Popular Science ,2005-09 Popular Science gives our readers the information and tools to improve their technology and their world The core belief that Popular Science and our readers share The future is going to be better and science and technology are the driving forces that will help make it better The Unlearned Raymond F. Jones,2016-01-22 The Chief Officer of Scientific Services Information and Coordination was a somewhat misleading and obscure title and Dr Sherman Hockley who held it was not the least of those whom the title misled and sometimes obscured He told himself he was not a mere library administrator although he was proud of the information files built up under his direction They contained the essence of accumulated knowledge found to date on Earth and the extraterrestrial planets so far contacted He didn t feel justified in claiming to be strictly a research supervisor either in spite of duties as top level administrator for all divisions of the National Standardization and Research Laboratories and their subsidiaries in government industry and education During his term of supervision the National Laboratories had made a tremendous growth in contrast to a previous decline Most of all however he disclaimed being a figurehead to which all the loose strings of a vast and rambling organization could be tied But sometimes it was quite difficult to know whether or not that was his primary assignment after all His unrelenting efforts to keep out of the category seemed to be encountering more and more determination to push him in that direction

Gerontechnologies for Home Support Alexander Moreno,Sumi Helal,Henk Herman Nap,Gloria M. Gutman,2024-10-07 In recent years various digital and non digital gerontechnology applications in home support have been developed From medication administration aids e g reminders and alarms to environmental monitoring e g air quality sensors and cameras to fall detection and health and activity monitoring e g smartwatch these promising solutions are in the works or already in the marketplace Additionally the COVID 19 pandemic has accelerated the development and deployment of technological solutions supporting remote care and communication e g video calls and home service delivery e g meals and groceries both of which have been developed to facilitate aging in place This is significant especially as avoiding the institutionalization of older adults has become a major goal of governments and caring families around the world These technologies are a potential solution to help older adults and family caregivers age at home maintain autonomy and independence and avoid social isolation These technologies can reduce the workload of professional caregivers It is crucial to update our knowledge on evidence based technologies for home support tested simultaneously in older adults and their family caregivers Healthcare professionals and families are often disadvantaged by a lack of information demonstrating their utility and cost effectiveness This article collection focuses on providing evidence based information about emerging and existing gerontechnologies which is essential to make an informed decision in recommending their use or deciding to purchase them For older adults it will provide proofs upon which to make an informed decision to invest in a specific technology when needed For family caregivers it will improve their judgment when trying to choose purchase and adopt a technology aiming to solve a problem at home and have peace of mind when these technologies are used to support their loved ones For clinicians it will provide a pool of evidence based technological tools that could be recommended to families facing the loss of autonomy and independence of older adults For researchers and scholars it will provide a base of knowledge for future applied research in gerontechnology Finally improving the evidence in gerontechnology will help to provide cues for policymakers and governments to create legislation aiming to protect the public and the end users of these technologies

Journey of Diversity & Inclusion In South Africa Nene Molefi, 2017-09-01 The ideas and experiences shared by author Nene Molefi speak directly to the troubling prejudices and inequities that persist in our world. Diversity and inclusion are more pressing than ever. Injustices and deep social divisions persist personally and systemically. Racism, sexism, homophobia, and other forms of fear and hatred are not isolated. They remain embedded and they demand courageous, deliberate work. In this book, Nene uses her own story to cast a bright light on the transformation journey. Nene's book quite vulnerably takes the reader on Nene's personal journey. In addition to the deeply personal content, each chapter ends with practical guidelines on how to lead inclusively. Nene's book offers hope and substance in our vision of a diverse and inclusive and just society.

A Justice Edwin Cameron This is a deeply authentic personal narrative offering powerful and practical insights from one of South Africa's foremost advisors on diversity and transformation. It should be required reading for any leader who is serious about effectively transforming their organisation.

A Dr Jonathan Broomberg CEO Discovery Health

A Journey of Diversity Inclusion in South Africa will enable all of us to meaningfully interpret and articulate our own biases, narratives, and the contributions we can make to heal our fractured nation.

A Prof Nicola Kleyn Dean University of Pretoria's Gordon Institute of Business Science GIBS It is no longer good enough to say diversity is an asset. Leaders are expected to lead the way of inclusion, live the values, and thereby define the DNA of their organisation.

A Bongani Nqwababa Joint President CEO Sasol Limited Mind opening for those yet to be convinced of the need for transformation and helpful to those who are already committed to transformation but are not sure how to play a part. This book will empower willing transformers.

A Thulani Sibeko Executive for Marketing Communications and Corporate Affairs Nedbank

Nene Molefi offers a personal and professional model that will benefit anyone who wants to make a difference in this world.
