it to work Construction workers on high rise buildings need to be confident that their safety harnesses will arrest a fall Firefighters need to know that their gloves and other protective equipment can withstand high temperatures Healthcare workers administering highly toxic chemotherapy agents need to know that their gloves will withstand penetration For personal protective technologies PPT where the major purpose of the product is to protect the wearer against a hazard a deficit in product effectiveness can mean injury illness or death Examining the extent to which products meet specific performance or design criteria is the focus of conformity assessment efforts For PPT conformity assessment the ultimate goal is preventing worker illness injury or death from hazardous working conditions Certifying Personal Protective Technologies focuses on conformity assessment for occupational PPT ensuring that PPT are effective in preventing or reducing hazardous exposures or situations that workers face in their jobs Because respirators already have an extensive testing and conformity assessment process in place this book specifically addresses conformity assessment processes for other types of PPT including eye and face protection gloves hearing protectors and protective clothing

The Personal Protective Technology Program at NIOSH National Research Council, Institute of Medicine, Board on Health Sciences Policy, Committee to Review the NIOSH Personal Protective Technology Program, 2008-10-25 Maintaining the health and safety of workers in the United States and globally is accomplished in part by reducing hazardous exposures through the use of personal protective equipment Personal protective technologies PPT include respirators worn by construction workers and miners protective clothing respirators and gloves worn by firefighters and mine rescue workers and respirators and protective clothing worn by healthcare workers An estimated 5 million workers are required to wear respirators in 13 million U S workplaces For some occupations such as firefighting the worker's protective equipment is the only form of protection against life threatening hazards for other workers the PPT is a supplement to ventilation and other environmental engineering or administrative hazard controls In the United States federal responsibility for civilian worker PPT is integral to the mission of the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health NIOSH This book examines the NIOSH Personal Protective Technology Program PPT Program and specifically focuses on the relevance and impact of this program in reducing hazardous exposures and improving worker health and safety

Informing the Future Institute of Medicine, 2011-10-12 This report illustrates the work of IOM committees in selected major areas in recent years followed by a description of IOM's convening and collaborative activities and fellowship programs The last section provides a comprehensive bibliography of IOM reports published since 2007

National Prevention Strategy: America's Plan for Better Health and Wellness Regina M. Benjamin, 2011 The Affordable Care Act landmark health legislation passed in 2010 called for the development of the National Prevention Strategy to realize the benefits of prevention for all Americans health This Strategy builds on the law s efforts to lower health care costs improve the quality of care and provide coverage options for the uninsured Contents Nat Leadership Partners in Prevention Healthy and Safe Community Environ Clinical and Community Preventive Services Elimination of Health Disparities Priorities Tobacco Free Living Preventing Drug Abuse and Excessive Alcohol Use Healthy Eating Active Living Injury and Violence Free Living Reproductive and Sexual Health Mental and Emotional Well being Illus A print on demand report U.S. Health in International Perspective National Research Council, Institute of Medicine, Board on Population Health and Public Health Practice, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on Population, Panel on Understanding Cross-National Health Differences Among High-Income Countries, 2013-04-12 The United States is among the wealthiest nations in the world but it is far from the healthiest Although life expectancy and survival rates in the United States have improved dramatically over the past century Americans live shorter lives and experience more injuries and illnesses than people in other high income countries The U S health disadvantage cannot be attributed solely to the adverse health status of racial or ethnic minorities or poor people even highly advantaged Americans are in worse health than their counterparts in other peer countries In light of the new and growing evidence about the U S health disadvantage the National Institutes of Health asked the National Research Council NRC and the Institute of Medicine IOM to convene a panel of experts to study the issue The Panel on Understanding Cross National Health Differences Among High Income Countries examined whether the U S health disadvantage exists across the life span considered potential explanations and assessed the larger implications of the findings U S Health in International Perspective presents detailed evidence on the issue explores the possible explanations for the shorter and less healthy lives of Americans than those of people in comparable countries and recommends actions by both government and nongovernment agencies and organizations to address the U S health disadvantage Measuring Respirator Use in the Workplace National Research Council, Committee on National Statistics, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Chemical Sciences and Technology, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Committee on the Review of the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health/Bureau of Labor Statistics Respirator Use Survey, 2007-06-21 Respirators are used in a variety of workplaces including emergency response mining operations construction manufacturing and hospitals In 2001 National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health NIOSH and Bureau of Labor Statistics commissioned a nationwide survey of respirator use in the workplace the results of which were published in the 2003 report Respirator Usage in Private Sector Firms The purpose of the survey was to evaluate respirator use and practices including training practices and the value of respirator manufacturer s instruction in order to help guide NIOSH respirator certification and research This National Research Council NRC report evaluates the survey in terms of several measures such as the adequacy and appropriateness of the survey instrument the survey methodology data analysis and the conclusions drawn from the data The

NRC report finds that the survey was an important first step in collecting respiratory protection data from a probability sample but that several improvements could be made in survey design and analysis Based on the review of the survey the NRC report concludes that data on respirator use would be best provided by employers and employees in the context of the work setting

Preparing for an Influenza Pandemic Institute of Medicine, Board on Health Sciences Policy, Committee on Personal Protective Equipment for Healthcare Workers During an Influenza Pandemic, 2007-12-28 During an influenza pandemic healthcare workers will be on the front lines delivering care to patients and preventing further spread of the disease As the nation prepares for pandemic influenza multiple avenues for protecting the health of the public are being carefully considered ranging from rapid development of appropriate vaccines to quarantine plans should the need arise for their implementation One vital aspect of pandemic influenza planning is the use of personal protective equipment PPE the respirators gowns gloves face shields eye protection and other equipment that will be used by healthcare workers and others in their day to day patient care responsibilities However efforts to appropriately protect healthcare workers from illness or from infecting their families and their patients are greatly hindered by the paucity of data on the transmission of influenza and the challenges associated with training and equipping healthcare workers with effective personal protective equipment Due to this lack of knowledge on influenza transmission it is not possible at the present time to definitively inform healthcare workers about what PPE is critical and what level of protection this equipment will provide in a pandemic The outbreaks of severe acute respiratory syndrome SARS in 2003 have underscored the importance of protecting healthcare workers from infectious agents The surge capacity that will be required to reduce mortality from a pandemic cannot be met if healthcare workers are themselves ill or are absent due to concerns about PPE efficacy The IOM committee determined that there is an urgent need to address the lack of preparedness regarding effective PPE for use in an influenza pandemic

Preparing for an Influenza Pandemic Personal Protective Equipment for Healthcare Workers identifies that require expeditious research and policy action

- 1 Influenza transmission research should become an immediate and short term research priority so that effective prevention and control strategies can be developed and refined The current paucity of knowledge significantly hinders prevention efforts
- 2 Employer and employee commitment to worker safety and appropriate use of PPE should be strengthened Healthcare facilities should establish and promote a culture of safety
- 3 An integrated effort is needed to understand the PPE requirements of the worker and to develop and utilize innovative materials and technologies to create the next generation of PPE capable of meeting these needs      On Your First Attempt, Become a Certified Safety Professional Sami Ullah Rajput, 2023-02-27 In gratitude to those who inspired him contributed research and provided data author wishes to express his gratitude Those who have supported contributed or participated in this project are officially acknowledged We would not have been able to complete this project without your support and involvement This book contains several useful resources and sources including the Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety the Occupational Safety and Health Administration the National Safety Council the National Fire Protection Association and many others Among them are the Health and Safety Executive the Board of Certified Safety Professionals the American Conference of Governmental Industrial Hygienists and the Board of Canadian Registered Safety Professionals The references section at the end of each chapter identifies all sources whenever possible Please let us know by email at safety expert2058 gmail com if the author has missed any references or acknowledgments so we can make the necessary changes Being a member of the safety community the author practices safety ethics to the fullest extent possible By raising people s knowledge the book aims to help safety professionals achieve highly recognized qualifications at their very first attempt
