Cancer In Our Family Helping Children Cope With A Parents Illness:

Cancer in Our Family Sue P. Heiney, Joan F. Hermann, 2013 Explains to parents how to talk to children to help them cope when their mother or father is diagnosed with cancer in a book that also has an illustrated activities section Helping Couples Cope with Women's Cancers Karen Kayser, Jennifer L. Scott, 2008-03-16 At last here is a comprehensive guide for practitioners who work with breast cancer patients and their families It includes a series of psychosocial interventions to be used with couples during early stage breast cancer There is extensive evidence that emotional and social support positively influences women's abilities to cope to breast cancer The first person that a woman with breast cancer turns to for support is her husband or intimate partner However as partners of breast cancer patients are struggling with their emotional distress they often feel inadequate about their ability to help their wives and partners cope It is important for practitioners to understand this concept of twofold stress

Helping Children and Families Cope with Parental Illness Maureen Davey, Karni Kissil, Laura Lynch, 2016-03-31 When a parent or parental figure is diagnosed with an illness the family unit changes and clinical providers should consider using a family centered approach to care and not just focus on the patient coping with the illness Helping Children and Families Cope with Parental Illness describes theoretical frameworks common parental illnesses and their course family assessment tools and evidence supported family intervention programs that have the potential to significantly reduce negative psychosocial outcomes for families and promote resilience Most interventions described are culturally sensitive for use with diverse populations in diverse practice settings and were developed for two parent single parent and blended families Working With Families in Medical Settings Alison M. Heru, 2013-08-21 Working With Families in Medical Settings provides mental health professionals with the tools they need to figure out what patients and families want and how within the constraints imposed by 21st century healthcare setting to best give them the care they need Psychiatrists and other clinicians who work in medical settings know that working with a patient with a chronic illness usually entails work with that patient's family as well as with other medical professionals Some families need education others have specific difficulties or dysfunctions that require skilled assessment and intervention It is up to the clinician to find productive ways to work with common themes in family life expressed emotion levels of resilience life cycle issues and adaptation to illness among others Enter Working With Families in Medical Settings which shines a spotlight on the major issues professional caregivers face and shows them how to structure an effective intervention in all kinds of settings Psychiatrists particularly those in psychosomatic medicine and other clinicians who work with the medically ill will find Working With Families in Medical Settings to be an essential resource and guide to productive relationships with patients and their families Leading Psychoeducational Groups for Children and Adolescents Janice L.

The landscape of breast cancer has changed. New non-invasive diagnostic techniques, new knowledge about prevention, new genetics, new treatments, new alternative and complementary resources are beginning to turn breast cancer into a chronic and perhaps preventable disease. Dr. Susan Love, whose earlier work has won the trust of women all over this country and abroad, has entirely revised her indispensable guide to reflect the very latest information. Readers of Dr. Susan Love's Breast Book will learn of the recent breakthroughs in genetic research of Dr. Love's own work in developing a less invasive and highly accurate diagnostic technique of the latest studies into preventive measures such as tamoxifen and dietary strategies and of promising outcomes from new treatments for metastatic cancer. In the same warm, supportive and often delightfully candid tone that has brought confidence to millions of women, Dr. Love helps each reader plan her own path through diagnosis, treatment options and the changing world of HMOs and insurance. She also offers sound advice about combining alternative self-care with topnotch medical help.

Restoring Joy: Helping Children Through Cancer's Loss Pasquale De Marco, 2025-07-13 In this compassionate and comprehensive guide, parents, grandparents and other caregivers will find the support and guidance they need to help children cope with the death of a parent from cancer. With warmth and understanding, this book addresses the unique challenges that children face when a parent dies from cancer. It explores the different ways that children grieve, the common emotions they experience and the strategies that can help them cope with their loss. Parents will learn how to communicate with their children about cancer and death, create a supportive environment that promotes healing and help their children express their grief in healthy ways. They will also find guidance on how to help their children cope with difficult emotions such as anger and sadness. The book also emphasizes the importance of seeking professional help when needed and provides information on different types of therapy that can be helpful for grieving children as well as tips for finding the right therapist. Written by experts in the field of childhood bereavement, this book is an invaluable resource for anyone who is supporting a child through the loss of a parent to cancer. It is filled with practical advice, compassionate support and a deep understanding of the unique challenges that children face during this difficult time. With this book as their guide, parents, grandparents and other caregivers can help children navigate the journey of grief and find healing and hope. If you like this book, write a review.

Dance/Movement Therapy for Infants and Young Children with Medical Illness Suzi Tortora, Miri Keren, 2022-12-30 This book presents dance movement therapy as a window into the emotional and internal experience of a baby with a medical illness within the context of treating the whole family system and using the DC:0-5 as the basis for formulating the clinical situation. This book fills a gap in the literature, bringing a variety of fields together, including infant mental health, infant and child psychiatry, nonverbal movement analysis and the creative arts therapies. Grounded in a biopsychosocial perspective, dance movement therapy is introduced as the main treatment modality, using nonverbal expression as a means of communication and dance and music activities as intervention tools to support the child and family Vignettes from both during and years after the medical experience are presented throughout the book taking into consideration the subtle and more obvious effects of illness on the child's later emotional social and behavioral development. They illustrate the expertise of the authors as infant mental health professionals drawing upon their work in hospitals and private practices and highlight their unique perspectives and years of collaboration. This exciting new book is essential reading for clinicians and mental health professionals working with infants and their families.

A Journey Towards Healing: Managing Paediatric Leukaemia Shibaji Mandal, 2021-06-07 Each year more than 25 000 children in India are diagnosed with leukemia and a significant proportion of them do not even survive till the end of their treatment protocol. Though we still don't have all the answers we do know that many more lives can be saved if only one understands all the complexities of a lengthy treatment protocol that could span over three years. This book has a singular objective: lives should not be lost because of lack of knowledge and the primary care givers should have ready access to reliable and relevant information at all times. This book is an invaluable guide for the parents or other caregivers coping with the emotional physical and financial toll of this frightening disease.

Positive Psychology and Positive Education in Asia Ronnel B. King, Imelda Santos-Caleon, Allan B. I. Bernardo, 2023-10-24 This book explores students and teachers' well-being from positive psychology and education perspectives and showcases interventions that optimize well-being in the school context. The book also covers crucial positive psychology and education topics/themes including character strengths, gratitude, growth mindset, grit, resilience, positive emotions, and well-being among others. The chapters include reviews and empirical research based on diverse methodologies such as correlational, experimental, quasi-experimental, intervention, longitudinal, and qualitative approaches from six different Asian sociocultural contexts: Singapore, Hong Kong, Mainland China, Israel, Macau, and Philippines. All the chapters provide practical pointers for teachers and educators who aim to nurture well-being in schools.

Handbook of Psychology, Health Psychology Arthur M. Nezu, Christine M. Nezu, Pamela A. Geller, 2003-01-07 Includes established theories and cutting-edge developments. Presents the work of an international group of experts. Presents the nature, origin, implications, and future course of major unresolved issues in the area.

Cancer Nursing Jessica Corner, Christopher D. Bailey, 2009-03-16 The needs of cancer patients and their families are complex. Yet still more complex are the powerful social and cultural forces that shape the delivery of cancer care and the way in which it is experienced. Cancer Nursing: Care in Context addresses this by adopting a unique approach that situates cancer care in the context of society's attitudes to the disease and the broader everyday needs of both patients and their carers. By combining evidenced-based information, a critical view of care and treatment, and first-hand accounts of having cancer and caring for people with cancer, the book provides a new perspective on how best to deliver the care that patients truly require. This second edition includes new chapters on prevention, diagnosis, symptoms, self-help, and self-management, and living with cancer long-term. It also addresses significant changes in cancer care, including expansion of nursing roles, the establishment of cancer networks, and cancer collaborative projects Considers NICE guidance on Supportive and Palliative care Incorporates material on prevention and early detection Includes evidence tables based on relevant literature Cancer Nursing Care in Context is an invaluable resource for all those involved in the provision of cancer care and support to patients and their families     Oncology of Infancy and Childhood E-Book Stuart H. Orkin, David E. Fisher, A. Thomas Look, Samuel Lux, David Ginsburg, David G. Nathan, 2009-06-09 To address the growing complexities of childhood cancer Nathan and Oski's Hematology and Oncology of Infancy and Childhood has now been separated into two distinct volumes With this volume devoted strictly to pediatric oncology and another to pediatric hematology you will be on the cutting edge of these two fields This exciting new full color reference provides you with the most comprehensive authoritative up to date information for diagnosing and treating children with cancer It brings together the pathophysiology of disease with detailed clinical guidance on diagnosis and management for the full range of childhood cancers including aspects important in optimal supportive care Written by the leading names in pediatric oncology this resource is an essential tool for all who care for pediatric cancer patients Offers comprehensive coverage of all pediatric cancers including less common tumors making this the most complete guide to pediatric cancer Covers emerging research developments in cancer biology and therapeutics both globally and in specific pediatric tumors Includes a section on supportive care in pediatric oncology written by authors who represent the critical subdisciplines involved in this important aspect of pediatric oncology Uses many boxes graphs and tables to highlight complex clinical diagnostic and management guidelines Presents a full color design that includes clear illustrative examples of the relevant pathology and clinical issues for quick access to the answers you need Incorporates the codified WHO classification for all lymphomas and leukemias     Family Medicine J. L. Buckingham, E. P. Donatelle, W. E. Jacott, M. G. Rosen, Robert B. Taylor, 2013-06-29 JOHN S MILLIS In 1966 the Citizens Commission on Graduate Medical Education observed that the explosive growth in biomedical science and the consequent increase in medical skill and technology of the twentieth century had made it possible for physicians to respond to the episodes of illness of patients with an ever increasing effectiveness but that the increase in knowledge and technology had forced most physicians to concentrate upon a disease entity an organ or organ system or a particular mode of diagnosis or therapy As a result there had been a growing lack of continuing and comprehensive patient care The Commission expressed the opinion that Now in order to bring medicine's enhanced diagnostic and therapeutic powers fully to the benefit of society it is necessary to have many physicians who can put medicine together again The Commission proceeded to recommend the education and training of substantial numbers of Primary Physicians who would by assuming primary responsibility for the patient's welfare in sickness and in health provide continuing and comprehensive health care to the citizens of the United States In 1978 it is clear that the recommendation has been accepted by the public the medical profession and medical education There has been a vigorous response in the development of family medicine and in the fields of internal medicine pediatrics and obstetrics One is particularly impressed by the wide acceptance on the part of medical students of the concept of the primary physician Dr John S Loss and Trauma John Harvey, Eric Miller, 2021-12-16 Given the relationship between trauma loss and interpersonal bonds the editors have assembled a noteworthy list of contributions discussing trauma associated with close relationships divorce infertility widowhood Certainly trauma is closely associated with loss This edited volume offers the perspective of over twenty leading scholars in the study of trauma and loss Each chapter offers extensive coverage of contemporary issues terror management rational suicide spirituality stigmatization Relationship issues within these topics are also explored
