Economic Evaluation In U S Health Care Principles And Applications:

Economic Evaluation in U.S. Health Care Laura T. Pizzi, Jennifer Lofland, 2006 Economic Evaluation in U S Health Care provides an overview of the methodologies that can be applied to both drug and non drug interventions The text addresses the perspectives of different stakeholders involved in the application of economic evaluation in the U S including manufacturers health plans and the government in order to give students a thorough understanding of how methods are applied to decision making and health policy The authors provide case studies for students to apply methods to real life situations Essentials of Pharmacoeconomics Karen Rascati, 2013-11-14 This new text is designed for a student or practitioner who is unfamiliar with pharmacoeconomics It provides a straightforward explanation of the essential pharmacoeconomics topics outlined by The Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education ACPE It defines terminology used in research and covers the application of economic based evaluation methods for pharmaceutical products and services Users will find examples of how pharmacoeconomic evaluations relate to decisions that affect patient care and health related quality of life Provided by publisher Encyclopedia of Health Services Research Ross M. Mullner, 2009-05-15 Today as never before healthcare has the ability to enhance the quality and duration of life At the same time healthcare has become so costly that it can easily bankrupt governments and impoverish individuals and families Health services research is a highly multidisciplinary field including such areas as health administration health economics medical sociology medicine political science public health and public policy The Encyclopedia of Health Services Research is the first single reference source to capture the diversity and complexity of the field With more than 400 entries these two volumes investigate the relationship between the factors of cost quality and access to healthcare and their impact upon medical outcomes such as death disability disease discomfort and dissatisfaction with care Key Features Examines the growing healthcare crisis facing the United States Encompasses the structure process and outcomes of healthcare Aims to improve the equity efficiency effectiveness and safety of healthcare by influencing and developing public policies Describes healthcare systems and issues from around the globe Key Themes Access to Care Accreditation Associations Foundations and Research Organizations Biographies of Current and Past Leaders Cost of Care Economics Finance and Payment Mechanisms Disease Disability Health and Health Behavior Government and International Healthcare Organizations Health Insurance Health Professionals and Healthcare Organizations Health Services Research Laws Regulations and Ethics Measurement Data Sources and Coding and Research Methods Outcomes of Care Policy Issues Healthcare Reform and International Comparisons Public Health Quality and Safety of Care Special and Vulnerable Groups The Encyclopedia is designed to be an introduction to the various topics of health services research for an audience including undergraduate students graduate students and general readers seeking non technical descriptions of the field and its practices It is also useful for healthcare practitioners wishing to stay abreast of the changes and updates in the field An Integrated Framework for Assessing the Value of Community-Based

Prevention Institute of Medicine, Board on Population Health and Public Health Practice, Committee on Valuing Community-Based, Non-Clinical Prevention Policies and Wellness Strategies, 2012-11-29 During the past century the major causes of morbidity and mortality in the United States have shifted from those related to communicable diseases to those due to chronic diseases Just as the major causes of morbidity and mortality have changed so too has the understanding of health and what makes people healthy or ill Research has documented the importance of the social determinants of health for example socioeconomic status and education that affect health directly as well as through their impact on other health determinants such as risk factors Targeting interventions toward the conditions associated with today's challenges to living a healthy life requires an increased emphasis on the factors that affect the current cause of morbidity and mortality factors such as the social determinants of health Many community based prevention interventions target such conditions Community based prevention interventions offer three distinct strengths First because the intervention is implemented population wide it is inclusive and not dependent on access to a health care system Second by directing strategies at an entire population an intervention can reach individuals at all levels of risk And finally some lifestyle and behavioral risk factors are shaped by conditions not under an individual's control For example encouraging an individual to eat healthy food when none is accessible undermines the potential for successful behavioral change Community based prevention interventions can be designed to affect environmental and social conditions that are out of the reach of clinical services Four foundations the California Endowment the de Beaumont Foundation the W K Kellogg Foundation and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation asked the Institute of Medicine to convene an expert committee to develop a framework for assessing the value of community based non clinical prevention policies and wellness strategies especially those targeting the prevention of long term chronic diseases The charge to the committee was to define community based non clinical prevention policy and wellness strategies define the value for community based non clinical prevention policies and wellness strategies and analyze current frameworks used to assess the value of community based non clinical prevention policies and wellness strategies including the methodologies and measures used and the short and long term impacts of such prevention policy and wellness strategies on health care spending and public health An Integrated Framework for Assessing the Value of Community Based Prevention summarizes the committee's findings

Economic Evaluation of Cancer Drugs Iftekhar Khan,Ralph Crott,Zahid Bashir,2019-06-14 Cancer is a major healthcare burden across the world and impacts not only the people diagnosed with various cancers but also their families carers and healthcare systems With advances in the diagnosis and treatment more people are diagnosed early and receive treatments for a disease where few treatments options were previously available As a result the survival of patients with cancer has steadily improved and in most cases patients who are not cured may receive multiple lines of treatment often with financial consequences for the patients insurers and healthcare systems Although many books exist that address economic evaluation Economic Evaluation of Cancer Drugs using Clinical Trial and Real World Data is the first unified text that specifically addresses the economic evaluation of cancer drugs The authors discuss how to perform cost effectiveness analyses while emphasising the strategic importance of designing cost effectiveness into cancer trials and building robust economic evaluation models that have a higher chance of reimbursement if truly cost effective They cover the use of real world data using cancer registries and discuss how such data can support or complement clinical trials with limited follow up Lessons learned from failed reimbursement attempts factors predictive of successful reimbursement and the different payer requirements across major countries including US Australia Canada UK Germany France and Italy are also discussed The book includes many detailed practical examples case studies and thought provoking exercises for use in classroom and seminar discussions Iftekhar Khan is a medical statistician and health economist and a lead statistician at Oxford University's Center for Statistics in Medicine Professor Khan is also a Senior Research Fellow in Health Economics at University of Warwick and is a Senior Statistical Assessor within the Licensing Division of the UK Medicine and Health Regulation Agency Ralph Crott is a former professor in Pharmacoeconomics at the University of Montreal in Quebec Canada and former head of the EORTC Health Economics Unit and former senior health economist at the Belgian HTA organization Zahid Bashir has over twelve years experience working in the pharmaceutical industry in medical affairs and oncology drug development
