Life Settlements and Longevity Structures Geoff Chaplin, Jim Aspinwall, Mark Venn, 2009-08-06 Recent turbulence in the financial markets has highlighted the need for diversified portfolios with lower correlations between the different investments Life settlements meet this need offering investors the prospect of high stable returns uncorrelated with the broader financial markets This book provides readers of all levels of experience with essential information on the process surrounding the acquisition and management of a portfolio of life settlements the assessment modelling and mitigation of the associated longevity interest rate and credit risks and practical approaches to financing and risk management structures It begins with the history of life insurance and looks at how the need for new financing sources has led to the growth of the life settlements market in the United States The authors provide a detailed exploration of the mathematical formulae surrounding the generation of mortality curves drawing a parallel between the tools deployed in the credit derivatives market and those available to model longevity risk Structured products and securitisation techniques are introduced and explained starting with simple vanilla products and models before illustrating some of the investment structures associated with life settlements Capital market mechanisms available to assist the investor in limiting the risks associated with life settlement portfolios are outlined as are opportunities to use life settlement portfolios to mitigate the risks of traditional capital markets The last section of the book covers derivative products either available now or under consideration that will reduce or potentially eliminate longevity risks within life settlement portfolios It then reviews hedging and risk management strategies and considers how to measure the effectiveness of risk mitigation

Challenges at the Bank for International Settlements Elmar B. Koch, 2007-10-20 For a number of reasons I am pleased that Elmar has asked me to write a foreword to this volume which assembles together a number of pieces that he wrote over the course of the decade between 1997 and 2007 The first reason is that it gives me the opportunity to thank him for the work he has carried out so conscientiously and ably in his role as an economist working for the BIS I would however be remiss if I did not also thank him for his earlier efforts contributing in particular to the statistical output of the MED and also the broader contribution he made as president of the Sports Club from 2004 to 2007 A second reason for being pleased is that the research contained in this volume was drawn from the period when I was chief of the MED and very much involved in discussions of the portant issues to which these papers are directed Time goes fast when one is busy and it is all too easy to forget what was yesterday s central ques on This volume constitutes a kind of reintroduction to old friends and that is always a pleasure The papers in this volume are grouped into four time periods during each of which Elmar had been given different responsibilities The in resting point is that taken together they imply an interest in essentially all the important topics of interest to the BIS
