Kudish, 2020-01-23 Through close readings of a selection of European novels and novellas written between 1340 and 1827 this study of analytical fiction examines how unconsummated love stories probe the frailty of self knowledge Tracing elements of what the French call the roman d'analyse in the works of Boccaccio Marguerite de Navarre Cervantes Marie de Lafayette Samuel Richardson Jane Austen and Stendhal Adele Kudish discusses how the metaphor of unconsummated love is deployed to represent a fundamental lack of insight into the self Rather than depicting the mind as transparent analytical fiction deals in the opacity of the mind Narrators and characters are faced with deception misprision doubt and confusion leading to self deception jealousy and crises of self The European Roman d Analyse reads such epistemological failures as symptoms of a more fundamental preoccupation with the human psyche as un chartable and bizarre In this way the authors of romans d analyse enact a larger philosophical project an anatomy of the psyche wherein we are unable or unwilling to know ourselves

Writing through Boyhood in the Long Eighteenth Century Chantel Lavoie,2023-11-10 Writing through Boyhood in the Long Eighteenth Century explores how boyhood was constructed in different creative spaces that reflected the lived experience of young boys through the long eighteenth century not simply in children s literature but in novels poetry medical advice criminal broadsides and automaton exhibitions The chapters encompass such rituals as breeching learning to read and write and going to school They also consider the lives of boys such as chimney sweeps and convicted criminals whose bodily labor was considered their only value and who often did not live beyond boyhood Defined by a variety of tasks expectations and objectifications boys real imagined and sometimes both were subject to the control of their elders and were used as tools in the cause of civil society commerce and empire This book argues that boys in the long eighteenth century constituted a particular kind of currency both valuable and expendable valuable because of gender expendable because of youth

The Tiny and the Fragmented S. Rebecca Martin,Stephanie M. Langin-Hooper,2018-10-16 Miniature and fragmentary objects are both eye catching and yet easily dismissed Tiny scale entices users with visions of Lilliputian worlds The ambiguity of fragments intrigues us offering tactile reminders of reality s transience Yet the standard scholarly approach to such objects has been to see them as secondary incomplete things whose principal purpose was to refer to a complete and often life size whole The Tiny and the Fragmented offers a series of fresh perspectives on the familiar concepts of the tiny and the fragmented Written by a prestigious group of internationally acclaimed scholars the volume presents a remarkable diversity of case studies that range from Neolithic Europe to pre Colombian Honduras to the classical Mediterranean and ancient Near East Each scholar takes a different approach to issues of miniaturization and fragmentation but is united in considering the little and broken things of the past as objects in their own right Whether a life size or whole thing is made in a scaled down form deliberately broken as part of its use or only considered successful in the eyes of ancient users if it shows some signs of wear it challenges our expectations of representation and wholeness of what it means for a work of art to be finished and affective Overall The Tiny and the Fragmented demands a reconsideration of the social and contextual nature of miniaturization fragmentation and incompleteness making the case that it was because of rather than in spite of their small or partial state that these objects were valued parts of the personal and social worlds they inhabited

Victorian Classical Burlesques Laura Monros-Gaspar,2015-10-22 The Victorian classical burlesque was a popular theatrical genre of the mid 19th century It parodied ancient tragedies with music melodrama pastiche merciless satire and gender reversal Immensely popular in its day the genre was also intensely metatheatrical and carries significance for reception studies the role and perception of women in Victorian society and the culture of artistic censorship This anthology contains the annotated text of four major classical burlesques Antigone Travestie 1845 by Edward L Blanchard Medea or the Best of Mothers with a Brute of a Husband 1856 by Robert Brough Alcestis the Original Strong Minded Woman 1850 and Electra in a New Electric Light 1859 by Francis Talfourd The cultural and textual annotations highlight the changes made to the scripts from the manuscripts sent to the Lord Chamberlain's office and by explaining the topical allusions and satire elucidate elements of the burlesques popular cultural milieu An in depth critical introduction discusses the historical contexts of the plays premieres and unveils the cultural processes behind the reception of the myths and original tragedies As the burlesques combined spectacular effects with allusions to contemporary affairs ambivalent and provocative attitudes to women the plays represent an essential tool for reading the social history of the era
