Canadian Engineer ,1916 Uneducated Guesses Howard Wainer,2011-08-28 What statistical evidence shows us about our misguided educational policies Uneducated Guesses challenges everything our policymakers thought they knew about education and education reform from how to close the achievement gap in public schools to admission standards for top universities In this explosive book Howard Wainer uses statistical evidence to show why some of the most widely held beliefs in education today and the policies that have resulted are wrong He shows why colleges that make the SAT optional for applicants end up with underperforming students and inflated national rankings and why the push to substitute achievement tests for aptitude tests makes no sense Wainer challenges the thinking behind the enormous rise of advanced placement courses in high schools and demonstrates why assessing teachers based on how well their students perform on tests a central pillar of recent education reforms is woefully misguided He explains why college rankings are often lacking in hard evidence why essay questions on tests disadvantage women why the most grievous errors in education testing are not made by testing organizations and much more No one concerned about seeing our children achieve their full potential can afford to ignore this book With forceful storytelling wry insight and a wealth of real world examples Uneducated Guesses exposes today s educational policies to the light of empirical evidence and offers solutions for fairer and more viable future policies Canadian Army Journal ,1951 Building the Army's Backbone Andrew L. Brown,2021-12-15 In September 1939 Canada s tiny army began its remarkable expansion into a wartime force of almost half a million soldiers No army can function without a backbone of skilled non commissioned officers NCOs corporals sergeants and warrant officers and the army needed to create one out of raw civilian material Building the Army s Backbone tells the story of how senior leadership created a corps of NCOs that helped the burgeoning force train fight and win This innovative book uncovers the army s two track NCO production system locally organized training programs were run by units and formations while centralized training and talent distribution programs were overseen by the army Meanwhile to bring coherence to the two track approach the army circulated its best trained NCOs between operational forces the reinforcement pool and the training system The result was a corps of NCOs that collectively possessed the necessary skills in leadership tactics and instruction to help the army succeed in battle Report Canada.
