developments All of the essays share an understanding of architecture as not just the art of building but as the creation of social spaces in which we all live

Candide No. 7: Journal for Architectural Knowledge Axel Sowa, Susanne Schindler, Andres Lepik, 2014-02-28 Published biannually Candide Journal for Architectural Knowledge is an innovative magazine covering all aspects of current architectural research Each edition is divided into five themed sections Analysis Essay Project Encounter and Fiction Candide. Andres Lepik, Susanne Schindler, 2012 Published twice a year Candide is dedicated to exploring the culture of knowledge specific to architecture Like Voltaire's fictional character Candide who traveled the eighteenth century world on an eager if often thwarted search for knowledge the journal's editors have embarked on a twenty first century quest for architectural knowledge How is architectural knowledge generated collected presented and passed on Which forms of architectural knowledge can be observed How can knowledge generated in reference to a specific task be applied to other contexts Which techniques tools and methods are instrumental To do justice to the many ways of approaching research each edition of Candide is divided into five sections Analysis investigates building types looking for the knowledge invested in them Essay offers space for a personal exploration of one of the grand themes of architecture Project serves as a forum for practicing architects and their works Encounter highlights famous or unjustly forgotten architects and Fiction draws on architecture's imaginative dimension inviting more speculative writing

Candide. Journal for Architectural Knowledge Heft 3 Axel Sowa, Susanne Schindler, 2011-01-05 Candide Journal for Architectural Knowledge is a peer reviewed journal published twice a year in English and German by the Department of Architecture Theory at RWTH Aachen University Intent on fostering multiple ways to write about the discipline Candide is dedicated to the culture of knowledge specific to architecture Issue Nr 3 features following articles Essay Andrew J Witt A Machine Epistemology in Architecture Project Ela Kael Hiltonculuk and the Post War Architecture of Istanbul Analysis Oliver Schetter Thoughts on the Architecture of Mozambique Encounters Amy Kulper Questioning the Spatial Imaginary of Georges Perec Fiction Jimenez Lai On Types of Seductive Robustness Candide 4 Axel Sowa, 2011 Candide is a peer reviewed journal dedicated to exploring the culture of knowledge specific to architecture It is released twice a year in English and German Each issue of Candide is made up of five distinct sections This framework responds to the diversity of architectural knowledge being produced while challenging authors from all disciplines to test a variety of genres in order to write about and represent architecture Essay provides a forum for discussion of architectural knowledge including both fundamental research into and speculative arguments on its nature Analysis allows for in depth examination of built form how can the knowledge embodied in buildings be retrospectively extracted and creatively re used Project is directed at architects who see design as a theoretical tool how can a specific design proposal become a model of thought Encounters gives access to the personal knowledge of renowned unjustly forgotten or entirely unknown protagonists of architecture Fiction reflects the editors conviction that sometimes the imaginary may reveal more about architectural knowledge than science Expanding

Disciplinary in Architectural Practice Tom Holbrook, 2016-11-03 Expanding Disciplinary in Architectural Practice presents an argument for the role of an architect as a generalist with a particular ability to bring spatial intelligence to bear on the significant issues of planning settlement and identity The book draws on strategy and planning landscape infrastructure urbanism historical conservation and interpretation architecture and the creative reuse of existing structures to encourage you to incorporate a holistic approach to your designs Tracing a series of projects developed by his practice 5th Studio author Tom Holbrook argues the critical importance of involving spatial practitioners in large scale strategies and designs to combine interdisciplinary thinking and concrete experience of buildings The book incorporates interviews with prominent figures in the field of architecture eleven UK case studies and over 200 beautiful illustrations including the author's own award winning designs With twenty years of evolving practical experience together with associated research teaching and writing Holbrook shows you how a participatory infrastructure creates a crucial bridge between strategic thinking and the reality of the built environment This book is a must read for professionals seeking to incorporate broader design strategy into their practice

Architecture and Anthropology Adam Jasper, 2020-05-21 Both architecture and anthropology emerged as autonomous theoretical disciplines in the 18th century enlightenment Throughout the 19th century the fields shared a common icon the primitive hut and a common concern with both routine needs and ceremonial behaviours Both could lay strong claims to a special knowledge of the everyday And yet in the 20th century notwithstanding genre classics such as Bernard Rudofsky's Architecture without Architects or Paul Oliver's Shelter and various attempts to make architecture anthropocentric such as Corbusier's Modulor disciplinary exchanges between architecture and anthropology were often disappointingly slight This book attempts to locate the various points of departure that might be taken in a contemporary discussion between architecture and anthropology The results are radical post colonial theory is here counterpoised to 19th century theories of primitivism archaeology is set against dentistry fieldwork is juxtaposed against indigenous critique and climate science is applied to questions of shelter This publication will be of interest to both architects and anthropologists The chapters in this book were originally published within two special issues of Architectural Theory Review

Prototyping Cultures Alberto Jimenez, 2018-12-07 Prototypes have acquired much prominence and visibility in recent times Software development is perhaps the case in point where the release of non stable versions of programmes beta versions has become commonplace as is famously the case in free and open source software Prototyping has also become an important currency of explanation and description in art technology contexts where the emphasis is on the productive and processual aspects of experimentation Medialabs hacklabs community and social art collectives dorkbots open collaborative websites or design thinking workshops are spaces and sites where prototyping and experimentation have taken hold as both modes of knowledge production and cultural and sociological styles of exchange and interaction Experimentation has also been at the centre of recent reassessments of the organisation of laboratory expert and more generally epistemic cultures in the sciences An interesting development is the shift in emphasis from the experimental as a knowledge site to the experimental as a social process This book brings some of the leading scholars in the fields of anthropology social studies of science and technology and critical design thinking in a theoretical and ethnographic dialogue to explore the affordances of the prototype as a figure of our contemporary This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Cultural Economy

Second World Postmodernisms Vladimir Kulic,2019-02-21 If postmodernism is indeed the cultural logic of late capitalism why did typical postmodernist themes like ornament colour history and identity find their application in the architecture of the socialist Second World How do we explain the retreat into paper architecture and theoretical discussion in societies still nominally devoted to socialist modernization Exploring the intersection of two areas of growing scholarly interest postmodernism and the architecture of the former socialist world this edited collection stakes out new ground in charting architecture s various transformations in the 1970s and 80s Fourteen essays together explore the question of whether or not architectural postmodernism had a specific Second World variant The collection demonstrates both the unique nature of Second World architectural phenomena and also assesses connections with western postmodernism The case studies cover the vast geographical scope from Eastern Europe to China and Cuba They address a wealth of aesthetic discursive and practical phenomena interpreting them in the broader socio political context of the last decades of the Cold War The result provides a greatly expanded map of recent architectural history which redefines postmodernist architecture in a more theoretically comprehensive and global way
